Four Unions And Railroads Settle Dispute

Three-Year Pact Increases Wages

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—The railroads and four big unions agreed today to a three-year pact settling a long wage dispute. The agreement raises wages of 300,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen, retroactive to Oct. 1, and calls for future adjustments as living costs rise or fall.

This provision for flexible wages—reached under the eyes of U. S. officials—could set a pattern for government wage policy under the mobilization program.

The White House announced the peace plan after a night-long 26-hour conference. A railroad official estimated the agreement will cost $131,000,000 a year.

May Affect Rates

The possible effect on passenger and freight rates was not indicated. These are controlled by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Rate hikes often have followed wage raises in the past.

No immediate move was made to release the railroads from legal control by the Army. They were taken over Aug. 26 to halt a strike of trainmen and conductors. Sixteen other rail unions still have wage demands pending. However, John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, said he would check whether they even considered striking, apparently with a view to releasing government control.

Today's agreement, worked out under pressure of the national emergency decreed last Saturday by President Truman, carries these terms for the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Locomotive Engineers, Railroad Trainmen, and Order of Railway Conductors:

Subject To Ratification

For 120,000 yardmen—a retroactive increase of 23 cents an hour with another two cents on Jan. 1 and adjustments geared to living costs. These are provided for each three months beginning next April 1 at the rate of one cent an hour for each rise or fall of one point in the government's consumer price index.

For 180,000 road service workers—a retroactive increase of five cents an hour, another five cents on Jan. 1 and the same cost of living arrangement.

The settlement is subject to ratification of bargaining committees which have been standing by here for weeks. For the trainmen and conductors, who were in the spotlight because of their strike last August, it winds up a dispute running 22 months.

Senate Confirms Mrs. Rosenberg

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Mrs. Anna Rosenberg today won Senate confirmation as assistant secretary of defense after a committee reported that charges of Communist affiliation against her were unfounded.

Mrs. Rosenberg, a manpower expert, already is at work in the $15,000 job for which she was chosen by Secretary of Defense Marshall.

The Senate Armed Services Committee cleared Mrs. Rosenberg of charges that she had associated with Communists 15 years ago. She said it was a case of mistaken identity.

The Senate acted by voice vote after Sen. Byrd (D-Va) told it the committee checked diligently and produced no evidence that Mrs. Rosenberg ever was sympathetic to Communism. FBI files on her showed "not one single criticism" of her loyalty, the Senator said.

Sen. Cain (R-Wash) said the committee was convinced that Mrs. Rosenberg's loyalty was not in doubt.

CAB Tightens Control Of Civilian Flying

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — The government ordered tighter control of civilian flying in many areas today to strengthen the nation's protection against sneak air attack.

Under an executive order signed yesterday, the Civil Aeronautics Board will make it mandatory for pilots to file flight plans under certain conditions when flying within into or across large so-called "sensitive" areas.

The order announced by CAA Administrator Donald W. Nyrop will be effective when it is published in the federal register, probably next week.

Yule Absentees In House Delay Action On Bills

Quorum Achieved Three Hours Late

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—A home-for-Christmas rush by congressmen made the House nearly three hours late in starting work today and forced postponement of action on two major bills.

The House had scheduled today's session for 11 a. m., an hour earlier than usual, to clear away some of the business slated to be disposed of by the "lame duck" session before the 82nd Congress takes over Jan. 3.

But not until 1:51 p. m. was Speaker Rayburn able to announce that a majority of the current membership of 431 had answered to the roll call. Some rushed in breathlessly with Christmas parcels under their arms.

Leaders Chargrined

Leaders obviously were chargrined by the development, coming less than a week after President Truman had declared a national emergency.

A quorum of 218 members was achieved only after the administration leaders huddled, then spread the word that action would be delayed until Jan. 1. on (1) legislation to grant the President emergency "war" powers, and (2) a bill that would legalize the union shop for railroad employes. Both had been slated for House action today.

There were indications that other factors besides Christmas may have played a part in the delay.

It was not until leaders announced the decision to put off the union shop bill that the last five or six members needed to fill out the quorum showed up and answered their names.

Dixiecrats Among Stragglers

The stragglers included some southern Democrats who have expressed strong opposition to the railroad labor bill. Any delay, of course, works against the bill with possible time for action so short.

There was no doubt, however, that the biggest factor in the absentee problem was the rush of members to get home for the holidays. Some of them, the "lame ducks" defeated in the November elections, won't be coming back. Thus another no-quorum crisis might arise tomorrow, or later.

Edward G. Robinson Denies He's Communist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (INS)—ovie Actor Edward G. Robinson said today he told the House Un-American Activities Committeeu nder oath that he is not and never has been a Communist or fellow traveller.

The actor, famous for his movie gangster roles, said he appeared voluntarily before a secret hearing "to settle once and for all any questions that may have been raised about my activities."

Ban On Sales Of New Cars Lifted By GM

Company Yields To Rollback Edict

DETROIT, Dec. 21 (AP) — Yielding to a government price rollback edict, General Motors today lifted its ban on sale of new model Chevrolet, Pontiac and Cadillac automobiles. It agreed to sell them at 1950 model prices.

The world's biggest car producer slapped on the embargo last Monday in protest against an order 48 hours earlier by the Economic Stabilization Agency freezing auto prices at the Dec. 1 level.

GM was one of four companies which had announced price boosts on 1951 models since the first of this month, raising tags "something less than five per cent." But it was the only one to use a sales ban to fight the first price freeze in any industry.

GM's Appeal Rejected

Ford, Chrysler and Nash also had raised prices since Dec. 1. Ford and Nash, like the three GM divisions, had put its new models on sale. Chrysler, like GM's Buick and Oldsmobile divisions, had not yet put the 1951's in dealer hands.

Since last Saturday's car price freeze, GM appealed to the ESA to modify its order. The ESA rejected the appeal.

GM still insisted today that its 1950 models were "substantially improved" over this year's models.

But the company said that "after careful examination of the order," it decided that "it is necessary to consider them (the 1951's) counterpart models of our 1950 lines within the meaning of the order of the ESA."

Rebates Ordered

GM even went beyond Ford and Nash in going along with the order by Economic Stabilization Chief Alan Valentine. It asked its thousands of dealers to rebate the difference between the old and proposed new list prices to all customers who took delivery on new models at the higher prices.

Neither Ford nor Nash has announced any such rebate. However, Nash announced its price boosts only hours before the rollback order last Saturday.

Auto industry executives have been arguing against the price freeze in two days of conferences with government officials in Washington. In this they have been joined by CIO United Auto Workers leaders.

12 Persons Hurt In Pennsy Wreck

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 21 (AP) — Nine cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad express train were derailed just outside Newark station today, injuring 12 persons.

Hundreds of feet of track were ripped up as the 13-car Philadelphia-Newark train, ground to a halt at 2:42 p. m. (EST).

Police said the undercarriage of the fifth or sixth car apparently gave way, spreading the rails and causing the derailment.

Only the fact that the train had slowed to five miles an hour for its Newark stop prevented a much more serious accident, witnesses said.

Veterans Join Search For "Phantom Sniper"

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21 (AP)—About 50 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars patroled streets and back alleys tonight, helping police track down Philadephia's "phantom sniper."

In announcing plans for their search for the killer of 28-year-old Mrs. Claire Cohen, a VFW spokesman said the former servicemen would be accompanied by off duty police and firemen.

Panama Canal 'Vulnerable'; New Waterway Proposed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—A House committee warned today the Panama Canal could be knocked out by an enemy bombing attack and urged speedy action looking toward construction of another waterway linking the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

The group suggested prompt study of the possibilities of building either (1) a companion waterway along the general route of the existing canal or (2) a new canal in some other spot, possibly Nicaragua.

The recommendation came from a House Merchant Marine Subcommittee in a report to the full Marine Committee. The three-man subcommittee visited the Canal Zone, Nicaragua and Mexico to confer with officials of those countries and look over possible routes.

The group ruled out Mexico as a site for a new canal because of the "intense national spirit of the Mexican people." However, the report said Nicaragua would cooperate in building one in that country.

In calling for fast action, the committee said the construction of a new waterway would be "a long, tortuous process." It estimated a minimum of three years would be needed to build new locks at the present site and 10 years to build a sea level route.

German Participation In Pact Army Nearer, Adenauer Says

BONN, Germany, Dec. 21 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced tonight "there has been a big step forward" in plans to include West German forces in the West's projected 1,000,000-man defense force against Communist aggression.

The West German Chancellor was smiling as he emerged from a five-hour conference at which the high commissioners of the United States, Britain and France offered their first big concession for German participation.

A communique said the occupation powers had agreed to place their relations with West Germany "to an increasing degree on a contractual basis." This implied a sweeping away of occupational controls in return for German participation in the defense of Europe.

"Security Treaty" Nearer

Adenauer has been dunning the Western Allies for a "security treaty" to replace such controls, to lift his regime to the status of almost an ally instead of a defeated country under conquerors' rule.

The outcome of today's session was regarded here as meaning that Adenauer at last is on the road to getting the "security treaty."

But it will be a long, hard pull yet, toward both creation of German units. With a German share in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's international command, and increased independence for West Germany.

This was indicated in the procedure agreed upon for the negotiations on German participation, sought by decisions of the 12-nation North Atlantic alliance in Brussels this week creating an international army under Eisenhower.

Told Of Conference Results

"The Allied high commissioners informed the federal Chancellor for the first time of the results of the Brussels conference," a communique said.

The Chancellor was assured that the federal government would not, in the matter of a German contribution to the defense of Europe, be confronted with faits accomplis (accomplished facts). It was agreed that conversations would shortly take place between German and Allied experts, in which the scale and manner of a German contribution would be examined. The result of this examination would then be the subject of discussion between the Allied High Commission and the federal government.

"Esquire" Costs Uncle Sam $13.39 Due To Red Tape

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Because of red tape, it cost the government $13.39 to buy a 50-cent copy of Esquire magazine, a House subcommittee reported today.

Rapping the Interior Department for the "wasteful and extravagant" way in which it buys things, the subcommittee took August, 1950, as an example.

One day during that month, the National Park Service paid a half dollar for a copy of Esquire to be delivered to the office of the director.

But to issue that half-dollar purchase order, the committee found that "administrative costs" — employes' time, paper, files, the intricate processing — knicked the government $13.39.

Composer Gets Freedom Today

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 21 (AP)—Life-Termer Frank M. Grandstaff, who composed a long historic cantata behind penitentiary walls, will leave Tennessee state prison tomorrow.

Gov. Gordon Browning signed the convict-composer's pardon late today, and the State of Michigan reinstated Grandstaff's parole.

In signing the pardon, Browning recalled the week of freedom he granted Grandstaff in October, 1949, to attend the Big Spring, Tex., centennial celebration.

"He demeaned himself with propriety and made a good impression on the people of Texas," the Governor said. "Many connected with the celebration have importuned me to give him another chance.

"I have decided to do so after becoming convinced that Frank Grandstaff has repented and is determined to walk a path of rectitude."

The pardon was granted by Browning on an understanding with Grandstaff that he leave the state. The Governor announced receipt of a telegram from Gus Harrison, Michigan state supervisor of paroles, saying Grandstaff's parole has been reinstated, thereby canceling the "hold order" Michigan had for Grandstaff at the prison here.

The order was on a 1935 warrant charging parole violation on a sentence for breaking and entering.

First Woman Elected To U. S. Senate Dies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas, first woman ever elected to the United States Senate, died today after a lengthy illness. She was 72.

Mrs. Caraway, a Democrat, served in the Senate from November, 1931, until January, 1945. She was appointed to succeed her husband, Thaddeus Caraway, who died while a senator. Later, she won one special and two regular elections.

She suffered a stroke last January which left her partially paralyzed.

Arms Output To Soar In '51, Wilson Says

Auto Workers' Pay To Be "Stabilized"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson predicted today that 50 to 100 per cent more war material will roll off U. S. production lines in 1951 than "in the first big year after Pearl Harbor."

He did not specify what year he meant. Nor did he give any comparative figures.

Testifying before a Senate-House committee, Wilson declared the United States is in "far better condition" from a production standpoint now than it was on the eve of Warld War II.

"I am very optimistic about industry's ability to supply war material," he told the lawmakers.

Agree On Auto Wage Controls

Appearing with Wilson, Economic Stabilizer Alan Valentine said his agency intends to "stabilize" wages in the auto industry to go along with the recent mandatory rollback in new car prices to Dec. 1 levels.

Valentine also reported that the Economic Stabilization Administration is now "working on meat prices."

Even as Valentine testified, the Wage Stabilization Board announced it has reached unanimous agreement on the question of wage controls covering 1,000,000 auto workers. The nature of the agreement was not announced.

Some officials said they understood the wage board had decided that no formal wage ceiling will be needed now for auto workers because their wages are already "frozen" under long-term contracts.

"Escalator Clauses"

The board was reported to have taken the view that it would neither have to approve nor disapprove the so-called "escalator clauses" in industry contracts. These provide the wages go up automatically when the cost of living rises.

The next cost-of-living pay adjustment does not occur until after March 1 when the government price "freeze" on automobile prices expires, unless extended.

ESA Director Valentine's comment that his agency is "working on meat" made no mention of price ceilings.

"I can't give you the specific action to be taken, but we are working as rapidly as possible," he told the Senate-House committee.

Defense Funds Voted By Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Senate swiftly approved today a $19,973,062,938 emergency defense appropriation.

The bill had picked up $2,163,758,514 after passing the House. A Senate-House conference quickly was arranged for 10 a. m. EST tomorrow to adjust differences and get the huge arms measure to President Truman. Quick agreement was expected.

The measure, which will finance part of the nation's preparedness program, cleared the Senate by voice vote less than two hours after it convened.

Just before acting on it, the Senate passed without debate a bill authorizing the armed forces to carry out $1,600,000,000 of construction, some of it so secret that its nature was not even disclosed to the legislators.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) explained that 90 per cent of the authorization was covered in the big defense appropriation. The authorization, already cleared by the House, goes to the President.

Again acting swiftly, the Senate approved by voice vote a bill requested by Mr. Truman to revive his wartime powers to alter defense contracts to expedite production. The House has not acted.

Truman Declares U. S.-W. European Solidarity 'Vital'

Apparently Rejects Hoover's Proposals

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — President Truman proclaimed U. S. solidarity with Western Europe today and appeared to turn down Herbert Hoover's plan for American defenses based primarily on the oceans and key islands.

The President said the unity of Western Europe and the North Atlantic community is "vital" to their mutual security.

In a statement, he also expressed confidence that Western European nations "mean business" about setting up common defenses.

Former President Hoover, in his New York speech last night, pictured Western Europe as "confused with fears and disunities." He urged that the United States refrain from "landing another man or dollar" there until Europe arms itself and erects a "sure dam against the Red flood."

More GIs To Go To Europe

He urged that the Western Hemisphere be defended from frontiers on Britain to the east, and Japan, Formosa and the Philippines to the west.

But the U. S. high command proceeded with plans to send more troops to Western Europe. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff who returned today from North Atlantic defense treaty meetings in London, informed reporters he expected some additional U. S. troops will be dispatched before next July 1. In response to queries, he said he could not indicate how many.

President Truman issued his statement after a conference with Secretary of State Acheson, who returned this morning from a Brussels meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council which reached final agreement to create an international defense army in Europe.

Unity Vital To Security

Officials said the Truman statement constituted an initial administration reply to the Hoover speech. In it Mr. Truman said:

"Let there be no mistake about it — the unity of the nations of Western Europe and of the North Atlantic area is vital to their security and ours."

"I was greatly encouraged," he said, "to hear from the Secretary (Acheson) of the serious way in which the representatives of the North Atlantic countries went about the job of bringing to life the military and economic agencies of the North Atlantic community."

Draft Dodger Is Sentenced To Five-Year Prison Term

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — The son of World War One's most notorious draft dodger was sentenced to five years in prison today for refusing to don a military uniform — but American justice gave him a chance to change his mind.

Alfred Bergdoll, 23, German-born son of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, gave no indication in federal court whether he would accept the offer. He has 60 days to think it over.

He pleaded guilty Monday to violating the Selective Service Act by refusing to report for a physical examination or induction into the armed forces.

In imposing the five-year maximum penalty on the slim bespectacled youth, Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan said:

"I do not know whether the country now wants your help in its present difficulty.

"I have the power to change or modify your sentence within 60 days. If during that time you desire to and are prepared to do your duty and fulfill your obligation without reservation of any kind, you may communicate with me in writing and I will reconsider your case; otherwise, the sentence remains."

Use Of Vessels Indicates Reds Are Closing In

Buildup Presages New Enemy Attack

TOKYO, Friday, Dec. 22 (AP)—Short-range U. S. rocket ships yesterday blazed into action off Hungnam — indicating the Communist hordes are closing in on that last tiny Allied beachhead in Northeast Korea.

The deadluy rocket ships joined the defense of a steadily shrinking perimeter into which the 60,000-man U. S. 10th Corps withdrew.

Since Dec. 14, a military blackout has covered the 10th Corps withdrawal. At that time, Moscow radio quoted the North Korean Red command as saying the corps was going aboard ships for evacuation.

A delayed dispatch disclosed todoy that U. S. Army engineers Wednesday blew up the last bridge link to the beachhead—a 1,500-foot long steel and concrete structure three miles west of Hungnam. It had linked the port with the now abandoned Yonpo airfield.

Strong Attack Repulsed

U. S. carrier-based pilots reported Thursday they saw Communist troops moving toward the beachhead through Chigyong, six miles west of Yonpo.

Quiet prevailed in the northeast after American forces smashed back the strongest Chinese and Korean Red attack thus far on the shrunken Hungnam beachhead.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters meanwhile reported American casualties in Korea between Nov. 24 and Dec. 12 were 11,964. Other United Nations casualties, not counting South Korean republicans, raised the figure for that period to 12,975.

With previous Defense Department figures, this indicated total American casualties for the war have exceeded 42,000. Thirty per cent of these losses in dead, wounded and missing thus were suffered in 19 days after the Chinese Communists threw their hundreds of thousands of troops into an offensive which MacArthur has described as an entirely new and undeclared war.

The MacArthur casualty figures did not include victims of frostbite.

The headquarters report said Chinese Red forces had suffered losses 10 times greater than U. N. casualties.

Reds Promise Attack

The U. S. Eighth Army, reporting the ominous massing of Red troops in the west, said larger hostile units have appeared in areas where previous action has been limited to sporadic patrol clashes.

Fresh enemy battalions were deployed south of Kumhwa, which is 20 miles north of the 38th parallel. Further evidence of aggressive enemy probing, the Army communique said, was encountered south of Yonchon and eight or nine miles northeast of Sinyu. Yonchon is six miles north of the parallel.

The Red radio at Pyongyang announced on its first broadcast since resuming operations that United Nations forces had been driven south of the 38th parallel all along the line. It also warned that the Red "People's Army" would soon launch an attack that would rid all Korea of the "imperialist invaders."

Lie Still Thinks Peace Will Win

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 21 (AP) — Trygve Lie said today the present world situation is difficult, but he still believes peace can be preserved.

The U. N. Secretary-General talked with reporters here on the eve of a trip to Norway to spend his first Christmas with his family in five years. He will wind up his European trip with January conferences in Geneva, Paris and London on where in Europe the 1951 General Assembly will be held.

"I hope the Korea cease-fire committee will succeed in its efforts," Lie said. "The whole effort, now as always, has been to protect the Republic of Korea from aggression.

"Whatever happens, we must keep on trying to achieve results.

"If the committee fails, it will not be their fault."

Lie declined to discuss what further steps U. N. forces will take in Korea. He said everything is now in the hands of the cease-fire committee.

Cotton Sent To China

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—Sen. Williams (R-Del) said today more than 50,000,000 pounds of cotton, including some from Commodity Credit Corporation inventory, has been shipped to Red China and Manchuria since the outbreak of the Korean fighting.

12 Persons Hurt In Pennsy Wreck

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 21 (AP) — Nine cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad express train were derailed just outside Newark station today, injuring 12 persons.

Hundreds of feet of track were ripped up as the 13-car Philadelphia-Newark train, ground to a halt at 2:42 p. m. (EST).

Police said the undercarriage of the fifth or sixth car apparently gave way, spreading the rails and causing the derailment.

Only the fact that the train had slowed to five miles an hour for its Newark stop prevented a much more serious accident, witnesses said.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21 (AP)—About 50 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars patroled streets and back alleys tonight, helping police track down Philadephia's "phantom sniper."

In announcing plans for their search for the killer of 28-year-old Mrs. Claire Cohen, a VFW spokesman said the former servicemen would be accompanied by off duty police and firemen.

Panama Canal 'Vulnerable'; New Waterway Proposed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—A House committee warned today the Panama Canal could be knocked out by an enemy bombing attack and urged speedy action looking toward construction of another waterway linking the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

The group suggested prompt study of the possibilities of building either (1) a companion waterway along the general route of the existing canal or (2) a new canal in some other spot, possibly Nicaragua.

The recommendation came from a House Merchant Marine Subcommittee in a report to the full Marine Committee. The three-man subcommittee visited the Canal Zone, Nicaragua and Mexico to confer with officials of those countries and look over possible routes.

The group ruled out Mexico as a site for a new canal because of the "intense national spirit of the Mexican people." However, the report said Nicaragua would cooperate in building one in that country.

In calling for fast action, the committee said the construction of a new waterway would be "a long, tortuous process." It estimated a minimum of three years would be needed to build new locks at the present site and 10 years to build a sea level route.

German Participation In Pact Army Nearer, Adenauer Says

BONN, Germany, Dec. 21 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced tonight "there has been a big step forward" in plans to include West German forces in the West's projected 1,000,000-man defense force against Communist aggression.

The West German Chancellor was smiling as he emerged from a five-hour conference at which the high commissioners of the United States, Britain and France offered their first big concession for German participation.

A communique said the occupation powers had agreed to place their relations with West Germany "to an increasing degree on a contractual basis." This implied a sweeping away of occupational controls in return for German participation in the defense of Europe.

"Security Treaty" Nearer

Adenauer has been dunning the Western Allies for a "security treaty" to replace such controls, to lift his regime to the status of almost an ally instead of a defeated country under conquerors' rule.

The outcome of today's session was regarded here as meaning that Adenauer at last is on the road to getting the "security treaty."

But it will be a long, hard pull yet, toward both creation of German units. With a German share in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's international command, and increased independence for West Germany.

This was indicated in the procedure agreed upon for the negotiations on German participation, sought by decisions of the 12-nation North Atlantic alliance in Brussels this week creating an international army under Eisenhower.

Told Of Conference Results

"The Allied high commissioners informed the federal Chancellor for the first time of the results of the Brussels conference," a communique said.

The Chancellor was assured that the federal government would not, in the matter of a German contribution to the defense of Europe, be confronted with faits accomplis (accomplished facts). It was agreed that conversations would shortly take place between German and Allied experts, in which the scale and manner of a German contribution would be examined. The result of this examination would then be the subject of discussion between the Allied High Commission and the federal government.

"Esquire" Costs Uncle Sam $13.39 Due To Red Tape

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Because of red tape, it cost the government $13.39 to buy a 50-cent copy of Esquire magazine, a House subcommittee reported today.

Rapping the Interior Department for the "wasteful and extravagant" way in which it buys things, the subcommittee took August, 1950, as an example.

One day during that month, the National Park Service paid a half dollar for a copy of Esquire to be delivered to the office of the director.

But to issue that half-dollar purchase order, the committee found that "administrative costs" — employes' time, paper, files, the intricate processing — knicked the government $13.39.

Composer Gets Freedom Today

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 21 (AP)—Life-Termer Frank M. Grandstaff, who composed a long historic cantata behind penitentiary walls, will leave Tennessee state prison tomorrow.

Gov. Gordon Browning signed the convict-composer's pardon late today, and the State of Michigan reinstated Grandstaff's parole.

In signing the pardon, Browning recalled the week of freedom he granted Grandstaff in October, 1949, to attend the Big Spring, Tex., centennial celebration.

"He demeaned himself with propriety and made a good impression on the people of Texas," the Governor said. "Many connected with the celebration have importuned me to give him another chance.

"I have decided to do so after becoming convinced that Frank Grandstaff has repented and is determined to walk a path of rectitude."

The pardon was granted by Browning on an understanding with Grandstaff that he leave the state. The Governor announced receipt of a telegram from Gus Harrison, Michigan state supervisor of paroles, saying Grandstaff's parole has been reinstated, thereby canceling the "hold order" Michigan had for Grandstaff at the prison here.

The order was on a 1935 warrant charging parole violation on a sentence for breaking and entering.

First Woman Elected To U. S. Senate Dies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas, first woman ever elected to the United States Senate, died today after a lengthy illness. She was 72.

Mrs. Caraway, a Democrat, served in the Senate from November, 1931, until January, 1945. She was appointed to succeed her husband, Thaddeus Caraway, who died while a senator. Later, she won one special and two regular elections.

She suffered a stroke last January which left her partially paralyzed.

Auto Workers' Pay To Be "Stabilized"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson predicted today that 50 to 100 per cent more war material will roll off U. S. production lines in 1951 than "in the first big year after Pearl Harbor."

He did not specify what year he meant. Nor did he give any comparative figures.

Testifying before a Senate-House committee, Wilson declared the United States is in "far better condition" from a production standpoint now than it was on the eve of Warld War II.

"I am very optimistic about industry's ability to supply war material," he told the lawmakers.

Agree On Auto Wage Controls

Appearing with Wilson, Economic Stabilizer Alan Valentine said his agency intends to "stabilize" wages in the auto industry to go along with the recent mandatory rollback in new car prices to Dec. 1 levels.

Valentine also reported that the Economic Stabilization Administration is now "working on meat prices."

Even as Valentine testified, the Wage Stabilization Board announced it has reached unanimous agreement on the question of wage controls covering 1,000,000 auto workers. The nature of the agreement was not announced.

Some officials said they understood the wage board had decided that no formal wage ceiling will be needed now for auto workers because their wages are already "frozen" under long-term contracts.

"Escalator Clauses"

The board was reported to have taken the view that it would neither have to approve nor disapprove the so-called "escalator clauses" in industry contracts. These provide the wages go up automatically when the cost of living rises.

The next cost-of-living pay adjustment does not occur until after March 1 when the government price "freeze" on automobile prices expires, unless extended.

ESA Director Valentine's comment that his agency is "working on meat" made no mention of price ceilings.

"I can't give you the specific action to be taken, but we are working as rapidly as possible," he told the Senate-House committee.

Defense Funds Voted By Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Senate swiftly approved today a $19,973,062,938 emergency defense appropriation.

The bill had picked up $2,163,758,514 after passing the House. A Senate-House conference quickly was arranged for 10 a. m. EST tomorrow to adjust differences and get the huge arms measure to President Truman. Quick agreement was expected.

The measure, which will finance part of the nation's preparedness program, cleared the Senate by voice vote less than two hours after it convened.

Just before acting on it, the Senate passed without debate a bill authorizing the armed forces to carry out $1,600,000,000 of construction, some of it so secret that its nature was not even disclosed to the legislators.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) explained that 90 per cent of the authorization was covered in the big defense appropriation. The authorization, already cleared by the House, goes to the President.

Again acting swiftly, the Senate approved by voice vote a bill requested by Mr. Truman to revive his wartime powers to alter defense contracts to expedite production. The House has not acted.

Truman Declares U. S.-W. European Solidarity 'Vital'

Apparently Rejects Hoover's Proposals

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — President Truman proclaimed U. S. solidarity with Western Europe today and appeared to turn down Herbert Hoover's plan for American defenses based primarily on the oceans and key islands.

The President said the unity of Western Europe and the North Atlantic community is "vital" to their mutual security.

In a statement, he also expressed confidence that Western European nations "mean business" about setting up common defenses.

Former President Hoover, in his New York speech last night, pictured Western Europe as "confused with fears and disunities." He urged that the United States refrain from "landing another man or dollar" there until Europe arms itself and erects a "sure dam against the Red flood."

More GIs To Go To Europe

He urged that the Western Hemisphere be defended from frontiers on Britain to the east, and Japan, Formosa and the Philippines to the west.

But the U. S. high command proceeded with plans to send more troops to Western Europe. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff who returned today from North Atlantic defense treaty meetings in London, informed reporters he expected some additional U. S. troops will be dispatched before next July 1. In response to queries, he said he could not indicate how many.

President Truman issued his statement after a conference with Secretary of State Acheson, who returned this morning from a Brussels meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council which reached final agreement to create an international defense army in Europe.

Unity Vital To Security

Officials said the Truman statement constituted an initial administration reply to the Hoover speech. In it Mr. Truman said:

"Let there be no mistake about it — the unity of the nations of Western Europe and of the North Atlantic area is vital to their security and ours."

"I was greatly encouraged," he said, "to hear from the Secretary (Acheson) of the serious way in which the representatives of the North Atlantic countries went about the job of bringing to life the military and economic agencies of the North Atlantic community."

Draft Dodger Is Sentenced To Five-Year Prison Term

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — The son of World War One's most notorious draft dodger was sentenced to five years in prison today for refusing to don a military uniform — but American justice gave him a chance to change his mind.

Alfred Bergdoll, 23, German-born son of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, gave no indication in federal court whether he would accept the offer. He has 60 days to think it over.

He pleaded guilty Monday to violating the Selective Service Act by refusing to report for a physical examination or induction into the armed forces.

In imposing the five-year maximum penalty on the slim bespectacled youth, Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan said:

"I do not know whether the country now wants your help in its present difficulty.

"I have the power to change or modify your sentence within 60 days. If during that time you desire to and are prepared to do your duty and fulfill your obligation without reservation of any kind, you may communicate with me in writing and I will reconsider your case; otherwise, the sentence remains."

Use Of Vessels Indicates Reds Are Closing In

Buildup Presages New Enemy Attack

TOKYO, Friday, Dec. 22 (AP)—Short-range U. S. rocket ships yesterday blazed into action off Hungnam — indicating the Communist hordes are closing in on that last tiny Allied beachhead in Northeast Korea.

The deadluy rocket ships joined the defense of a steadily shrinking perimeter into which the 60,000-man U. S. 10th Corps withdrew.

Since Dec. 14, a military blackout has covered the 10th Corps withdrawal. At that time, Moscow radio quoted the North Korean Red command as saying the corps was going aboard ships for evacuation.

A delayed dispatch disclosed today that U. S. Army engineers Wednesday blew up the last bridge link to the beachhead—a 1,500-foot long steel and concrete structure three miles west of Hungnam. It had linked the port with the now abandoned Yonpo airfield.

Strong Attack Repulsed

U. S. carrier-based pilots reported Thursday they saw Communist troops moving toward the beachhead through Chigyong, six miles west of Yonpo.

Quiet prevailed in the northeast after American forces smashed back the strongest Chinese and Korean Red attack thus far on the shrunken Hungnam beachhead.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters meanwhile reported American casualties in Korea between Nov. 24 and Dec. 12 were 11,964. Other United Nations casualties, not counting South Korean republicans, raised the figure for that period to 12,975.

With previous Defense Department figures, this indicated total American casualties for the war have exceeded 42,000. Thirty per cent of these losses in dead, wounded and missing thus were suffered in 19 days after the Chinese Communists threw their hundreds of thousands of troops into an offensive which MacArthur has described as an entirely new and undeclared war.

The MacArthur casualty figures did not include victims of frostbite.

The headquarters report said Chinese Red forces had suffered losses 10 times greater than U. N. casualties.

Reds Promise Attack

The U. S. Eighth Army, reporting the ominous massing of Red troops in the west, said larger hostile units have appeared in areas where previous action has been limited to sporadic patrol clashes.

Fresh enemy battalions were deployed south of Kumhwa, which is 20 miles north of the 38th parallel. Further evidence of aggressive enemy probing, the Army communique said, was encountered south of Yonchon and eight or nine miles northeast of Sinyu. Yonchon is six miles north of the parallel.

The Red radio at Pyongyang announced on its first broadcast since resuming operations that United Nations forces had been driven south of the 38th parallel all along the line. It also warned that the Red "People's Army" would soon launch an attack that would rid all Korea of the "imperialist invaders."

Lie Still Thinks Peace Will Win

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 21 (AP) — Trygve Lie said today the present world situation is difficult, but he still believes peace can be preserved.

The U. N. Secretary-General talked with reporters here on the eve of a trip to Norway to spend his first Christmas with his family in five years. He will wind up his European trip with January conferences in Geneva, Paris and London on where in Europe the 1951 General Assembly will be held.

"I hope the Korea cease-fire committee will succeed in its efforts," Lie said. "The whole effort, now as always, has been to protect the Republic of Korea from aggression.

"Whatever happens, we must keep on trying to achieve results.

"If the committee fails, it will not be their fault."

Lie declined to discuss what further steps U. N. forces will take in Korea. He said everything is now in the hands of the cease-fire committee.

Cotton Sent To China

Three-Year Pact Increases Wages

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—The railroads and four big unions agreed today to a three-year pact settling a long wage dispute. The agreement raises wages of 300,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen, retroactive to Oct. 1, and calls for future adjustments as living costs rise or fall.

This provision for flexible wages—reached under the eyes of U. S. officials—could set a pattern for government wage policy under the mobilization program.

The White House announced the peace plan after a night-long 26-hour conference. A railroad official estimated the agreement will cost $131,000,000 a year.

May Affect Rates

The possible effect on passenger and freight rates was not indicated. These are controlled by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Rate hikes often have followed wage raises in the past.

No immediate move was made to release the railroads from legal control by the Army. They were taken over Aug. 26 to halt a strike of trainmen and conductors. Sixteen other rail unions still have wage demands pending. However, John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, said he would check whether they even considered striking, apparently with a view to releasing government control.

Today's agreement, worked out under pressure of the national emergency decreed last Saturday by President Truman, carries these terms for the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Locomotive Engineers, Railroad Trainmen, and Order of Railway Conductors:

Subject To Ratification

For 120,000 yardmen—a retroactive increase of 23 cents an hour with another two cents on Jan. 1 and adjustments geared to living costs. These are provided for each three months beginning next April 1 at the rate of one cent an hour for each rise or fall of one point in the government's consumer price index.

For 180,000 road service workers—a retroactive increase of five cents an hour, another five cents on Jan. 1 and the same cost of living arrangement.

The settlement is subject to ratification of bargaining committees which have been standing by here for weeks. For the trainmen and conductors, who were in the spotlight because of their strike last August, it winds up a dispute running 22 months.

Senate Confirms Mrs. Rosenberg

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Mrs. Anna Rosenberg today won Senate confirmation as assistant secretary of defense after a committee reported that charges of Communist affiliation against her were unfounded.

Mrs. Rosenberg, a manpower expert, already is at work in the $15,000 job for which she was chosen by Secretary of Defense Marshall.

The Senate Armed Services Committee cleared Mrs. Rosenberg of charges that she had associated with Communists 15 years ago. She said it was a case of mistaken identity.

The Senate acted by voice vote after Sen. Byrd (D-Va) told it the committee checked diligently and produced no evidence that Mrs. Rosenberg ever was sympathetic to Communism. FBI files on her showed "not one single criticism" of her loyalty, the Senator said.

Sen. Cain (R-Wash) said the committee was convinced that Mrs. Rosenberg's loyalty was not in doubt.

CAB Tightens Control Of Civilian Flying

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — The government ordered tighter control of civilian flying in many areas today to strengthen the nation's protection against sneak air attack.

Under an executive order signed yesterday, the Civil Aeronautics Board will make it mandatory for pilots to file flight plans under certain conditions when flying within into or across large so-called "sensitive" areas.

The order announced by CAA Administrator Donald W. Nyrop will be effective when it is published in the federal register, probably next week.

Yule Absentees In House Delay Action On Bills

Quorum Achieved Three Hours Late

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—A home-for-Christmas rush by congressmen made the House nearly three hours late in starting work today and forced postponement of action on two major bills.

The House had scheduled today's session for 11 a. m., an hour earlier than usual, to clear away some of the business slated to be disposed of by the "lame duck" session before the 82nd Congress takes over Jan. 3.

But not until 1:51 p. m. was Speaker Rayburn able to announce that a majority of the current membership of 431 had answered to the roll call. Some rushed in breathlessly with Christmas parcels under their arms.

Leaders Chargrined

Leaders obviously were chargrined by the development, coming less than a week after President Truman had declared a national emergency.

A quorum of 218 members was achieved only after the administration leaders huddled, then spread the word that action would be delayed until Jan. 1. on (1) legislation to grant the President emergency "war" powers, and (2) a bill that would legalize the union shop for railroad employes. Both had been slated for House action today.

There were indications that other factors besides Christmas may have played a part in the delay.

It was not until leaders announced the decision to put off the union shop bill that the last five or six members needed to fill out the quorum showed up and answered their names.

Dixiecrats Among Stragglers

The stragglers included some southern Democrats who have expressed strong opposition to the railroad labor bill. Any delay, of course, works against the bill with possible time for action so short.

There was no doubt, however, that the biggest factor in the absentee problem was the rush of members to get home for the holidays. Some of them, the "lame ducks" defeated in the November elections, won't be coming back. Thus another no-quorum crisis might arise tomorrow, or later.

Edward G. Robinson Denies He's Communist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (INS)—ovie Actor Edward G. Robinson said today he told the House Un-American Activities Committeeu nder oath that he is not and never has been a Communist or fellow traveller.

The actor, famous for his movie gangster roles, said he appeared voluntarily before a secret hearing "to settle once and for all any questions that may have been raised about my activities."

Ban On Sales Of New Cars Lifted By GM

Company Yields To Rollback Edict

DETROIT, Dec. 21 (AP) — Yielding to a government price rollback edict, General Motors today lifted its ban on sale of new model Chevrolet, Pontiac and Cadillac automobiles. It agreed to sell them at 1950 model prices.

The world's biggest car producer slapped on the embargo last Monday in protest against an order 48 hours earlier by the Economic Stabilization Agency freezing auto prices at the Dec. 1 level.

GM was one of four companies which had announced price boosts on 1951 models since the first of this month, raising tags "something less than five per cent." But it was the only one to use a sales ban to fight the first price freeze in any industry.

GM's Appeal Rejected

Ford, Chrysler and Nash also had raised prices since Dec. 1. Ford and Nash, like the three GM divisions, had put its new models on sale. Chrysler, like GM's Buick and Oldsmobile divisions, had not yet put the 1951's in dealer hands.

Since last Saturday's car price freeze, GM appealed to the ESA to modify its order. The ESA rejected the appeal.

GM still insisted today that its 1950 models were "substantially improved" over this year's models.

But the company said that "after careful examination of the order," it decided that "it is necessary to consider them (the 1951's) counterpart models of our 1950 lines within the meaning of the order of the ESA."

Rebates Ordered

GM even went beyond Ford and Nash in going along with the order by Economic Stabilization Chief Alan Valentine. It asked its thousands of dealers to rebate the difference between the old and proposed new list prices to all customers who took delivery on new models at the higher prices.

Neither Ford nor Nash has announced any such rebate. However, Nash announced its price boosts only hours before the rollback order last Saturday.

Auto industry executives have been arguing against the price freeze in two days of conferences with government officials in Washington. In this they have been joined by CIO United Auto Workers leaders.

The next cost-of-living pay adjustment does not occur until after March 1 when the government price "freeze" on automobile prices expires, unless extended.

ESA Director Valentine's comment that his agency is "working on meat" made no mention of price ceilings.

"I can't give you the specific action to be taken, but we are working as rapidly as possible," he told the Senate-House committee.

Defense Funds Voted By Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Senate swiftly approved today a $19,973,062,938 emergency defense appropriation.

The bill had picked up $2,163,758,514 after passing the House. A Senate-House conference quickly was arranged for 10 a. m. EST tomorrow to adjust differences and get the huge arms measure to President Truman. Quick agreement was expected.

The measure, which will finance part of the nation's preparedness program, cleared the Senate by voice vote less than two hours after it convened.

Just before acting on it, the Senate passed without debate a bill authorizing the armed forces to carry out $1,600,000,000 of construction, some of it so secret that its nature was not even disclosed to the legislators.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) explained that 90 per cent of the authorization was covered in the big defense appropriation. The authorization, already cleared by the House, goes to the President.

Again acting swiftly, the Senate approved by voice vote a bill requested by Mr. Truman to revive his wartime powers to alter defense contracts to expedite production. The House has not acted.

Truman Declares U. S.-W. European Solidarity 'Vital'

Apparently Rejects Hoover's Proposals

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — President Truman proclaimed U. S. solidarity with Western Europe today and appeared to turn down Herbert Hoover's plan for American defenses based primarily on the oceans and key islands.

The President said the unity of Western Europe and the North Atlantic community is "vital" to their mutual security.

In a statement, he also expressed confidence that Western European nations "mean business" about setting up common defenses.

Former President Hoover, in his New York speech last night, pictured Western Europe as "confused with fears and disunities." He urged that the United States refrain from "landing another man or dollar" there until Europe arms itself and erects a "sure dam against the Red flood."

More GIs To Go To Europe

He urged that the Western Hemisphere be defended from frontiers on Britain to the east, and Japan, Formosa and the Philippines to the west.

But the U. S. high command proceeded with plans to send more troops to Western Europe. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff who returned today from North Atlantic defense treaty meetings in London, informed reporters he expected some additional U. S. troops will be dispatched before next July 1. In response to queries, he said he could not indicate how many.

President Truman issued his statement after a conference with Secretary of State Acheson, who returned this morning from a Brussels meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council which reached final agreement to create an international defense army in Europe.

Unity Vital To Security

Officials said the Truman statement constituted an initial administration reply to the Hoover speech. In it Mr. Truman said:

"Let there be no mistake about it — the unity of the nations of Western Europe and of the North Atlantic area is vital to their security and ours."

"I was greatly encouraged," he said, "to hear from the Secretary (Acheson) of the serious way in which the representatives of the North Atlantic countries went about the job of bringing to life the military and economic agencies of the North Atlantic community."

Arrival Timed Right

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 21 (AP)—In time for the holiday season is this shipping news item:

The freighter American Packer will arrive at Norfolk from England tomorrow with a cargo of 277 tons of bicarbonate of soda.

Draft Dodger Is Sentenced To Five-Year Prison Term

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — The son of World War One's most notorious draft dodger was sentenced to five years in prison today for refusing to don a military uniform — but American justice gave him a chance to change his mind.

Alfred Bergdoll, 23, German-born son of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, gave no indication in federal court whether he would accept the offer. He has 60 days to think it over.

He pleaded guilty Monday to violating the Selective Service Act by refusing to report for a physical examination or induction into the armed forces.

In imposing the five-year maximum penalty on the slim bespectacled youth, Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan said:

"I do not know whether the country now wants your help in its present difficulty.

"I have the power to change or modify your sentence within 60 days. If during that time you desire to and are prepared to do your duty and fulfill your obligation without reservation of any kind, you may communicate with me in writing and I will reconsider your case; otherwise, the sentence remains."

Use Of Vessels Indicates Reds Are Closing In

Buildup Presages New Enemy Attack

TOKYO, Friday, Dec. 22 (AP)—Short-range U. S. rocket ships yesterday blazed into action off Hungnam — indicating the Communist hordes are closing in on that last tiny Allied beachhead in Northeast Korea.

The deadluy rocket ships joined the defense of a steadily shrinking perimeter into which the 60,000-man U. S. 10th Corps withdrew.

Since Dec. 14, a military blackout has covered the 10th Corps withdrawal. At that time, Moscow radio quoted the North Korean Red command as saying the corps was going aboard ships for evacuation.

A delayed dispatch disclosed todoy that U. S. Army engineers Wednesday blew up the last bridge link to the beachhead—a 1,500-foot long steel and concrete structure three miles west of Hungnam. It had linked the port with the now abandoned Yonpo airfield.

Strong Attack Repulsed

U. S. carrier-based pilots reported Thursday they saw Communist troops moving toward the beachhead through Chigyong, six miles west of Yonpo.

Quiet prevailed in the northeast after American forces smashed back the strongest Chinese and Korean Red attack thus far on the shrunken Hungnam beachhead.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters meanwhile reported American casualties in Korea between Nov. 24 and Dec. 12 were 11,964. Other United Nations casualties, not counting South Korean republicans, raised the figure for that period to 12,975.

With previous Defense Department figures, this indicated total American casualties for the war have exceeded 42,000. Thirty per cent of these losses in dead, wounded and missing thus were suffered in 19 days after the Chinese Communists threw their hundreds of thousands of troops into an offensive which MacArthur has described as an entirely new and undeclared war.

The MacArthur casualty figures did not include victims of frostbite.

The headquarters report said Chinese Red forces had suffered losses 10 times greater than U. N. casualties.

Reds Promise Attack

The U. S. Eighth Army, reporting the ominous massing of Red troops in the west, said larger hostile units have appeared in areas where previous action has been limited to sporadic patrol clashes.

Fresh enemy battalions were deployed south of Kumhwa, which is 20 miles north of the 38th parallel. Further evidence of aggressive enemy probing, the Army communique said, was encountered south of Yonchon and eight or nine miles northeast of Sinyu. Yonchon is six miles north of the parallel.

The Red radio at Pyongyang announced on its first broadcast since resuming operations that United Nations forces had been driven south of the 38th parallel all along the line. It also warned that the Red "People's Army" would soon launch an attack that would rid all Korea of the "imperialist invaders."

Lie Still Thinks Peace Will Win

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 21 (AP) — Trygve Lie said today the present world situation is difficult, but he still believes peace can be preserved.

The U. N. Secretary-General talked with reporters here on the eve of a trip to Norway to spend his first Christmas with his family in five years. He will wind up his European trip with January conferences in Geneva, Paris and London on where in Europe the 1951 General Assembly will be held.

"I hope the Korea cease-fire committee will succeed in its efforts," Lie said. "The whole effort, now as always, has been to protect the Republic of Korea from aggression.

"Whatever happens, we must keep on trying to achieve results.

"If the committee fails, it will not be their fault."

Lie declined to discuss what further steps U. N. forces will take in Korea. He said everything is now in the hands of the cease-fire committee.

Cotton Sent To China

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—Sen. Williams (R-Del) said today more than 50,000,000 pounds of cotton, including some from Commodity Credit Corporation inventory, has been shipped to Red China and Manchuria since the outbreak of the Korean fighting.

Train Whistle Cuts Fire Toll

WELCH, W. Va., Dec. 21 (AP)—At least two persons are alive today because an engineer and conductor repeatedly blew a train whistle to arouse residents of a burning apartment building in downtown Welch.

But two youngsters are dead and their parents in serious condition from burns received when a Christmas tree fire destroyed their fourth-floor apartment in the early morning hours today.

Dead are Cheryl Green, 4, and her four-month-old brother, Harry Greene, Jr.

Cheryl died in the arms of her father, Harry Greene, 35, as he sought refuge from the swirling flames in a bathtub of water. Greene, a construction worker, was found unconscious in the tub and has been unconscious for almost 24 hours.

The four-month-old baby was burned to death in his crib. The mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lester Greene, 25, ran from the apartment with her night clothing afire.

Russia Pushing Atom Program, Dean Says

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—Top atomic officials have informed senators that Russia is engaged "in an intensive effort" to develop atomic weapons, it was learned tonight.

The information came from Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Carleton Shugg, deputy AEC general manager, before a closed session of the Senate Appropriations Committee this week.

Their testimony was scheduled to become public tomorrow along with other testimony on the $19,973,000,000 emergency defense bill passed by the Senate today.

Shugg told senators that the new atomic program in this country "involves at least six new sites."

Award Of Stalin Peace Prizes Is Delayed

MOSCOW, Dec. 21 (AP) — Soviet Russia marked the 71st birthday of Prime Minister Stalin today without an announcement of Stalin peace prizes, which were expected to be awarded for the first time.

A decree on Stalin's 70th birthday in 1949 provided that prizes of 100,000 rubles ($25,000 by Russian evaluation) would be presented on the anniversary annually to five or 10 persons, regardless of nationality, who had done the most toward advancing peace.

Court Rules Today On Color TV Suit

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (AP) — A three-judge federal court will rule tomorrow on the hotly-contested color television suit.

The Radio Corporation of America has sued to set aside the Federal Communications Commission order approving the Columbia Broadcasting System's color telecasting method for commercial use.

RCA contends the CBS method is impractical and costly to the public because it requires the addition of equipment to sets now in service to receive the color telecasts in either color or in black and white. Columbia and FCC maintain the CBS method is the most practical yet devised.

Masked Bandits Hold Up Store

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21 (AP)—Nine masked bandits crowded 20 customers and employes of the Calvert Rug and Linoleum Co. into a small rest room this afternoon and escaped with more than $1,000 from the firm's cash register.

The robbers, armed negroes, entered the store about 2:45 p. m. and split up, seven going to the main office and two to a rear office.

One of the armed men threatened to shoot Manager John C. Bode if he didn't get the money "from a desk drawer."

"There's no money there," Bode replied.

He and Mrs. Thelma Kimmel, a secretary, then were taken to the main office where the seven gunmen were ransacking the cash register and forcing everyone into a small rest room.

An employe of the company, I. W. Bosman, entered the outside door and found a pistol jabbing at him. Bosman grabbed for the gun, and the bandit hit him over the head with the pistol and shoved him into the small room with the rest.

The robbers used a sash cord they apparently had brought to tie the door to the rest room closed. Then they fled. The victims could not be sure whether they fled by foot or had a car waiting.

No Gross Negligence In Anesthesia Deaths

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21 (AP) — A grand jury held today that two operating table deaths at Sinai Hospital "could have been avoided," but it said there wasn't enough evidence of gross negligence to indict anybody.

The deaths of a girl and a woman on successive days at the hospital last month were due to a mix-up of gas tanks, the grand jury found. The patients being operated on for appendicitis were given nitrous oxide (laughing gas) instead of oxygen while being anesthetized, the grand jurors were informed in official reports.

They said "the deaths could have have been avoided had there been careful inspection of the anesthesia machine prior to its used."

But there "was not such evidence of gross negligence before us as, in our judgment, would justify our finding a presentment against any individual or individuals."

Sen. Goldstein Opposes Constitution Convention

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21 (AP) — The first "on the record" objection to the calling of a new state constitutional convention was registered today at a session of the Legislative Council.

Sen. Goldstein (D-Calvert) told the council the convention should be deferred in the light of the war emergency.

The national emergency had not been declared at the time the voters, by a margin of 200,439 to 56,998, approved the calling of a convention to rewrite the constitution, Goldstein said, and the call of millions of men to service would "take all the young blood out of the state."

Court Rules Today On Color TV Suit

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (AP) — A three-judge federal court will rule tomorrow on the hotly-contested color television suit.

The Radio Corporation of America has sued to set aside the Federal Communications Commission order approving the Columbia Broadcasting System's color telecasting method for commercial use.

RCA contends the CBS method is impractical and costly to the public because it requires the addition of equipment to sets now in service to receive the color telecasts in either color or in black and white. Columbia and FCC maintain the CBS method is the most practical yet devised.

Masked Bandits Hold Up Store

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21 (AP)—Nine masked bandits crowded 20 customers and employes of the Calvert Rug and Linoleum Co. into a small rest room this afternoon and escaped with more than $1,000 from the firm's cash register.

The robbers, armed negroes, entered the store about 2:45 p. m. and split up, seven going to the main office and two to a rear office.

One of the armed men threatened to shoot Manager John C. Bode if he didn't get the money "from a desk drawer."

"There's no money there," Bode replied.

He and Mrs. Thelma Kimmel, a secretary, then were taken to the main office where the seven gunmen were ransacking the cash register and forcing everyone into a small rest room.

An employe of the company, I. W. Bosman, entered the outside door and found a pistol jabbing at him. Bosman grabbed for the gun, and the bandit hit him over the head with the pistol and shoved him into the small room with the rest.

The robbers used a sash cord they apparently had brought to tie the door to the rest room closed. Then they fled. The victims could not be sure whether they fled by foot or had a car waiting.

No Gross Negligence In Anesthesia Deaths

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21 (AP) — A grand jury held today that two operating table deaths at Sinai Hospital "could have been avoided," but it said there wasn't enough evidence of gross negligence to indict anybody.

The deaths of a girl and a woman on successive days at the hospital last month were due to a mix-up of gas tanks, the grand jury found. The patients being operated on for appendicitis were given nitrous oxide (laughing gas) instead of oxygen while being anesthetized, the grand jurors were informed in official reports.

They said "the deaths could have have been avoided had there been careful inspection of the anesthesia machine prior to its used."

But there "was not such evidence of gross negligence before us as, in our judgment, would justify our finding a presentment against any individual or individuals."

Red Tree Ousted

PATERSON, N. J. Dec. 20 (AP) — They had a red Christmas tree in the Paterson City Hall but it didn't last long.

Mayor Michael U. DeVita said, "Get that thing out of here, but fast."

Tonight there is another Christmas tree in City Hall.

Sen. Goldstein Opposes Constitution Convention

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21 (AP) — The first "on the record" objection to the calling of a new state constitutional convention was registered today at a session of the Legislative Council.

Sen. Goldstein (D-Calvert) told the council the convention should be deferred in the light of the war emergency.

The national emergency had not been declared at the time the voters, by a margin of 200,439 to 56,998, approved the calling of a convention to rewrite the constitution, Goldstein said, and the call of millions of men to service would "take all the young blood out of the state."

"You can help me make his Christmas a lot merrier!"

"This year, so many more boys are in uniform and away from their folks. On Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, they'll be calling home by the thousands. All of us operators will be awfully busy trying to speed their calls through.

"Of course, a lot of new circuits have been added. Every switchboard will be in use. But it just won't be possible to stretch the service to handle the flood of calls on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. There are bound to be some delays.

"So let's give the people in the Armed Services a break. Telephone your faraway friends and relatives before 6 P.M. Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day. It'll help free the lines ...and it'll help me give you faster service, too."

Holiday Safety

The life you save may be your own!

It will be well for all of us to bear in mind these words of caution, particularly as another holiday approaches.

Christmas is a joyous season to often marred for many by tragedy, and in some homes the joy this year will be marred once more by the sacrifice of loved ones in far away places fighting to protect and uphold the ideal of freedom. For some the roar of cannon will make it hard to hear the ringing of the Christmas bells. We can do little to prevent it.

But Americans can protect their own lives and the lives of others and prevent tragedies here at home by exercising caution and putting the spirit of good will into their attitude toward others.

The traffic accident problem this year is serious, with a death toll of 35,000 in prospect before 1950 ends. That would be the largest number of automobile victims since the record year of 1941.

As each holiday of the year has ended, The Cumberland News has carried the death report of the nation as prepared by the Associated Press. In each post-holiday compilation the terrific accident death toll is appalling.

The great majority of these deaths come from traffic accidents, but miscellaneous causes, among them fires due to carelessness, add to the toll.

It was just a year ago this Christmas that fire starting with a Christmas tree destroyed the business section of nearby Hyndman, Pa., and took two lives.

In the past few weeks, The News has carried several different stories urging care in preventing fires. Police reminders of traffic safety have been printed. It will be well once more to list a few simple traffic rules and several suggestions for home safety this Christmas. Prepared by the National Safety Council, they include:

Traffic: Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards; put the Christmas spirit of good will into your attitude toward drivers and pedestrians; don't let Christmas packages obstruct your vision when walking; don't drive if you drink—and vice versa; start in time and take it easy, allowing for winter weather and extra holiday traffic.

Home: Check your home for anything that might cause an accident; keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames; use electric tree and window lights—no lighted candles ever; don't leave tree lights on when you are out of the room for a considerable time; check your electrical connections for shorts and wornout wires; keep flimsy Christmas decorations and wrappings away from the fireplace.

Heed these words of advice. Don't let death take your holiday.

They Don't Lie For Fun

There is nothing simple about a Communist lie. The Russians and their worshipers are never carefree liars. They don't lie solely for love of lying. Behind the facade of each lie is a complex structure of dialectical strategy, painstakingly designed to have far-reaching practical results. But the lies they decide to tell give clues to their future plans.

Their latest lie charges the United States with using Japanese troops in Korea, and particularly with planning to rebuild a Japanese army. Its only importance lies in the hints of Russia's own plans it contains.

Most Russian lies about the United States accuse this country of what they are planning to do themselves or else of what they fear American reaction may be to something they are planning. The idea is that when they go ahead and Washington accuses them of what they are actually doing, such protests will sound like a weak "You're another."

This device has the added merit (in Russia's eyes) that the U. S. may try too hard to prove them wrong it will let them get away with murder. That may be one reason Manchuria is still a "privileged sanctuary" for aggressor planes. It makes the U. S. shy off from using the atom bomb.

The lie about Japan, then, indicates that Russia wants to take over Japan. And it may mean that Russia has armed and trained the 300,000 Japanese war prisoners she will not account for, and plans to use them against the U. S. In any case, it is more than a simple lie, and it bodes no good.

The Truman Letters

Paul Hume, the music critic, has received several offers from collectors of rare documents for the letter he received from President Truman in which Truman threatened to do bodily harm to the critic for saying his daughter's voice was flat. If he accepts one of these offers, a basic price may be set for the Truman epistles, of which there have been three or four of similar tone in recent months.

The letter about the Marines should bring top price, with the John Lewis letter, in which the President declared he would not appoint the former dog catcher, probably rating a little lower.

Those in the know in official circles in Washington say there would have been more similar epistles had it not been for the censorship imposed by the late Charley Ross, who served as the President's press secretary.

Moscow Once Idealist

Improbable as it may seem, the present Russian leaders probably began as idealists. No mere self-seekers would have undergone such hardships and persecution at the hands of the czar's police force year in and year out, if they had not been urged on by a desire to make a better world.

They may have still cherished this dream when they attained power, but gradually the desire to improve the conditions of mankind was swallowed up by the determination to keep adding to their own power, and by refusal to recognize that their formula for paradise contained errors. Power is their purpose now. All talk of righting human wrongs is merely bait for those foolish enough to swallow it.

Spur To Ingenuity

New days, new ways, has ever been a phrase to describe economic results of war and rumors of wars. Great technological and industrial advances were made during World Wars I and II and more are in prospect. Government orders cutting civilian use of this and that invariably are followed by improvisations, many of which enter permanently into the economy. The rearmement program will be a great spur to ingenuity.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

An Anti-Constipation Routine

THERE are thousands of laxatives but one of the best can be made right in your own kitchen. It consists of a mixture of foods, pulverized senna, and granular agar-agar. According to Doctors Samuel and Jerome Weiss the formula is prepared and used as follows:

To one-half pound each of figs and dates, add six stewed prunes, with the juice, and run through a food grinder. To this is added one-half ounce of pulverized senna and one ounce or more of granular agar-agar. The mixture is then kneaded into a firm mass and placed in a refrigerator. A piece as big as an olive is taken with each meal and at bedtime. The size of the pellet is reduced gradually until no more is required. Meanwhile an attempt is made to establish regularity by drinking ample liquids, eating properly, and setting aside a definite time for the daily movement. In this way, most of the pitfalls responsible for constipation are corrected.

Lack of regularity probably is the most common cause of constipation. It often has its origin in neglect on the part of the parents to make the child understand the importance of allowing sufficient time for this purpose. With adults, the morning rush to get to the office on time is a factor. Inadequate facilities in rooming houses and older hotels may contribute because too many persons are forced to share the same bathroom.

To relieve constipation, six to eight glasses of water should be taken throughout the day provided there is no medical reason for restricting fluids. It is a good plan to drink a glassful on arising or at least one-half hour before breakfast. This not only stimulates the intestines to contract but dilutes the contents. The diet must be nutritious and offer some roughage to propel the intestinal contents along.

Fruits and vegetables leave considerable residue after being digested, hence are most beneficial. Furthermore, they contain organic acids and sugars that have a chemical effect upon digestive secretions and bacteria. Meat, fish, and eggs leave little roughage but are essential because of their nutritional value, particularly protein. This is in contrast to starchy foods like macaroni, potatoes, and rice, which should be used sparingly. Whole wheat bread is recommended because it contains five times as much fiber as white bread. Oatmeal falls into the same category as it is an excellent way to supply cellulose. Condiments are condemned.

The permitted foods include bouillons, broths, consommes, and purees; well cooked cereals served with cream and milk sugar rather than cane sugar. One or two eggs daily cooked any way except fried, and rolls, bread biscuits, and crackers are allowed. Not more than 3 ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish, or game should be taken daily. All foods made of gelatine are on the list, as well as unsalted butter and olive oil and one-half pint of fresh cream daily. Peas, beans, lentils (cooked to softness), and fresh vegetables and salads may be eaten, as well as custards, milk, peeled fruits, jellies, and marmalades.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

A New Grandson Enters A Difficult World; America Torn By Disunity And Sixth Column; Being Pro-American As Important As Being Anti-Communist

Says DREW PEARSON

(ED. NOTE—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his daughter, Mrs. George L. Arnold of Los Angeles).

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14, '50

Dear Daughter,

Well, you have made your father a grandpa again!

It begins to make me feel a little old. Of course, we are only as old as we feel, but today I confess to feeling quite a little older and a bit discouraged—discouraged over the state of the world. It is not a very promising world for my new grandson to face. We who preceded him and who were supposed to have built a better world have failed.

The only encouraging thing is that there will be 20 years or so before he has to face the tangled skein of world disunity, and perhaps by that time we can untangle some of our tragic mistakes.

One of the mistakes we are making today is intolerance, disunity and a quickness to judge that plays squarely into Moscow's hands. It is a new sixth column. We go from one extreme to another in this country like an animated shuttlecock. It reminds me of the way we painted yellow stripes on the house of Lindbergh's father and threw people into jail as socialists right after World War I.

Soviet Spy Ring Exposed

It also reminds me of the deluge of mail I got in February 1946 when I exposed the Soviet spy ring in Canada.

Scores of people wrote me that time denouncing me as a war-monger, as a disrupter of American-Russian relations, and a threat to world peace. I am sure these people were sincere, well-meaning, and thought that they were right and I was wrong. Frankly I heaved a sigh of relief when the Canadian prime minister, Mackenzie King, issued an official statement confirming the spy ring. That was the only thing that stopped the deluge of letters calling me a liar.

I don't know whether my office has kept those letters but if so, I ought to send them up to Senator McCarthy to show what others have done—long before his unbalanced tirades—to try to keep this country informed on Soviet dangers. I fear McCarthy, however, is influenced by only one motive—his passion for headlines and more lecture fees.

At any rate, what I am getting at is that this country swings from extreme to extreme. Some of the people who berated me four years ago for exposing Russia may be among those who now are just as vehement on the other side. These are tired, disillusioned, disappointed, and you can't particularly blame them. However, the important thing is that we must not be swayed back and forth from extreme to extreme. We must keep the middle road.

It is not enough these days to be anti-Communist. We must be pro-American. The first democratic rights any dictator must strangle are the rights of a free press and free speech. The sixth columnists and the McCarthyites have already started this by branding those who disagree with them as Communists.

B-29 Spy Ring

I remember in September 1947 having written an expose of the Communist spy ring in a Washington suburb which stole the secret blue-prints of B-29s. The story seemed so sensational that some editors at that time would not publish it. And it was not until a year later, when the House Un-American Activities Committee finally got around to the story, that some of these same editors gave the story headlines.

At the time I wrote the first story of the Canadian spy ring, I also called on the chief assistant of Jimmie Byrnes, then Secretary of State, and suggested that he ought to make an investigation of Alger Hiss. It looked to me as if Hiss had been leaking information to the Russians — though I couldn't tell for sure. Byrnes did investigate and Hiss left the State Department.

It was impossible for me to tell whether he was a Communist—an extremely serious charge for a newspaperman to make, even though it is brandished about so irresponsibly on the floor of the Senate. But I was sure that Hiss should not be in a high government position, and my conviction has been justified.

All this was in February 1946, four years before McCarthy suddenly discovered an easy way to make headlines.

Italian Communist Plot

In the summer of 1945, just after Fred Vinson, now chief justice, became Secretary of the Treasury, I went to him to suggest that he investigate one of his top assistants whom I suggested of being pro-Communist. Vinson did investigate and as a result let the man out.

The man is dead now and there is no use mentioning his name. In fact, I have never mentioned the incident before, not even to Mrs. P. but I did want my daughter to know in these days when the label "Communist" is dished out so recklessly on the floor of the Senate that her father has been doing his part for many years to get rid of communism in vital places.

There was another interesting occasion in September 1947 when I published a confidential report of Communist plans to seize control of Italy. Included in the expose were the location of secret Communist ammunition dumps and the names of Communist leaders, among them Giuseppe Dozza, mayor of Bologna.

Four months later, when I got to Bologna on the friendship train Mayor Dozza waved the clipping to American newsmen and denounced me and the friendship train. He was the only mayor in Italy who refused to welcome us.

I couldn't help but remember, when I was in Italy, that its dictator, once marched on Rome with the excuse of "saving Italy from Communism." However, force never cures force, and many of his blackshirts are now among the backbone of the Italian Communist Party.

So the thing for us to remember in these difficult days is that democracy can be choked to death just as effectively by a fascist dictator as by a Communist dictator.

In fact, there is no better way to play into the hands of Moscow than to create disunity, lack of confidence, and doubt. There is no time more advantageous for the Kremlin to strike than when we lack confidence in our leaders and when our country is torn by strife.

And the best way to do this is the Moscow-Hitler technique of repeating again and again the big lie and the big smear.

Again I apologize for writing such a discouraging letter on what should be such a joyous occasion—the advent of a new grandson. But I hope that long before he gets old enough to cope with the affairs of the world, his elders will have learned to have more sense.

Love from

THE OLD MAN.

EISENHOWER and the Russians. Part II.

Gen. Ike Eisenhower, toward whom Western Europe has reached to help save it from the menace of the Red army, shared the hopes of mankind five years ago that Western and Communist culture could cooperate.

His disillusionment, which emerged from his first-hand relations with Soviet leaders in Berlin and Moscow, parallels the disillusionment of the Western world. His decision to return to uniform and turn his back on his beloved peacetime job as president of Columbia Univeresity, and his prospects of gaining the White House in 1952, symbolizes the sacrifices which now must be met by citizens of the West.

In "Crusade In Europe," his weighty memoirs, Eisenhower relates the first conflicts that arose in the top echelons of Allied and Russian armies, whose men, even then, were dancing arm-in-arm along the Elbe.

He was not satisfied with the boundary in Germany beyond which his political leaders forbade him to step. He was riled by the fact that despite his strong informal protests to his friend Marshal Zhukov, "every railway train and every automobile that we sent into Berlin had to pass through Russian territory." Many were looted by Red army men.

But he felt, too, that one way of exhibiting to the Russians our intention to act in good faith was for the Americans to obey strictly every letter of the Potsdam agreement, however galling.

Eisenhower was urged by his advisers to refuse to withdraw his American troops from the Elbe, when it was time to move them back in occordance with the Potsdam provisions. They argued, and he grants with wisdom, that a show of truculence on our part at that time would have forced the Russians to adopt a more cooperative manner. He referred his own beliefs to the War Department and was urged to stand firm against his advisers. However, he wrote:

"I always felt that the Western Allies could probably have secured an agreement to occupy more of Germany than we actually did. I believe that if our political heads had been as convinced as we were at SHAEF of the certainty of early victory in the West they would have insisted, at Yalta, upon the line of the Elbe as the natural geographic line dividing the eastern and western occupation areas."

Apparently neither Mr. Roosevelt nor the advisers he took to Yalta believed that Eisenhower could crack the Siegfried Line as quickly as he did. They settled for a lesser part of the Germany-that-was-to-be conquered and made no set provisions for a corridor leading from the Allied zone into Berlin, a life-cord which the Russians can cut at will—as they showed when they forced the creation of the Berlin airlift.

In the early days of the occupation Eisenhower looked upon Berlin as "an experimental laboratory for the development of international accord." With his great personal charm he won many close friends among Russian military men, but they would go only just so far with

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

The Time Is Now

WASHINGTON

AT Brussels, Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson and the other Atlantic Pact Foreign Ministers have made another of their convulsive efforts to begin the job of building Europe's defenses. The best commentary on the seemingly vital results — agreement on re-arming Germany, appointment of General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower as European Supreme Commander — is provided by the following melancholy sequence.

Last March, in the crucial directive No. 68, the National Security Council set the time of utmost peril as 1953-'54. By then, the Council agreed, the Soviet Union would be ready for major aggression. Before then, the Council therefore concluded, the defenses of the West must be urgently rebuilt. The June meeting of Atlantic Pact Foreign Ministers in London, which did little else, at least accepted this timetable established by our Security Council.

Then in July, when the Korean aggression occurred, the State Department initiated an amendment to N. S. C. No. 68. The time of utmost peril was now set as 1951-'52, or at best 1952-'53. When Louis A. Johnson was driven from the Defense Department, American policy and planning were keyed to this new timetable. Hence, in New York in September, Secretary Acheson brutally and suddenly confronted Ernest Bevin and Robert Schuman with a demand for immediate Franco-British agreement on re-arming Germany to assist in defending Europe.

Timetable Being Telescoped

Now, in December, after the massive Chinese intervention in Korea, and on the eve of an expected Chinese invasion of French Indo-China, the timetable, as officially forecast, is being telescoped again. The new time of utmost peril is set as 1950-'51. In other words, the experts and leaders of the American government expect major Soviet aggression now, today, tomorrow, next month, next spring, next summer. And American political and strategic plans are again being painfully adjusted to this second new timetable.

What is anticipated has already been reported in this space. The onslaught upon French Indo-China, which all signs suggest will occur very shortly, is to set off a chain-reaction of surrender in Southeast Asia. The disasters in Southeast Asia, coming on top of the disaster in Korea, are to demoralize and paralyze the nations of Western Europe. With the Western Europeans trembling and passive, a new attack is to be launched in Europe in the spring, probably against Yugoslavia. When Yugoslavia falls, "third force" governments, obedient to the Kremlin, are to be installed in France and Italy. And with Europe divided and controlled, the British Isles are to be neutralized, and this country is to be left, naked and alone, to meet its final fate when the Kremlin has digested its vast conquests.

There are several things to be said about this planned political chain-reaction, in which the Korean war must be regarded merely as the first explosion. For one thing, much depends upon whether the experts are right in selecting Yugoslavia for the victim of the spring attack, or whether more weight should be given to the evidence that Western Germany will be the victim. In the latter case, in view of the presence of American, British and French occupying forces in Germany, there will be war beyond question in the spring.

Difficult To Achieve

If the attack is upon Yugoslavia, however, the Kremlin will be adhering to its policy of seeking all the fruits of a gigantic and overwhelming victory in a world war without fighting the world war. In the long run, the consequences of a successful attack upon Yugoslavia will be no less far-reaching than the consequences of an attack upon West Germany. But since British, French and American forces will not be directly involved, the Western allies will have to be far more resolute and forehanded in order to halt the chain-reaction before the position becomes hopeless.

At the same time, the effects of the new timetable upon Gen. Eisenhower's assignment will make this resolution and forehandedness far more difficult to achieve. As of today, Switzerland, Sweden and Yugoslavia are the leading military nations in Europe. If Gen. Eisenhower were backed up by Winston Churchill as dictator of the West, it would still take at least two years to build a solid European defense. Instead, the job is to be done, as Brussels revealed, by a continuous process of negotiation, compromise, and half measures. In these circumstances, there is no use pretending that much can be accomplished before the anticipated world crisis in 1950-'51.

This does not mean that the task of re-arming Europe is to be abandoned. There is always the off-chance that the new timetable is wrong, in which case it would be criminal to neglect the opportunity to buy peace cheap, by rebuilding Europe's defensive strength. In any case, every man that is trained for Europe, every weapon that is ordered, will surely be badly needed somewhere, somehow and soon.

What the new timetable means, in fact, is simply that the primary responsibility to defend the cause of freedom in the world now more than ever rests squarely and exclusively upon this Republic. If the forecast of the experts is correct, every American in these next months is likely to have to make the choice between fighting for freedom, or surrendering ignobly to the forces of darkness.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Radio And Music

THE NATIONAL Broadcasting Company's brightest star used to be Arturo Toscanini, universally acknowledged as the world's greatest symphonic conductor. Toscanini is not conducting this year. The excuse is that he is not well. The truth is that his program has been shifted to 10 o'clock on Monday nights; that inappropriate facilities have been provided for his orchestra, and that he refuses to play.

At 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoons, for as many years as can be remembered, the New York Philharmonic was carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System. It was carried "live." Now it is a recorded program, carried at 1 p. m., two hours before the actual concert. A recorded symphony is not a live program. If Columbia can carry the program recorded at 1 p. m., it can carry it live at 3 p. m.

The American Broadcasting Company still carries the Metropolitan Opera, which is sponsored by the Texas Company. All hail, Texas oil!

Sundays used to be devoted to fine programs on radio. This year music of quality has been disappearing, except on those stations which make a specialty of recorded music.

Radio is a peculiar business. Its revenue comes not from those who listen but from advertisers, euphemistically called sponsors. As the networks and stations do not own the vehicle of transmission, the air waves, they are dependent upon the actual owner, the Government of the United States, for their licenses. These may be renewed or withdrawn without any regard to the investment of private enterprisers in the business.

To satisfy the owner of the air waves, whose agent is the Federal Communications Commission, the networks and the local stations are required to provide a ratio of programs which are in the public interest. No provision is made as to when such programs are to appear. It is in this category that religious, educational and many musical programs appear.

The radio networks divide their programs into three categories: 1. sponsored; 2. cooperative; 3. sustaining.

The sponsored programs earn the money. They are controlled by advertising agencies. They are given the best time, no matter what the merit of the program may be. Sometimes they are without merit but are vehicles to attract attention to the "commercial."

An American newspaper's best space is the first page. That is never for sale to advertisers. Nor is the editorial page. In radio, it is different. The best time goes to the highest bidder.

The cooperative programs involve a different process. The network offers the program on the assumption that it may be of value, but is currently, for one reason or another, not acceptable to the advertising agencies. Often these programs are in excellent taste. The local station carry them free of charge, or if they can get a local advertiser, they split the fee three ways, among the local station, the network and the talent.

These programs are miserably handled by many local stations, which push them around all over the schedule. A program will be running for a year and building a following. Then a local optician or a loan shark wants the time (which is usually at a low price) and the station sells it to him, possibly with recorded hill-billy songs, thus avoiding both network and talent charges. To continue the fiction of public service, the cooperative program may be shunted to after midnight, the station expecting no listeners but maintaining a record to show to the FCC when called upon.

The sustaining programs are usually those for which neither networks nor stations will accept revenue, such as religious programs, speeches by distinguished citizens and so on.

Television has completely upset the radio business because it costs too much and the companies are in the investment stage. This adds to the confusion because radio has to pay to keep television going. The networks, on account of their television losses, are uncomfortable.

Television may not survive if this war lasts long, because it may be necessary to reduce its scope in order to build a radar fence around our country. I do not pretend to understand the techniques involved in all this, but this is true: that while the Russians built a radar fence about their country, we built a television system.

The system of programming in radio is dominated by advertising agencies, which lack perspective on public service, as they probably have to if they are to earn their way.

Holiday Safety

The life you save may be your own!

It will be well for all of us to bear in mind these words of caution, particularly as another holiday approaches.

Christmas is a joyous season to often marred for many by tragedy, and in some homes the joy this year will be marred once more by the sacrifice of loved ones in far away places fighting to protect and uphold the ideal of freedom. For some the roar of cannon will make it hard to hear the ringing of the Christmas bells. We can do little to prevent it.

But Americans can protect their own lives and the lives of others and prevent tragedies here at home by exercising caution and putting the spirit of good will into their attitude toward others.

The traffic accident problem this year is serious, with a death toll of 35,000 in prospect before 1950 ends. That would be the largest number of automobile victims since the record year of 1941.

As each holiday of the year has ended, The Cumberland News has carried the death report of the nation as prepared by the Associated Press. In each post-holiday compilation the terrific accident death toll is appalling.

The great majority of these deaths come from traffic accidents, but miscellaneous causes, among them fires due to carelessness, add to the toll.

It was just a year ago this Christmas that fire starting with a Christmas tree destroyed the business section of nearby Hyndman, Pa., and took two lives.

In the past few weeks, The News has carried several different stories urging care in preventing fires. Police reminders of traffic safety have been printed. It will be well once more to list a few simple traffic rules and several suggestions for home safety this Christmas. Prepared by the National Safety Council, they include:

Traffic: Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards; put the Christmas spirit of good will into your attitude toward drivers and pedestrians; don't let Christmas packages obstruct your vision when walking; don't drive if you drink—and vice versa; start in time and take it easy, allowing for winter weather and extra holiday traffic.

Home: Check your home for anything that might cause an accident; keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames; use electric tree and window lights—no lighted candles ever; don't leave tree lights on when you are out of the room for a considerable time; check your electrical connections for shorts and wornout wires; keep flimsy Christmas decorations and wrappings away from the fireplace.

Heed these words of advice. Don't let death take your holiday.

They Don't Lie For Fun

There is nothing simple about a Communist lie. The Russians and their worshipers are never carefree liars. They don't lie solely for love of lying. Behind the facade of each lie is a complex structure of dialectical strategy, painstakingly designed to have far-reaching practical results. But the lies they decide to tell give clues to their future plans.

Their latest lie charges the United States with using Japanese troops in Korea, and particularly with planning to rebuild a Japanese army. Its only importance lies in the hints of Russia's own plans it contains.

Most Russian lies about the United States accuse this country of what they are planning to do themselves or else of what they fear American reaction may be to something they are planning. The idea is that when they go ahead and Washington accuses them of what they are actually doing, such protests will sound like a weak "You're another."

This device has the added merit (in Russia's eyes) that the U. S. may try too hard to prove them wrong it will let them get away with murder. That may be one reason Manchuria is still a "privileged sanctuary" for aggressor planes. It makes the U. S. shy off from using the atom bomb.

The lie about Japan, then, indicates that Russia wants to take over Japan. And it may mean that Russia has armed and trained the 300,000 Japanese war prisoners she will not account for, and plans to use them against the U. S. In any case, it is more than a simple lie, and it bodes no good.

The Truman Letters

Paul Hume, the music critic, has received several offers from collectors of rare documents for the letter he received from President Truman in which Truman threatened to do bodily harm to the critic for saying his daughter's voice was flat. If he accepts one of these offers, a basic price may be set for the Truman epistles, of which there have been three or four of similar tone in recent months.

The letter about the Marines should bring top price, with the John Lewis letter, in which the President declared he would not appoint the former dog catcher, probably rating a little lower.

Those in the know in official circles in Washington say there would have been more similar epistles had it not been for the censorship imposed by the late Charley Ross, who served as the President's press secretary.

Moscow Once Idealist

Improbable as it may seem, the present Russian leaders probably began as idealists. No mere self-seekers would have undergone such hardships and persecution at the hands of the czar's police force year in and year out, if they had not been urged on by a desire to make a better world.

They may have still cherished this dream when they attained power, but gradually the desire to improve the conditions of mankind was swallowed up by the determination to keep adding to their own power, and by refusal to recognize that their formula for paradise contained errors. Power is their purpose now. All talk of righting human wrongs is merely bait for those foolish enough to swallow it.

Spur To Ingenuity

New days, new ways, has ever been a phrase to describe economic results of war and rumors of wars. Great technological and industrial advances were made during World Wars I and II and more are in prospect. Government orders cutting civilian use of this and that invariably are followed by improvisations, many of which enter permanently into the economy. The rearmement program will be a great spur to ingenuity.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

An Anti-Constipation Routine

THERE are thousands of laxatives but one of the best can be made right in your own kitchen. It consists of a mixture of foods, pulverized senna, and granular agar-agar. According to Doctors Samuel and Jerome Weiss the formula is prepared and used as follows:

To one-half pound each of figs and dates, add six stewed prunes, with the juice, and run through a food grinder. To this is added one-half ounce of pulverized senna and one ounce or more of granular agar-agar. The mixture is then kneaded into a firm mass and placed in a refrigerator. A piece as big as an olive is taken with each meal and at bedtime. The size of the pellet is reduced gradually until no more is required. Meanwhile an attempt is made to establish regularity by drinking ample liquids, eating properly, and setting aside a definite time for the daily movement. In this way, most of the pitfalls responsible for constipation are corrected.

Lack of regularity probably is the most common cause of constipation. It often has its origin in neglect on the part of the parents to make the child understand the importance of allowing sufficient time for this purpose. With adults, the morning rush to get to the office on time is a factor. Inadequate facilities in rooming houses and older hotels may contribute because too many persons are forced to share the same bathroom.

To relieve constipation, six to eight glasses of water should be taken throughout the day provided there is no medical reason for restricting fluids. It is a good plan to drink a glassful on arising or at least one-half hour before breakfast. This not only stimulates the intestines to contract but dilutes the contents. The diet must be nutritious and offer some roughage to propel the intestinal contents along.

Fruits and vegetables leave considerable residue after being digested, hence are most beneficial. Furthermore, they contain organic acids and sugars that have a chemical effect upon digestive secretions and bacteria. Meat, fish, and eggs leave little roughage but are essential because of their nutritional value, particularly protein. This is in contrast to starchy foods like macaroni, potatoes, and rice, which should be used sparingly. Whole wheat bread is recommended because it contains five times as much fiber as white bread. Oatmeal falls into the same category as it is an excellent way to supply cellulose. Condiments are condemned.

• — • — •

The permitted foods include bouillons, broths, consommes, and purees; well cooked cereals served with cream and milk sugar rather than cane sugar. One or two eggs daily cooked any way except fried, and rolls, bread biscuits, and crackers are allowed. Not more than 3 ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish, or game should be taken daily. All foods made of gelatine are on the list, as well as unsalted butter and olive oil and one-half pint of fresh cream daily. Peas, beans, lentils (cooked to softness), and fresh vegetables and salads may be eaten, as well as custards, milk, peeled fruits, jellies, and marmalades.

A New Grandson Enters A Difficult World; America Torn By Disunity And Sixth Column; Being Pro-American As Important As Being Anti-Communist

Says DREW PEARSON

(ED. NOTE—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his daughter, Mrs. George L. Arnold of Los Angeles).

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14, '50

Dear Daughter,

Well, you have made your father a grandpa again!

It begins to make me feel a little old. Of course, we are only as old as we feel, but today I confess to feeling quite a little older and a bit discouraged—discouraged over the state of the world. It is not a very promising world for my new grandson to face. We who preceded him and who were supposed to have built a better world have failed.

The only encouraging thing is that there will be 20 years or so before he has to face the tangled skein of world disunity, and perhaps by that time we can untangle some of our tragic mistakes.

One of the mistakes we are making today is intolerance, disunity and a quickness to judge that plays squarely into Moscow's hands. It is a new sixth column. We go from one extreme to another in this country like an animated shuttlecock. It reminds me of the way we painted yellow stripes on the house of Lindbergh's father and threw people into jail as socialists right after World War I.

Soviet Spy Ring Exposed

It also reminds me of the deluge of mail I got in February 1946 when I exposed the Soviet spy ring in Canada.

Scores of people wrote me that time denouncing me as a warmonger, as a disrupter of American-Russian relations, and a threat to world peace. I am sure these people were sincere, well-meaning, and thought that they were right and I was wrong. Frankly I heaved a sigh of relief when the Canadian prime minister, Mackenzie King, issued an official statement confirming the spy ring. That was the only thing that stopped the deluge of letters calling me a liar.

I don't know whether my office has kept those letters but if so, I ought to send them up to Senator McCarthy to show what others have done—long before his unbalanced tirades—to try to keep this country informed on Soviet dangers. I fear McCarthy, however, is influenced by only one motive—his passion for headlines and more lecture fees.

At any rate, what I am getting at is that this country swings from extreme to extreme. Some of the people who berated me four years ago for exposing Russia may be among those who now are just as vehement on the other side. These are tired, disillusioned, disappointed, and you can't particularly blame them. However, the important thing is that we must not be swayed back and forth from extreme to extreme. We must keep the middle road.

It is not enough these days to be anti-Communist. We must be pro-American. The first democratic rights any dictator must strangle are the rights of a free press and free speech. The sixth columnists and the McCarthyites have already started this by branding those who disagree with them as Communists.

B-29 Spy Ring

I remember in September 1947 having written an expose of the Communist spy ring in a Washington suburb which stole the secret blue-prints of B-29s. The story seemed so sensational that some editors at that time would not publish it. And it was not until a year later, when the House Un-American Activities Committee finally got around to the story, that some of these same editors gave the story headlines.

At the time I wrote the first story of the Canadian spy ring, I also called on the chief assistant of Jimmie Byrnes, then Secretary of State, and suggested that he ought to make an investigation of Alger Hiss. It looked to me as if Hiss had been leaking information to the Russians — though I couldn't tell for sure. Byrnes did investigate and Hiss left the State Department.

It was impossible for me to tell whether he was a Communist—an extremely serious charge for a newspaperman to make, even though it is brandished about so irresponsibly on the floor of the Senate. But I was sure that Hiss should not be in a high government position, and my conviction has been justified.

All this was in February 1946, four years before McCarthy suddenly discovered an easy way to make headlines.

Italian Communist Plot

In the summer of 1945, just after Fred Vinson, now chief justice, became Secretary of the Treasury, I went to him to suggest that he investigate one of his top assistants whom I suggested of being pro-Communist. Vinson did investigate and as a result let the man out.

The man is dead now and there is no use mentioning his name. In fact, I have never mentioned the incident before, not even to Mrs. P. but I did want my daughter to know in these days when the label "Communist" is dished out so recklessly on the floor of the Senate that her father has been doing his part for many years to get rid of communism in vital places.

There was another interesting occasion in September 1947 when I published a confidential report of Communist plans to seize control of Italy. Included in the expose were the location of secret Communist ammunition dumps and the names of Communist leaders, among them Giuseppe Dozza, mayor of Bologna.

Four months later, when I got to Bologna on the friendship train Mayor Dozza waved the clipping to American newsmen and denounced me and the friendship train. He was the only mayor in Italy who refused to welcome us.

I couldn't help but remember, when I was in Italy, that its dictator, once marched on Rome with the excuse of "saving Italy from Communism." However, force never cures force, and many of his blackshirts are now among the backbone of the Italian Communist Party.

So the thing for us to remember in these difficult days is that democracy can be choked to death just as effectively by a fascist dictator as by a Communist dictator.

In fact, there is no better way to play into the hands of Moscow than to create disunity, lack of confidence, and doubt. There is no time more advantageous for the Kremlin to strike than when we lack confidence in our leaders and when our country is torn by strife.

And the best way to do this is the Moscow-Hitler technique of repeating again and again the big lie and the big smear.

Again I apologize for writing such a discouraging letter on what should be such a joyous occasion—the advent of a new grandson. But I hope that long before he gets old enough to cope with the affairs of the world, his elders will have learned to have more sense.

Love from

THE OLD MAN.

The Time Is Now

WASHINGTON

AT Brussels, Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson and the other Atlantic Pact Foreign Ministers have made another of their convulsive efforts to begin the job of building Europe's defenses. The best commentary on the seemingly vital results — agreement on re-arming Germany, appointment of General of the Army Dwight D. Last March, in the crucial directive No. 68, the National Security Council set the time of utmost peril as 1953-'54. By then, the Council agreed, the Soviet Union would be ready for major aggression. Before then, the Council therefore concluded, the defenses of the West must be urgently rebuilt. The June meeting of Atlantic Pact Foreign Ministers in London, which did little else, at least accepted this timetable established by our Security Council.

Then in July, when the Korean aggression occurred, the State Department initiated an amendment to N. S. C. No. 68. The time of utmost peril was now set as 1951-'52, or at best 1952-'53. When Louis A. Johnson was driven from the Defense Department, American policy and planning were keyed to this new timetable. Hence, in New York in September, Secretary Acheson brutally and suddenly confronted Ernest Bevin and Robert Schuman with a demand for immediate Franco-British agreement on re-arming Germany to assist in defending Europe.

Timetable Being Telescoped

Now, in December, after the massive Chinese intervention in Korea, and on the eve of an expected Chinese invasion of French Indo-China, the timetable, as officially forecast, is being telescoped again. The new time of utmost peril is set as 1950-'51. In other words, the experts and leaders of the American government expect major Soviet aggression now, today, tomorrow, next month, next spring, next summer. And American political and strategic plans are again being painfully adjusted to this second new timetable.

What is anticipated has already been reported in this space. The onslaught upon French Indo-China, which all signs suggest will occur very shortly, is to set off a chain-reaction of surrender in Southeast Asia. The disasters in Southeast Asia, coming on top of the disaster in Korea, are to demoralize and paralyze the nations of Western Europe. With the Western Europeans trembling and passive, a new attack is to be launched in Europe in the spring, probably against Yugoslavia. When Yugoslavia falls, "third force" governments, obedient to the Kremlin, are to be installed in France and Italy. And with Europe divided and controlled, the British Isles are to be neutralized, and this country is to be left, naked and alone, to meet its final fate when the Kremlin has digested its vast conquests.

There are several things to be said about this planned political chain-reaction, in which the Korean war must be regarded merely as the first explosion. For one thing, much depends upon whether the experts are right in selecting Yugoslavia for the victim of the spring attack, or whether more weight should be given to the evidence that Western Germany will be the victim. In the latter case, in view of the presence of American, British and French occupying forces in Germany, there will be war beyond question in the spring.

Difficult To Achieve

If the attack is upon Yugoslavia, however, the Kremlin will be adhering to its policy of seeking all the fruits of a gigantic and overwhelming victory in a world war without fighting the world war. In the long run, the consequences of a successful attack upon Yugoslavia will be no less far-reaching than the consequences of an attack upon West Germany. But since British, French and American forces will not be directly involved, the Western allies will have to be far more resolute and forehanded in order to halt the chain-reaction before the position becomes hopeless.

At the same time, the effects of the new timetable upon Gen. Eisenhower's assignment will make this resolution and forehandedness far more difficult to achieve. As of today, Switzerland, Sweden and Yugoslavia are the leading military nations in Europe. If Gen. Eisenhower were backed up by Winston Churchill as dictator of the West, it would still take at least two years to build a solid European defense. Instead, the job is to be done, as Brussels revealed, by a continuous process of negotiation, compromise, and half measures. In these circumstances, there is no use pretending that much can be accomplished before the anticipated world crisis in 1950-'51.

This does not mean that the task of re-arming Europe is to be abandoned. There is always the off-chance that the new timetable is wrong, in which case it would be criminal to neglect the opportunity to buy peace cheap, by rebuilding Europe's defensive strength. In any case, every man that is trained for Europe, every weapon that is ordered, will surely be badly needed somewhere, somehow and soon.

What the new timetable means, in fact, is simply that the primary responsibility to defend the cause of freedom in the world now more than ever rests squarely and exclusively upon this Republic. If the forecast of the experts is correct, every American in these next months is likely to have to make the choice between fighting for freedom, or surrendering ignobly to the forces of darkness.

Radio And Music

THE NATIONAL Broadcasting Company's brightest star used to be Arturo Toscanini, universally acknowledged as the world's greatest symphonic conductor. Toscanini is not conducting this year. The excuse is that he is not well. The truth is that his program has been shifted to 10 o'clock on Monday nights; that inappropriate facilities have been provided for his orchestra, and that he refuses to play.

At 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoons, for as many years as can be remembered, the New York Philharmonic was carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System. It was carried "live." Now it is a recorded program, carried at 1 p. m., two hours before the actual concert. A recorded symphony is not a live program. If Columbia can carry the program recorded at 1 p. m., it can carry it live at 3 p. m.

The American Broadcasting Company still carries the Metropolitan Opera, which is sponsored by the Texas Company. All hail, Texas oil!

Sundays used to be devoted to fine programs on radio. This year music of quality has been disappearing, except on those stations which make a specialty of recorded music.

Radio is a peculiar business. Its revenue comes not from those who listen but from advertisers, euphemistically called sponsors. As the networks and stations do not own the vehicle of transmission, the air waves, they are dependent upon the actual owner, the Government of the United States, for their licenses. These may be renewed or withdrawn without any regard to the investment of private enterprisers in the business.

To satisfy the owner of the air waves, whose agent is the Federal Communications Commission, the networks and the local stations are required to provide a ratio of programs which are in the public interest. No provision is made as to when such programs are to appear. It is in this category that religious, educational and many musical programs appear.

The radio networks divide their programs into three categories: 1. sponsored; 2. cooperative; 3. sustaining.

The sponsored programs earn the money. They are controlled by advertising agencies. They are given the best time, no matter what the merit of the program may be. Sometimes they are without merit but are vehicles to attract attention to the "commercial."

An American newspaper's best space is the first page. That is never for sale to advertisers. Nor is the editorial page. In radio, it is different. The best time goes to the highest bidder.

The cooperative programs involve a different process. The network offers the program on the assumption that it may be of value, but is currently, for one reason or another, not acceptable to the advertising agencies. Often these programs are in excellent taste. The local station carry them free of charge, or if they can get a local advertiser, they split the fee three ways, among the local station, the network and the talent.

These programs are miserably handled by many local stations, which push them around all over the schedule. A program will be running for a year and building a following. Then a local optician or a loan shark wants the time (which is usually at a low price) and the station sells it to him, possibly with recorded hill-billy songs, thus avoiding both network and talent charges. To continue the fiction of public service, the cooperative program may be shunted to after midnight, the station expecting no listeners but maintaining a record to show to the FCC when called upon.

The sustaining programs are usually those for which neither networks nor stations will accept revenue, such as religious programs, speeches by distinguished citizens and so on.

Television has completely upset the radio business because it costs too much and the companies are in the investment stage. This adds to the confusion because radio has to pay to keep television going. The networks, on account of their television losses, are uncomfortable.

Television may not survive if this war lasts long, because it may be necessary to reduce its scope in order to build a radar fence around our country. I do not pretend to understand the techniques involved in all this, but this is true: that while the Russians built a radar fence about their country, we built a television system.

The system of programming in radio is dominated by advertising agencies, which lack perspective on public service, as they probably have to if they are to earn their way.

Holiday Safety

The life you save may be your own!

It will be well for all of us to bear in mind these words of caution, particularly as another holiday approaches.

Christmas is a joyous season to often marred for many by tragedy, and in some homes the joy this year will be marred once more by the sacrifice of loved ones in far away places fighting to protect and uphold the ideal of freedom. For some the roar of cannon will make it hard to hear the ringing of the Christmas bells. We can do little to prevent it.

But Americans can protect their own lives and the lives of others and prevent tragedies here at home by exercising caution and putting the spirit of good will into their attitude toward others.

The traffic accident problem this year is serious, with a death toll of 35,000 in prospect before 1950 ends. That would be the largest number of automobile victims since the record year of 1941.

As each holiday of the year has ended, The Cumberland News has carried the death report of the nation as prepared by the Associated Press. In each post-holiday compilation the terrific accident death toll is appalling.

The great majority of these deaths come from traffic accidents, but miscellaneous causes, among them fires due to carelessness, add to the toll.

It was just a year ago this Christmas that fire starting with a Christmas tree destroyed the business section of nearby Hyndman, Pa., and took two lives.

In the past few weeks, The News has carried several different stories urging care in preventing fires. Police reminders of traffic safety have been printed. It will be well once more to list a few simple traffic rules and several suggestions for home safety this Christmas. Prepared by the National Safety Council, they include:

Traffic: Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards; put the Christmas spirit of good will into your attitude toward drivers and pedestrians; don't let Christmas packages obstruct your vision when walking; don't drive if you drink—and vice versa; start in time and take it easy, allowing for winter weather and extra holiday traffic.

Home: Check your home for anything that might cause an accident; keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames; use electric tree and window lights—no lighted candles ever; don't leave tree lights on when you are out of the room for a considerable time; check your electrical connections for shorts and wornout wires; keep flimsy Christmas decorations and wrappings away from the fireplace.

Heed these words of advice. Don't let death take your holiday.

They Don't Lie For Fun

There is nothing simple about a Communist lie. The Russians and their worshipers are never carefree liars. They don't lie solely for love of lying. Behind the facade of each lie is a complex structure of dialectical strategy, painstakingly designed to have far-reaching practical results. But the lies they decide to tell give clues to their future plans.

Their latest lie charges the United States with using Japanese troops in Korea, and particularly with planning to rebuild a Japanese army. Its only importance lies in the hints of Russia's own plans it contains.

Most Russian lies about the United States accuse this country of what they are planning to do themselves or else of what they fear American reaction may be to something they are planning. The idea is that when they go ahead and Washington accuses them of what they are actually doing, such protests will sound like a weak "You're another."

This device has the added merit (in Russia's eyes) that the U. S. may try too hard to prove them wrong it will let them get away with murder. That may be one reason Manchuria is still a "privileged sanctuary" for aggressor planes. It makes the U. S. shy off from using the atom bomb.

The lie about Japan, then, indicates that Russia wants to take over Japan. And it may mean that Russia has armed and trained the 300,000 Japanese war prisoners she will not account for, and plans to use them against the U. S. In any case, it is more than a simple lie, and it bodes no good.

The Truman Letters

Paul Hume, the music critic, has received several offers from collectors of rare documents for the letter he received from President Truman in which Truman threatened to do bodily harm to the critic for saying his daughter's voice was flat. If he accepts one of these offers, a basic price may be set for the Truman epistles, of which there have been three or four of similar tone in recent months.

The letter about the Marines should bring top price, with the John Lewis letter, in which the President declared he would not appoint the former dog catcher, probably rating a little lower.

Those in the know in official circles in Washington say there would have been more similar epistles had it not been for the censorship imposed by the late Charley Ross, who served as the President's press secretary.

Moscow Once Idealist

Improbable as it may seem, the present Russian leaders probably began as idealists. No mere self-seekers would have undergone such hardships and persecution at the hands of the czar's police force year in and year out, if they had not been urged on by a desire to make a better world.

They may have still cherished this dream when they attained power, but gradually the desire to improve the conditions of mankind was swallowed up by the determination to keep adding to their own power, and by refusal to recognize that their formula for paradise contained errors. Power is their purpose now. All talk of righting human wrongs is merely bait for those foolish enough to swallow it.

Spur To Ingenuity

New days, new ways, has ever been a phrase to describe economic results of war and rumors of wars. Great technological and industrial advances were made during World Wars I and II and more are in prospect. Government orders cutting civilian use of this and that invariably are followed by improvisations, many of which enter permanently into the economy. The rearmement program will be a great spur to ingenuity.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

An Anti-Constipation Routine

THERE are thousands of laxatives but one of the best can be made right in your own kitchen. It consists of a mixture of foods, pulverized senna, and granular agar-agar. According to Doctors Samuel and Jerome Weiss the formula is prepared and used as follows:

To one-half pound each of figs and dates, add six stewed prunes, with the juice, and run through a food grinder. To this is added one-half ounce of pulverized senna and one ounce or more of granular agar-agar. The mixture is then kneaded into a firm mass and placed in a refrigerator. A piece as big as an olive is taken with each meal and at bedtime. The size of the pellet is reduced gradually until no more is required. Meanwhile an attempt is made to establish regularity by drinking ample liquids, eating properly, and setting aside a definite time for the daily movement. In this way, most of the pitfalls responsible for constipation are corrected.

Lack of regularity probably is the most common cause of constipation. It often has its origin in neglect on the part of the parents to make the child understand the importance of allowing sufficient time for this purpose. With adults, the morning rush to get to the office on time is a factor. Inadequate facilities in rooming houses and older hotels may contribute because too many persons are forced to share the same bathroom.

To relieve constipation, six to eight glasses of water should be taken throughout the day provided there is no medical reason for restricting fluids. It is a good plan to drink a glassful on arising or at least one-half hour before breakfast. This not only stimulates the intestines to contract but dilutes the contents. The diet must be nutritious and offer some roughage to propel the intestinal contents along.

Fruits and vegetables leave considerable residue after being digested, hence are most beneficial. Furthermore, they contain organic acids and sugars that have a chemical effect upon digestive secretions and bacteria. Meat, fish, and eggs leave little roughage but are essential because of their nutritional value, particularly protein. This is in contrast to starchy foods like macaroni, potatoes, and rice, which should be used sparingly. Whole wheat bread is recommended because it contains five times as much fiber as white bread. Oatmeal falls into the same category as it is an excellent way to supply cellulose. Condiments are condemned.

The permitted foods include bouillons, broths, consommes, and purees; well cooked cereals served with cream and milk sugar rather than cane sugar. One or two eggs daily cooked any way except fried, and rolls, bread biscuits, and crackers are allowed. Not more than 3 ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish, or game should be taken daily. All foods made of gelatine are on the list, as well as unsalted butter and olive oil and one-half pint of fresh cream daily. Peas, beans, lentils (cooked to softness), and fresh vegetables and salads may be eaten, as well as custards, milk, peeled fruits, jellies, and marmalades.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

A New Grandson Enters A Difficult World; America Torn By Disunity And Sixth Column; Being Pro-American As Important As Being Anti-Communist

Says DREW PEARSON

(ED. NOTE—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his daughter, Mrs. George L. Arnold of Los Angeles).

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14, '50

Dear Daughter,

Well, you have made your father a grandpa again!

It begins to make me feel a little old. Of course, we are only as old as we feel, but today I confess to feeling quite a little older and a bit discouraged—discouraged over the state of the world. It is not a very promising world for my new grandson to face. We who preceded him and who were supposed to have built a better world have failed.

The only encouraging thing is that there will be 20 years or so before he has to face the tangled skein of world disunity, and perhaps by that time we can untangle some of our tragic mistakes.

One of the mistakes we are making today is intolerance, disunity and a quickness to judge that plays squarely into Moscow's hands. It is a new sixth column. We go from one extreme to another in this country like an animated shuttlecock. It reminds me of the way we painted yellow stripes on the house of Lindbergh's father and threw people into jail as socialists right after World War I.

Soviet Spy Ring Exposed

It also reminds me of the deluge of mail I got in February 1946 when I exposed the Soviet spy ring in Canada.

Scores of people wrote me that time denouncing me as a warmonger, as a disrupter of American-Russian relations, and a threat to world peace. I am sure these people were sincere, well-meaning, and thought that they were right and I was wrong. Frankly I heaved a sigh of relief when the Canadian prime minister, Mackenzie King, issued an official statement confirming the spy ring. That was the only thing that stopped the deluge of letters calling me a liar.

I don't know whether my office has kept those letters but if so, I ought to send them up to Senator McCarthy to show what others have done—long before his unbalanced tirades—to try to keep this country informed on Soviet dangers. I fear McCarthy, however, is influenced by only one motive—his passion for headlines and more lecture fees.

At any rate, what I am getting at is that this country swings from extreme to extreme. Some of the people who berated me four years ago for exposing Russia may be among those who now are just as vehement on the other side. These are tired, disillusioned, disappointed, and you can't particularly blame them. However, the important thing is that we must not be swayed back and forth from extreme to extreme. We must keep the middle road.

It is not enough these days to be anti-Communist. We must be pro-American. The first democratic rights any dictator must strangle are the rights of a free press and free speech. The sixth columnists and the McCarthyites have already started this by branding those who disagree with them as Communists.

B-29 Spy Ring

I remember in September 1947 having written an expose of the Communist spy ring in a Washington suburb which stole the secret blue-prints of B-29s. The story seemed so sensational that some editors at that time would not publish it. And it was not until a year later, when the House Un-American Activities Committee finally got around to the story, that some of these same editors gave the story headlines.

At the time I wrote the first story of the Canadian spy ring, I also called on the chief assistant of Jimmie Byrnes, then Secretary of State, and suggested that he ought to make an investigation of Alger Hiss. It looked to me as if Hiss had been leaking information to the Russians — though I couldn't tell for sure. Byrnes did investigate and Hiss left the State Department.

It was impossible for me to tell whether he was a Communist—an extremely serious charge for a newspaperman to make, even though it is brandished about so irresponsibly on the floor of the Senate. But I was sure that Hiss should not be in a high government position, and my conviction has been justified.

All this was in February 1946, four years before McCarthy suddenly discovered an easy way to make headlines.

Italian Communist Plot

In the summer of 1945, just after Fred Vinson, now chief justice, became Secretary of the Treasury, I went to him to suggest that he investigate one of his top assistants whom I suggested of being pro-Communist. Vinson did investigate and as a result let the man out.

The man is dead now and there is no use mentioning his name. In fact, I have never mentioned the incident before, not even to Mrs. P. but I did want my daughter to know in these days when the label "Communist" is dished out so recklessly on the floor of the Senate that her father has been doing his part for many years to get rid of communism in vital places.

There was another interesting occasion in September 1947 when I published a confidential report of Communist plans to seize control of Italy. Included in the expose were the location of secret Communist ammunition dumps and the names of Communist leaders, among them Giuseppe Dozza, mayor of Bologna.

Four months later, when I got to Bologna on the friendship train Mayor Dozza waved the clipping to American newsmen and denounced me and the friendship train. He was the only mayor in Italy who refused to welcome us.

I couldn't help but remember, when I was in Italy, that its dictator, once marched on Rome with the excuse of "saving Italy from Communism." However, force never cures force, and many of his blackshirts are now among the backbone of the Italian Communist Party.

So the thing for us to remember in these difficult days is that democracy can be choked to death just as effectively by a fascist dictator as by a Communist dictator.

In fact, there is no better way to play into the hands of Moscow than to create disunity, lack of confidence, and doubt. There is no time more advantageous for the Kremlin to strike than when we lack confidence in our leaders and when our country is torn by strife.

And the best way to do this is the Moscow-Hitler technique of repeating again and again the big lie and the big smear.

Again I apologize for writing such a discouraging letter on what should be such a joyous occasion—the advent of a new grandson. But I hope that long before he gets old enough to cope with the affairs of the world, his elders will have learned to have more sense.

Love from

THE OLD MAN.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)—

EISENHOWER and the Russians. Part II.

Gen. Ike Eisenhower, toward whom Western Europe has reached to help save it from the menace of the Red army, shared the hopes of mankind five years ago that Western and Communist culture could cooperate.

His disillusionment, which emerged from his first-hand relations with Soviet leaders in Berlin and Moscow, parallels the disillusionment of the Western world. His decision to return to uniform and turn his back on his beloved peacetime job as president of Columbia Univeresity, and his prospects of gaining the White House in 1952, symbolizes the sacrifices which now must be met by citizens of the West.

In "Crusade In Europe," his weighty memoirs, Eisenhower relates the first conflicts that arose in the top echelons of Allied and Russian armies, whose men, even then, were dancing arm-in-arm along the Elbe.

He was not satisfied with the boundary in Germany beyond which his political leaders forbade him to step. He was riled by the fact that despite his strong informal protests to his friend Marshal Zhukov, "every railway train and every automobile that we sent into Berlin had to pass through Russian territory." Many were looted by Red army men.

But he felt, too, that one way of exhibiting to the Russians our intention to act in good faith was for the Americans to obey strictly every letter of the Potsdam agreement, however galling.

Eisenhower was urged by his advisers to refuse to withdraw his American troops from the Elbe, when it was time to move them back in occordance with the Potsdam provisions. They argued, and he grants with wisdom, that a show of truculence on our part at that time would have forced the Russians to adopt a more cooperative manner. He referred his own beliefs to the War Department and was urged to stand firm against his advisers. However, he wrote:

"I always felt that the Western Allies could probably have secured an agreement to occupy more of Germany than we actually did. I believe that if our political heads had been as convinced as we were at SHAEF of the certainty of early victory in the West they would have insisted, at Yalta, upon the line of the Elbe as the natural geographic line dividing the eastern and western occupation areas."

Apparently neither Mr. Roosevelt nor the advisers he took to Yalta believed that Eisenhower could crack the Siegfried Line as quickly as he did. They settled for a lesser part of the Germany-that-was-to-be conquered and made no set provisions for a corridor leading from the Allied zone into Berlin, a life-cord which the Russians can cut at will—as they showed when they forced the creation of the Berlin airlift.

In the early days of the occupation Eisenhower looked upon Berlin as "an experimental laboratory for the development of international accord." With his great personal charm he won many close friends among Russian military men, but they would go only just so far with

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

The Time Is Now

WASHINGTON

AT Brussels, Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson and the other Atlantic Pact Foreign Ministers have made another of their convulsive efforts to begin the job of building Europe's defenses. The best commentary on the seemingly vital results — agreement on re-arming Germany, appointment of General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower as European Supreme Commander — is provided by the following melancholy sequence.

Last March, in the crucial directive No. 68, the National Security Council set the time of utmost peril as 1953-'54. By then, the Council agreed, the Soviet Union would be ready for major aggression. Before then, the Council therefore concluded, the defenses of the West must be urgently rebuilt. The June meeting of Atlantic Pact Foreign Ministers in London, which did little else, at least accepted this timetable established by our Security Council.

Then in July, when the Korean aggression occurred, the State Department initiated an amendment to N. S. C. No. 68. The time of utmost peril was now set as 1951-'52, or at best 1952-'53. When Louis A. Johnson was driven from the Defense Department, American policy and planning were keyed to this new timetable. Hence, in New York in September, Secretary Acheson brutally and suddenly confronted Ernest Bevin and Robert Schuman with a demand for immediate Franco-British agreement on re-arming Germany to assist in defending Europe.

Timetable Being Telescoped

Now, in December, after the massive Chinese intervention in Korea, and on the eve of an expected Chinese invasion of French Indo-China, the timetable, as officially forecast, is being telescoped again. The new time of utmost peril is set as 1950-'51. In other words, the experts and leaders of the American government expect major Soviet aggression now, today, tomorrow, next month, next spring, next summer. And American political and strategic plans are again being painfully adjusted to this second new timetable.

What is anticipated has already been reported in this space. The onslaught upon French Indo-China, which all signs suggest will occur very shortly, is to set off a chain-reaction of surrender in Southeast Asia. The disasters in Southeast Asia, coming on top of the disaster in Korea, are to demoralize and paralyze the nations of Western Europe. With the Western Europeans trembling and passive, a new attack is to be launched in Europe in the spring, probably against Yugoslavia. When Yugoslavia falls, "third force" governments, obedient to the Kremlin, are to be installed in France and Italy. And with Europe divided and controlled, the British Isles are to be neutralized, and this country is to be left, naked and alone, to meet its final fate when the Kremlin has digested its vast conquests.

There are several things to be said about this planned political chain-reaction, in which the Korean war must be regarded merely as the first explosion. For one thing, much depends upon whether the experts are right in selecting Yugoslavia for the victim of the spring attack, or whether more weight should be given to the evidence that Western Germany will be the victim. In the latter case, in view of the presence of American, British and French occupying forces in Germany, there will be war beyond question in the spring.

Difficult To Achieve

If the attack is upon Yugoslavia, however, the Kremlin will be adhering to its policy of seeking all the fruits of a gigantic and overwhelming victory in a world war without fighting the world war. In the long run, the consequences of a successful attack upon Yugoslavia will be no less far-reaching than the consequences of an attack upon West Germany. But since British, French and American forces will not be directly involved, the Western allies will have to be far more resolute and forehanded in order to halt the chain-reaction before the position becomes hopeless.

At the same time, the effects of the new timetable upon Gen. Eisenhower's assignment will make this resolution and forehandedness far more difficult to achieve. As of today, Switzerland, Sweden and Yugoslavia are the leading military nations in Europe. If Gen. Eisenhower were backed up by Winston Churchill as dictator of the West, it would still take at least two years to build a solid European defense. Instead, the job is to be done, as Brussels revealed, by a continuous process of negotiation, compromise, and half measures. In these circumstances, there is no use pretending that much can be accomplished before the anticipated world crisis in 1950-'51.

This does not mean that the task of re-arming Europe is to be abandoned. There is always the off-chance that the new timetable is wrong, in which case it would be criminal to neglect the opportunity to buy peace cheap, by rebuilding Europe's defensive strength. In any case, every man that is trained for Europe, every weapon that is ordered, will surely be badly needed somewhere, somehow and soon.

What the new timetable means, in fact, is simply that the primary responsibility to defend the cause of freedom in the world now more than ever rests squarely and exclusively upon this Republic. If the forecast of the experts is correct, every American in these next months is likely to have to make the choice between fighting for freedom, or surrendering ignobly to the forces of darkness.

As the networks and stations do not own the vehicle of transmission, the air waves, they are dependent upon the actual owner, the Government of the United States, for their licenses. These may be renewed or withdrawn without any regard to the investment of private enterprisers in the business.

To satisfy the owner of the air waves, whose agent is the Federal Communications Commission, the networks and the local stations are required to provide a ratio of programs which are in the public interest. No provision is made as to when such programs are to appear. It is in this category that religious, educational and many musical programs appear.

The radio networks divide their programs into three categories: 1. sponsored; 2. cooperative; 3. sustaining.

The sponsored programs earn the money. They are controlled by advertising agencies. They are given the best time, no matter what the merit of the program may be. Sometimes they are without merit but are vehicles to attract attention to the "commercial."

An American newspaper's best space is the first page. That is never for sale to advertisers. Nor is the editorial page. In radio, it is different. The best time goes to the highest bidder.

The cooperative programs involve a different process. The network offers the program on the assumption that it may be of value, but is currently, for one reason or another, not acceptable to the advertising agencies. Often these programs are in excellent taste. The local station carry them free of charge, or if they can get a local advertiser, they split the fee three ways, among the local station, the network and the talent.

These programs are miserably handled by many local stations, which push them around all over the schedule. A program will be running for a year and building a following. Then a local optician or a loan shark wants the time (which is usually at a low price) and the station sells it to him, possibly with recorded hill-billy songs, thus avoiding both network and talent charges. To continue the fiction of public service, the cooperative program may be shunted to after midnight, the station expecting no listeners but maintaining a record to show to the FCC when called upon.

The sustaining programs are usually those for which neither networks nor stations will accept revenue, such as religious programs, speeches by distinguished citizens and so on.

Television has completely upset the radio business because it costs too much and the companies are in the investment stage. This adds to the confusion because radio has to pay to keep television going. The networks, on account of their television losses, are uncomfortable.

Television may not survive if this war lasts long, because it may be necessary to reduce its scope in order to build a radar fence around our country. I do not pretend to understand the techniques involved in all this, but this is true: that while the Russians built a radar fence about their country, we built a television system.

The system of programming in radio is dominated by advertising agencies, which lack perspective on public service, as they probably have to if they are to earn their way.

Miami Will Give Flying Dutchmen 'Real' Christmas

By DON A. SCHANCHE

MIAMI—(INS)—Because an entire city opened its heart to the request of one of its big-hearted sons, plans are complete to give 45 flying Dutchmen a fairy tale Christmas in glittering Miami.

The lucky fliers are 45 aviation cadets from the Netherlands now taking flight training at Randolph Field, Tex. Their holiday host is Cadet John Shaddick, of Miami, who hated to see them spend a Christmas so far from home without something worth remembering.

So he engineered a five-day holiday which the friendly Dutchmen will never forget.

John wrote his mother, Mrs. R. H. Shaddick, that he wanted to bring "a few of the fellows" home for Christmas. Mrs. Shaddick later learned to her surprise that "a few" meant 45.

She told her story to a Miami newspaper and within hours she was flooded with phone calls from people asking if they could provide free rooms for the holiday guests. Mrs. Shaddick happily remarked:

"I broke down and cried after that. I didn't know there were so many good people in Miami. They have all opened their hearts."

After reading about Miami's warm beaches, the Dutch cadets told John they would like to go swimming. Two swank Miami Beach hotels promptly offered their private pools and planned swimming parties for the boys.

Then someone thought about dates.

Pretty Mary Beth Edwards, John's girl friend, got on the phone and soon had 45 of Miami's most attractive girls lined up.

On Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, the boys, who range in age from 19 to 23, will be entertained by the Miami families which have offered to give them lodging. Mrs. Shaddick explained:

"We want them to see a real Christmas. All the rest will be like fairytale trimmings, but on Christmas Day the thing they want most is to have a real Christmas in a real American home."

When they arrive Saturday morning aboard a C-47 transport provided by the Air Force, Netherlands Consul Henri Clemens, along with city and Chamber of Commerce officials, will be on hand to greet them.

On the day after Christmas, the cadets will go to Tropical Park race track where the day's feature has been tentatively named "The Flying Dutchman."

The rest of their time will be taken up by parties and sightseeing.

But the Dutchmen will miss what some Miamians think they would enjoy most of all—the city's famed Orange Bowl festivities January 1.

Death Cheats Tot Of 1st Christmas

PITTSBURGH (AP) —Little Joseph Snyder had a birthday party a few weeks ago and was soon to see his first Christmas.

But he'll never see the bright toys tucked away under the Christmas tree. Little Joe is dead. He strangled in his high chair when his head caught between the tray and back rest.

His mother, Mrs. Edwin J. Snyder, sobbed:

"I was scrambling eggs for him. He always loved them. There wasn't any ketchup, so I went downstairs to borrow some from my sister-in-law."

"Then I heard soft cries. I came back upstairs and saw Joe on the floor. I talked to him but he didn't answer. Now he never will."

Her husband, Edwin, a checker for the Associated Transport Co., cried:

"You should have seen him at the party. We had about 25 kids. He ate ice cream and cake. We were afraid he'd get sick, but he fooled us. Joe was always so healthy. Now he's dead."

But the Snyders have hopes of brighter Christmases in the future. Mrs. Snyder expects another child in May. She hopes it is someone like Joe.

Wiley Ford Church To Present Yule Program

The Wiley Ford Church of the Brethren will hold its annual Christmas program at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow, according to Rev. Vernon R. Beckman, pastor.

It will be presented by the various departments in the church with "Silent Night" to be sung by the primaries, "Away In the Manger" by the Kindergarten, the First Juniors are to sing "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," the Second Juniors, "While Shepherds Watched By Night," the Intermediate girls, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," Lambert Brothers, "We Three Kings Of Orient Are," and Mrs. Betty Blizzard will sing "O Holy Night."

The pastor will read numerous Scripture passages and the congregation will join in singing Christmas carols.

Mrs. F. W. Kremer To Honor Mrs. Thomas Brown At Tea

Mr., Mrs. Kremer To Hold Open House

Mrs. Franklin W. Kremer is entertaining with two informal holiday parties December 30, at her home, 724 Fayette Street.

She will be hostess at an informal tea, honoring Mrs. Thomas Brown, Richmond, Va., during the afternoon. Mrs. Brown is spending the Christmas holidays visiting her niece Mrs. Gordon Lee Bowie.

The Christmas motif will be carried out in the decorations of poinsettias, Christmas candles and holly. Mrs. A. W. Keight is to preside at the tea table.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kremer will hold an informal open house for the intimate friends and out of town guests.

BEAU CATCHER — A hat is not a hat when it is this enticingpeek-a-boo veil. It is held by two velvet-bound wires, and and adds a coquettish touch to the heart-shaped beauty mark.

Three County 4-H Club Members Given Scholars

Three Allegany countians will participate in the second annual Recreation Leaders Laboratory being held at New Windsor, December 26 through 30 under the sponsorship of the Eastern and South Eastern Regions of Laboratory Work through the United Brethren Church.

Club To Have Kiddy Party

The Cumberland Country Club's children's party is to be held today at 3 o'clock. The party is for children under 12 of members.

A moving picture is to be shown and carols sung. Santa will distribute presents and his helpers serve refreshments.

AAUW Has Quiz At Yule Party

A quiz on English literature featured the program at the Christmas party given by the Cumberland Branch of the American Association of University Women held Wednesday evening at Dox Hill, the home of Dr. Hilda Jane Walter, Frostburg.

Under the direction of the Creative Arts department, the Creative Writing Group enacted scenes from literature for the members of the association to identify. They included Dickens' "Christmas Carol," the next was taken from Washington Irving's Sketch Book, "Brace Bridge Hall"; "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Candle in the Forest," "The Night Before Christmas," "Junior Miss," "Tree Grows in Brooklyn," "Gift of the Magi," VanDyke's "Other Wise Man," and "Five Little Peppers."

Miss Datha Thomas opened the program playing a "Christmas Medley" by Albert Harvey, on her violin, and concluded it with Handel's "Largo."

Christmas hymns were sung by the group. They included "Come All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night, Holy Night," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "Joy to the World," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "I Heard Bells on Christmas Day," "Angels from Realms of Glory," and "A Song in the Air."

The house was elaborately decorated with natural holly and the same motif was repeated in the refreshment table.

Miss Ruth Engle was chairman. Other members of her committee were Mrs. William C. VanNewkirk, chairman of the Creative Arts Group; Miss Dorothy Dunkle, Miss Theresa Nicht, Mrs. Karl Daum, Mrs. H. H. Zeigler, Mrs. J. H. Connelly, Miss Ruth Clauson, Miss Paula Williams, Mrs. J. L. Ranck and Mrs. John G. Cook.

The system was inaugerated last August. James J. Kave, dad of the chapter, will officiate at the coronation, assisted by Owen Morris.

A semi-formal dance it is being held from 9 until midnight with Marty Flynn and his Orchestra playing.

George Riggs is chairman of the committee of arrangements. He is being assisted by Thomas Knotts and Michael Smith.

A class of 12 candidates will be initiated at the business meeting the 27th.

Circle 5 Has Yule Program

A Christmas program was presented at the meeting of Circle 5 of First Methodist Church, held recently at the home of Mrs. Virgil Ice, Patterson Avenue.

Mrs. Edith Densmore had charge of devotionals using as her theme, "With Healing in His Wings." Mrs. Myrtle Laurent read the Scripture and Mrs. Densmore gave a reading, "The Healing Touch," and talked on "What Does Christmas Mean to Us," "Christmas Around the World," was presented by Mrs. Densmore, Mrs. William Suder, Mrs. Ice, Mrs. Bertha Brown, and Mrs. Willa Brown.

Hymns sung by the group were "Joy to the World," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," 'It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," and "Silent Night, Holy Night."

The study period was conducted by Mrs. Annetta Montgomery. After which a social was held and jingle gifts exchanged.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

AN UP-AND-CLIMBING Washington hostess, noted for her ostentation, was found standing in her dining room with dozens of silver service plates spread out all over the refectory table when a friend dropped in unexpectedly. . . The caller inquired what it was all about and the hostess replied, "Oh, I'm just giving a little dinner party tonight for 50—60—70 people."

"And what are you serving?" asked the friend.

"I got 15—16—17 ribs of beef," she said. And as an afterthought she added, "You know there'll probably be three—four—five ribs left, so I think I'll have eight—nine—ten people to lunch tomorrow."

"Senator Homer Ferguson trimmed off the fat and got right down to the meat of the matter," explains one of his Republican colleagues. As Ferguson put it, the two outstanding post-Hiss blunders of Acheson can be simply summed up:

1. Thinking that Mao-Tse-tung, the Chinese Communist leader, could be successfully weaned from Moscow by American persuasion.
2. Not insisting during the six months of the Korean campaign that UN members individually put sizable units on the battle front.

Many diplomats let out a sigh of relief—now that they won't have to keep switching ties . . . Diplomats from Belgimum, Norway, Denmark, Great Britain and others who went into official diplomatic mourning for King Gustav of Sweden, are glad it's over . . . Each had to keep a black four-in-hand tie in a desk drawer to be put on in case he got a call to make an appearance at the State Department or some other official spot.

Congressman Velde of Illinois, a member of the un-American Activities Committee and former FBI agent, is burned up . . . Considers presenting a Congressional resolution since he read the news of the Supreme Court's far-reaching ruling . . . The ruling supports the rights of a witness to not answer any questions about his Communist connections; he simply does not have to testify about his Communist party rating . . . This of course throws a monkey wrench into the 50-or-so Congressional contempt cases still hanging fire . . . Senator Pat McCarran's Communist Control Bill already provides that any testimony before a Congressional committee cannot be used against a witness in subsequent court action.

A strapping six-footer strolling down Massachusetts Avenue, holding hands with a little cutie-pie—Jimmy Cromwell and daughter, Maxine . . . What ever happened to Jimmy Cromwell's dream? . . . He was working sub rosa to create a Foreign Legion for the United States of America. It was probably so sub rosa it's been buried.

Unexpected guests are the test of any woman's ability as a hostess. Here's the way to pass it with honors!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Is the latchstring out at your house? One of the greatest pleasures of the season is to visit where the hostess really knows how to make her guests feel at home. But as any woman who knows will tell you, being a top-flight hostess does not just come naturally. It's the result of a powerful lot of thought, thoughtfulness, and, you guessed it, preparation.

The test of the good hostess lies in how well she entertains her unexpected guests. At this time of year, that's a test you are almost sure to have to pass.

It's not enough just to be cordial and warm as you greet your guests at the door. You must show in a little more tangible fashion that you are glad they came. For just such occasions, the smart hostess has a bit of party fixin's on hand. File away a few spur-of-the-moment ideas for light snacks, hors d'oeuvres or tea refreshments. If you see to it that the makings are always in your kitchen, you'll welcome the pull on your latchstring anytime.

When you know guests are coming, plan what you'll serve so that you won't be tied to the kitchen after they arrive. The simplest fare is preferable to an absent, flurried or flustered hostess—in fact, she's no hostess at all.

Your guests are sure to be at ease when you are. Should unexpected company arrive when the household is in an uproar, explain the situation simply; then forget it and your guests will love you. But if you keep apologizing for the food, the house, or anything else, you'll make everyone highly uncomfortable. Just keep in mind the fact that the best times often evolve from what seemed at first to be an impossible situation.

Remember that people come to your house to see you and not your television set, radio or phonograph. But don't make the mistake of expecting your guests to entertain themselves. You know your friends' taste and to be a gracious hostess, you must play up to them. If they like conversation, keep it rolling. If they enjoy cards, suggest a hand or two.

With your hair always in place, and your lipstick on even though company is not expected, and something on your kitchen party shelf, you can easily be one of the best-loved hostesses anywhere around!

Many diplomats let out a sigh of relief—now that they won't have to keep switching ties . . . Diplomats from Belgimum, Norway, Denmark, Great Britain and others who went into official diplomatic mourning for King Gustav of Sweden, are glad it's over . . . Each had to keep a black four-in-hand tie in a desk drawer to be put on in case he got a call to make an appearance at the State Department or some other official spot.

Congressman Velde of Illinois, a member of the un-American Activities Committee and former FBI agent, is burned up . . . Considers presenting a Congressional resolution since he read the news of the Supreme Court's far-reaching ruling . . . The ruling supports the rights of a witness to not answer any questions about his Communist connections; he simply does not have to testify about his Communist party rating . . . This of course throws a monkey wrench into the 50-or-so Congressional contempt cases still hanging fire . . . Senator Pat McCarran's Communist Control Bill already provides that any testimony before a Congressional committee cannot be used against a witness in subsequent court action.

A strapping six-footer strolling down Massachusetts Avenue, holding hands with a little cutie-pie—Jimmy Cromwell and daughter, Maxine . . . What ever happened to Jimmy Cromwell's dream? . . . He was working sub rosa to create a Foreign Legion for the United States of America. It was probably so sub rosa it's been buried.

Unexpected guests are the test of any woman's ability as a hostess. Here's the way to pass it with honors!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Is the latchstring out at your house? One of the greatest pleasures of the season is to visit where the hostess really knows how to make her guests feel at home. But as any woman who knows will tell you, being a top-flight hostess does not just come naturally. It's the result of a powerful lot of thought, thoughtfulness, and, you guessed it, preparation.

The test of the good hostess lies in how well she entertains her unexpected guests. At this time of year, that's a test you are almost sure to have to pass.

It's not enough just to be cordial and warm as you greet your guests at the door. You must show in a little more tangible fashion that you are glad they came. For just such occasions, the smart hostess has a bit of party fixin's on hand. File away a few spur-of-the-moment ideas for light snacks, hors d'oeuvres or tea refreshments. If you see to it that the makings are always in your kitchen, you'll welcome the pull on your latchstring anytime.

When you know guests are coming, plan what you'll serve so that you won't be tied to the kitchen after they arrive. The simplest fare is preferable to an absent, flurried or flustered hostess—in fact, she's no hostess at all.

Your guests are sure to be at ease when you are. Should unexpected company arrive when the household is in an uproar, explain the situation simply; then forget it and your guests will love you. But if you keep apologizing for the food, the house, or anything else, you'll make everyone highly uncomfortable. Just keep in mind the fact that the best times often evolve from what seemed at first to be an impossible situation.

Remember that people come to your house to see you and not your television set, radio or phonograph. But don't make the mistake of expecting your guests to entertain themselves. You know your friends' taste and to be a gracious hostess, you must play up to them. If they like conversation, keep it rolling. If they enjoy cards, suggest a hand or two.

With your hair always in place, and your lipstick on even though company is not expected, and something on your kitchen party shelf, you can easily be one of the best-loved hostesses anywhere around!

P. S. from J. R. P.
"YOUD CROWNING GLORY"

This booklet shows six exciting, exquisite individual hair-do's . . . one each for the six types of faces. Each hair-do is designed EXCLUSIVELY for John Robert Powers by world-famous Hair Stylists. See them modeled by Powers models of various types and age groups. Front and rear views of each hair-do are shown so you'll find it easy to adapt the one best suited for YOUR personality. It tells you how to determine YOUR type — quickly, easily. Write to me in care of this newspaper and enclose 10 cents in coin to help cover costs, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

POP CORN CAN BE USED TO MAKE THIS DELIGHTFUL YULE HOLIDAY DECORATION FOR YOUR TABLE PIECE

Now, with Christmas almost right here with us, you'll want to plan some easy holiday decorations that give home a merry, yuletide atmosphere.

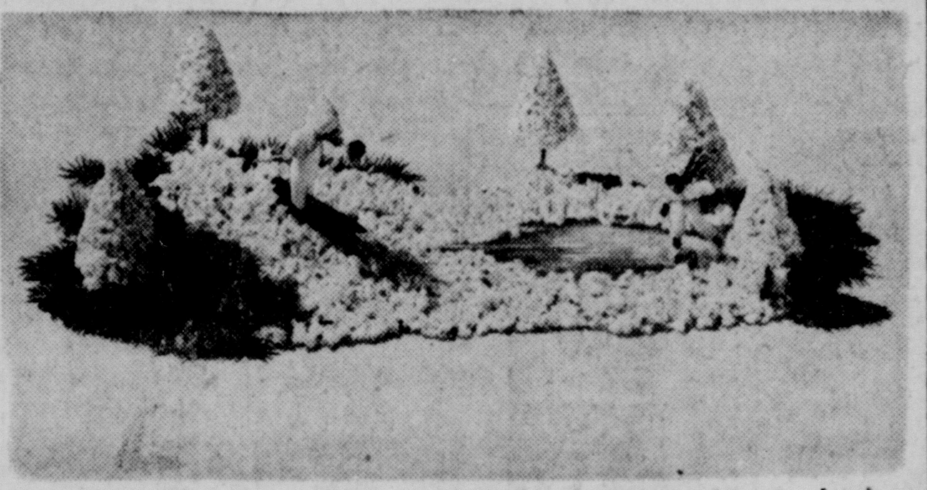
To make this snow scene, or one similar to it, you need only a few things . . . some kraft wrapping paper, a mirror, (or piece of plain glass with silver foil paper placed underneath), a half-dozen meat skewers, a little glue and a few pieces of spruce. Little figures like the ones shown here can be picked up at almost any novelty or gift shop. And oh, yes, you'll need some pop corn.

First step, after assembling your materials, is to place the mirror on the table, put the kraft wrapping paper around it in the shape of the scene, and to give you the conformation of the "ground" on which you're going to place your pop corn snow. You can build up the hill by placing a small cardboard box, crumpled papers, or an empty baby food can under part of the kraft paper.

Next pop a fairly good sized bowl of pop corn . . . and by touching the bottom of each piece with a little glue or rubber cement (do not use wall paper paste or any glue or paste which contains a lot of water as the pop corn will absorb it and get soggy) you can stick it on the kraf paper. Once the paper is completely covered with pop corn you can start making the trees. Make them just like you make pop corn balls. You'll need:

- 1 cup sugar
- ⅓ cup white corn syrup
- ⅓ cup water
- ¼ cup butter
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ¾ teaspoon vanilla
- 3 quarts popped corn

Put sugar, corn syrup, water, butter and salt in sauce pan and cook, stirring until sugar is dissolved.



Continue cooking without stirring (270°) F. until syrup forms a brittle ball in cold water. Add vanilla and stir only enough to mix it through the hot syrup. Place pop corn in a bowl large enough for mixing. Pour the cooked syrup slowly over the popped corn and mix well.

Wet the hands slightly and start shaping the mixture into trees, using only enough pressure to make it stick together. If, before you are finished, the mixture starts to get too hard to shape into trees, it can be softened by warming it in the oven.

Place the sharp point of the meat skewers into the trees for "trunks." Skewers should be colored green. Use a food coloring, in case kiddies want a tree or two to eat as a confection.

If you wish, trees can be "decorated" by arranging small pieces of colored candy on them. You may wish to heighten the "snow" effect by sprinkling regular commercial Christmas snow over the pop corn on the ground and on part of the mirror.

Forger Is Offered Freedom In Return For Resolution

NEW YORK—(INS)—A young Brooklyn father, sentenced last June to a year and a day in Danbury penitentiary, was offered his freedom as a Christmas present—in return for a New Year's resolution to return to his wife and three children and go straight.

This unusual gift was offered to Nicholas Mione, 30, when he appeared before Queens County Judge Farrell for sentencing on a second degree forgery charge in connection with $180 in worthless checks he passed last spring.

The forgery indictment, returned against him in Queens a short time after he began serving the federal term for possession of counterfeit bills, blocked any possibility of a parole and made him an odds-on favorite to get another ten years behind bars.

But Mione's 32-year-old wife, Lea, an attractive redhead from Temple, Texas, elected to stick by the father of her young son and twin daughters. They had been estranged and she had returned to her family in Texas, but she felt she had to do something to help.

Arriving in New York in July with Stephen, 5, and Trudy and Judy, now 2, Lea took a job managing a store in New Jersey and began saving every cent she could. Although she made only $50 a week and could barely make ends meet, she managed to save enough to make good the bad checks and to hire an attorney for her husband.

When Judge Farrell heard the story of the wife's fight to help her husband, however, he decided to trade his judicial robes on a Santa Claus suit.

"I am going to give you another chance," he told Mione. "I am going to suspend sentence, but I want to make it clear that if you paroled you are to behave yourself and avoid future trouble. And by that I mean trouble with your wife, too. Try to be a good husband and provider for your children. I want you to start life anew."

"Thank you, your honor," Mione said, tears brimming in his eyes. "Thanks a million."

Mrs. Mione, who said there is a job waiting for her husband in Texas as soon as he's released, told newsmen she intends to go to Washington immediately to urge the parole board to take speedy action.

Forger Is Offered Freedom In Return For Resolution

NEW YORK—(INS)—A young Brooklyn father, sentenced last June to a year and a day in Danbury penitentiary, was offered his freedom as a Christmas present—in return for a New Year's resolution to return to his wife and three children and go straight.

This unusual gift was offered to Nicholas Mione, 30, when he appeared before Queens County Judge Farrell for sentencing on a second degree forgery charge in connection with $180 in worthless checks he passed last spring.

The forgery indictment, returned against him in Queens a short time after he began serving the federal term for possession of counterfeit bills, blocked any possibility of a parole and made him an odds-on favorite to get another ten years behind bars.

But Mione's 32-year-old wife, Lea, an attractive redhead from Temple, Texas, elected to stick by the father of her young son and twin daughters. They had been estranged and she had returned to her family in Texas, but she felt she had to do something to help.

Arriving in New York in July with Stephen, 5, and Trudy and Judy, now 2, Lea took a job managing a store in New Jersey and began saving every cent she could. Although she made only $50 a week and could barely make ends meet, she managed to save enough to make good the bad checks and to hire an attorney for her husband.

When Judge Farrell heard the story of the wife's fight to help her husband, however, he decided to trade his judicial robes on a Santa Claus suit.

"I am going to give you another chance," he told Mione. "I am going to suspend sentence, but I want to make it clear that if you paroled you are to behave yourself and avoid future trouble. And by that I mean trouble with your wife, too. Try to be a good husband and provider for your children. I want you to start life anew."

"Thank you, your honor," Mione said, tears brimming in his eyes. "Thanks a million."

Mrs. Mione, who said there is a job waiting for her husband in Texas as soon as he's released, told newsmen she intends to go to Washington immediately to urge the parole board to take speedy action.

Eleanor Day's Famous Hollywood Bread

CHRISTMAS DRESSING RECIPE

Yuletide! . . . Christmas! . . . the glorious season of rejoicing . . . of reunions . . . of specially prepared dinners.

Hollywood Bread lends distinctive grace to these memorable occasions. Poultry stuffings made with Hollywood Bread are truly superb. Try Eleanor Day's famous Christmas Dressing recipe.

Melt in a frying pan, two or three tablespoons of fat; add one tablespoon chopped onion, and saute until tender.

Add one cup Hollywood Bread crumbs, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon each of sage, chopped celery, and parsley . . . and mix well.

Add one egg, slightly beaten, and mix well.

Then add one to two tablespoons of stock made off of the giblets.

Chopped walnuts, chestnuts or mushrooms may also be added.

This makes a loose, savory, light poultry stuffing.

Twenty Inductees Get Draft Call For New Year

The first induction call for 1951 was received yesterday by Allegany county draft boards.

Twenty men will leave Queen City Station January 3 at 5:55 a. m. for Martinsburg, W. Va. They will be assigned military posts after being processed there.

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk co-ordinator here, said Board No. 27 will send seven draftees with three going from Board No. 28 and four from Board No. 29. Frostburg Board No. 30 received orders for six men. The inductees are:

Board 27—Lloyd Robert Norris, 301 Pennsylvania Avenue; Raymond Ellsworth Casteel, 165 Bedford Street, formerly of 107 Offutt Street; Robert Roy Bloss, Route 4; Charles Humbird Sommerkamp of West Avenue, Newport News, Va., formerly of 4 New Hampshire Avenue; William David Breighner, 902 Lafayette Avenue; John Edwards Emerick, Route 4, and Paul Ray Mencer, 202 Springdale Street. Norris was born in 1926 and the others were born in 1928.

Board 28—Donald Roy Sanders, 400 Hill Street, born in 1926, and Thomas Carl Lindner and Robert Leslie Donahue, both of Route 3, Bedford Road. The latter two are 22 years old.

Board 29—Russell Gordon Snyder, Cresaptown; Harland Russell Moon, Route 6; Francis Louis Werner, Jr., 18 North Chase Street, and Clarence William Gorsuch, 130 Paca Street. All were born in 1928.

Board 30—Charles R. Himmler, Westernport; John Sweene, Jr., Zihlman; Andrew J. Bugosh, Klondike; Alexander Gowans, Lonaconing, and William R. Myers and George L. McCulloh, both of Frostburg.

Worthy Persons Here Get $100 Shopping Money In A Jiffy

With the Holiday Season here, many persons are taking advantage of a new "Shopping Money Plan" now offered by Aetna Finance Company.

Those wanting $100 or more immediate cash for shopping needs get the money quickly and easily, usually on name only.

Larger amounts over $100 are also available to pay past bills or consolidate debts and reduce payments. The Company is known for its liberal policy and friendly courteous service.

Worthy persons wishing to get $100 at once for shopping, simply stop in at the Aetna office, 7 North Liberty, opposite Ft. Cumberland Hotel. Frank J. Shea is manager. —Adv.

Auction Of Lots Planned Saturday

Tax Collector W. A. Strother will sell property at public auction for delinquent taxes at 10 a. m. Saturday on the Court House steps but it will not be a case of making someone homeless just two days before Christmas.

The property to be sold is just several vacant lots in the Goethe Street addition on the East Side.

Lebanon Heads To Take Office Today

Officers of Algonquin Forest No. 140, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, will be installed today at 8 p. m. in the Moose Home.

Officiating will be two Maryland officers, both from Baltimore, Senior Deputy Supreme Tall Cedar John F. McFaul and William D. Senger, district deputy for Algonquin Forest.

The new staff is comprised of Erich M. Scherch, grand tall cedar; Neil Toey, senior deputy grand tall cedar; Robert K. Smith, junior deputy grand tall cedar; John B. Koontz, scribe.

James R. Hatfield, Dr. Richard J. Williams and Myers G. Light, trustees; Jesse A. Hoover, treasurer; Rev. Lee H. Sheaffer, chaplain, and George H. Winters, preceptor.

Louis XVI of France had a cannon which was fired each day at noon by the sun's rays shinning through a magnifying glass.

Eleanor Day's Famous Hollywood Bread

CHRISTMAS DRESSING RECIPE

Yuletide! . . . Christmas! . . . the glorious season of rejoicing . . . of reunions . . . of specially prepared dinners.

Hollywood Bread lends distinctive grace to these memorable occasions. Poultry stuffings made with Hollywood Bread are truly superb. Try Eleanor Day's famous Christmas Dressing recipe.

Melt in a frying pan, two or three tablespoons of fat; add one tablespoon chopped onion, and saute until tender.

Add one cup Hollywood Bread crumbs, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon each of sage, chopped celery, and parsley . . . and mix well.

Add one egg, slightly beaten, and mix well.

Then add one to two tablespoons of stock made off of the giblets.

Chopped walnuts, chestnuts or mushrooms may also be added.

This makes a loose, savory, light poultry stuffing.

Hollywood Bread is baked without shortening. Buy a loaf, today!

Yule Home Lighting Contest To Be Judged December 27

Six prizes will be awarded in the Christmas home lighting contest sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, Jack Price, chairman of the contest committee, announced yesterday.

The Potomac Edison Company will award first prizes in each of the three regions, and the Jaycees will award $5 cash prizes to the runnersup in each section.

It is not necessary to formally enter the contest, Price added, but persons living in remote sections in order to make certain that their homes are not missed by the judges should send a card to the Junior Association of Commerce office, Room 514 Liberty Trust Building, to assure judging.

All homes and yards illuminated between 7 p. m. and midnight Wednesday, December 27, will be judged, Price said. One business place in each of the three regions will also be commended.

Region One covers all of the west side of Cumberland, Route 220 to Cresaptown, Winchester Road to Allegany Grove, all of LaVale, Narrow's Park and the Cerriganville and Ellerslie sections.

Region Two includes Cumberland east of Wills Creeks, Route 220 to State Line, Route 40 to the Pleasant Valley Road, and the morth side of Williams Street and Williams Road to a point three miles from City Hall.

Region Three covers the south side of Williams Street and Williams Road (three-mile limit), Oldtown Road to North Branch and all sections of the South End bounded by the Potomac River.

Scientists say there are no two pairs of ears alike.

Over 250 Attend Yule Program At Oldtown

Despite a temperature of two below zero, over 250 people attended Oldtown PTA meeting Tuesday night to see the first graders under Miss Mabel Twigg and Miss Nellie Nixon present skits learned in class.

Christmas carols were sung and Santa Claus gave candy, fruit, and nuts to the children.

George Deffinbaugh, the school janitor was presented boxes of cigars as a yuletide gift.

Mrs. Edgar Matthews, treasurer, reported the sum of $200 in the treasury.

Fifteen new members joined the association at the meeting, according to Thelma Nixon, membership chairman.

The banner to the room having the most parents present was awarded to Miss Mabel Twigg's room.

Mrs. William Slider was named program chairman for January.

Yule Home Lighting Contest To Be Judged December 27

Six prizes will be awarded in the Christmas home lighting contest sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, Jack Price, chairman of the contest committee, announced yesterday.

The Potomac Edison Company will award first prizes in each of the three regions, and the Jaycees will award $5 cash prizes to the runnersup in each section.

It is not necessary to formally enter the contest, Price added, but persons living in remote sections in order to make certain that their homes are not missed by the judges should send a card to the Junior Association of Commerce office, Room 514 Liberty Trust Building, to assure judging.

All homes and yards illuminated between 7 p. m. and midnight Wednesday, December 27, will be judged, Price said. One business place in each of the three regions will also be commended.

Region One covers all of the west side of Cumberland, Route 220 to Cresaptown, Winchester Road to Allegany Grove, all of LaVale, Narrow's Park and the Corriganville and Ellerslie sections.

Region Two includes Cumberland east of Wills Creeks, Route 220 to State Line, Route 40 to the Pleasant Valley Road, and the morth side of Williams Street and Williams Road to a point three miles from City Hall.

Region Three covers the south side of Williams Street and Williams Road (three-mile limit), Oldtown Road to North Branch and all sections of the South End bounded by the Potomac River.

Scientists say there are no two pairs of ears alike.

Over 250 Attend Yule Program At Oldtown

Despite a temperature of two below zero, over 250 people attended Oldtown PTA meeting Tuesday night to see the first graders under Miss Mabel Twigg and Miss Nellie Nixon present skits learned in class.

Christmas carols were sung and Santa Claus gave candy, fruit, and nuts to the children.

George Deffinbaugh, the school janitor was presented boxes of cigars as a yuletide gift.

Mrs. Edgar Matthews, treasurer, reported the sum of $200 in the treasury.

Fifteen new members joined the association at the meeting, according to Thelma Nixon, membership chairman.

The banner to the room having the most parents present was awarded to Miss Mabel Twigg's room.

Mrs. William Slider was named program chairman for January.

Herodotus, Greek historian, writes that in the time of the Babylonian king, some cities were made to contribute food for the royal dogs instead of paying regular taxes.

Brazil Nut Candies Extend Holiday Welcome Message

Chocolate Brazil Nut Fudge

2 cups sugar
⅔ cup milk
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped Brazil nuts

Combine first 4 ingredients in saucepan, place over low heat. Stir constantly until sugar is dissolved. Cook stirring occasionally until small amount of the mixture dropped in cold water forms a soft ball, or until candy thermometer reaches 238 degrees F. Remove from heat; add butter, do not stir. Cool until luke warm, or until candy thermometer reaches 110 degrees F. Add vanilla; beat until mixture begins to lose its gloss. Quickly stir in Brazil nuts. Turn into a greased 8x8x2-inch square pan. Lightly mark off squares; press Brazil nut slice into center of each square. Cool, cut into squares.

Yield: Approximately 1¼ pounds.

Make It A White Christmas Cake

Snow or shine, yours will be a white Christmas when you serve this velvety, white cake with its snowy icing. A beautiful sight, it's festive and light, and straight from a winter wonderland. And it's the perfect answer for dessert for Christmas dinner or for the holiday parties that call for dessert and coffee. Then too, it's ideal for holiday giving. Why not fill the gift cake box with this delicious cake — something for the entire family.

Most families agree that the holidays just aren't complete without "something for the sweet tooth." Cake and coffee or punch make a holiday open house a special occasion.

For this feathery, moist cake use either butter or margarine. The same amount of either one assures you a flavorful cake. Be sure to use cake flour. Here's a tip for egg whites — have them at room temperature for quicker whipping and greater volume. You'll want to save the yolks for a custard, gold cake, or possibly salad dressing.

Holiday time is a busy time for mother, so she'll be particularly grateful for this easy-to-make, Christmasy dessert.

White Christmas Cake

½ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
3 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 egg whites

Cream butter or margarine, add sugar gradually and cream well together. Add dry ingredients that have been sifted together alternately with the milk, beginning and ending with the dry ingredients. Add the vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Electric mixer can be used up to this point with low speed when beginning to add the flour. Now with a rubber spatula or a spoon fold in the egg whites with an up and over motion. Pour batter into 2 lightly oiled 9-inch layer cake pans lined with waxed paper. Bake in 375 degrees F. oven for 20 minutes or until inserted toothpick comes out clean. Place on racks until cake is cool enough to handle. Turn out and cool before frosting.

Fluffy Frosting

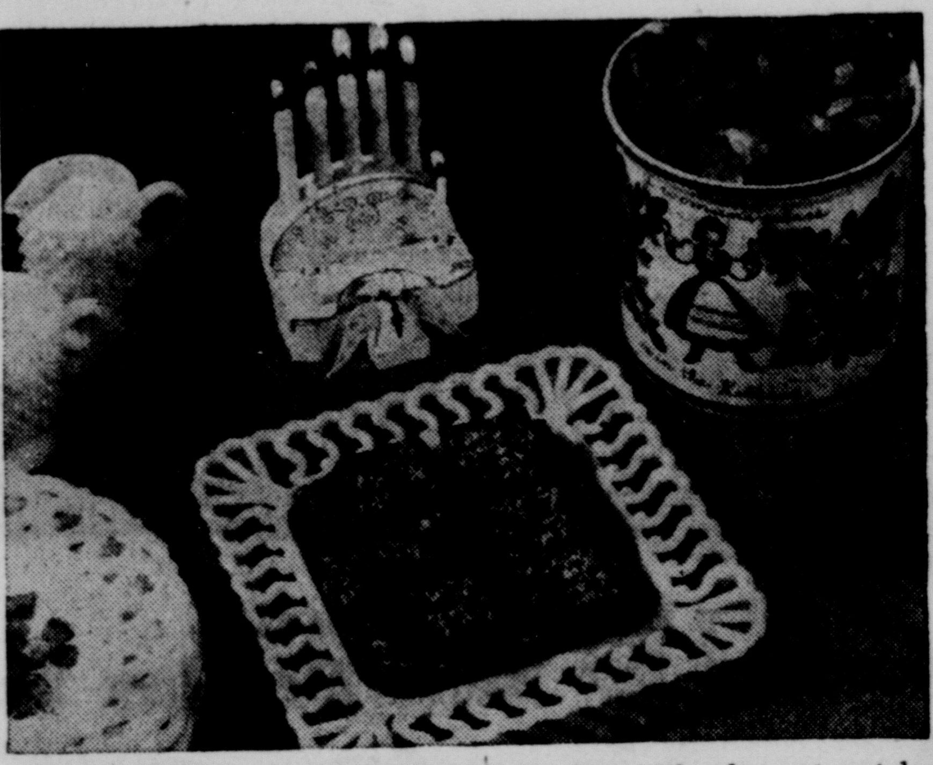
2 egg whites
1½ cups sugar
1½ teaspoons light corn syrup
⅓ cup water
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix ingredients, except vanilla, in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water, beating constantly, for seven minutes or until frosting is desired consistency. Add vanilla. Sprinkle frosted cake with shredded cocoanut.

For that extra Christmas touch, add a sprig of evergreen topped with stemmed marschino cherries.

A quick-and-easy-to-serve product, just available, is an eleven-and-one-half-ounce can with eight generous-size meat balls packed in a good-tasting spaghetti sauce. Just cook the spaghetti, add a salad, and you have a jiffy meal. Or serve the meat balls and sauce with rice.

Cereal Cookies Make Wholesome Christmas Snacks



Listen to Christmas. Hear the hearty singing of the carolers, distant ringing of the church bells, and those special laughs of happy people? Right inside your warm home, you hear another bit of Christmas "music." It's the solid plunk of the cooky jar lid coming off.

The Toffee Oat Squares are a dark brown cooky with a rich chocolate and nut topping. Oatmeal Ginger Wafers give a spicy treat. Like all cereal cookies, these wafers give an added bonus in nutrition because they're made with rolled oats.

Oatmeal Ginger Wafers

½ cup sugar
⅔ cup butter or margarine
½ cup dark corn syrup
1 egg
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon ginger
1 cup rolled oats, uncooked
½ teaspoon lemon extract

Combine sugar, butter, and syrup in saucepan and heat until melted. Cool a little and add egg, flour, salt, baking powder, ginger, rolled oats, and extract.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on well-greased cooky sheet about 5 inches apart. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from sheet with a hot wet spatula. (If cookies become crisp so that it is difficult to remove them from sheet, hold cooky sheet over pan of boiling water.) Roll around the handle of a wooden spoon, if desired, cooling with split side down. Yield: about 36 wafers.

Toffee Oat Squares

⅓ cup melted butter or margarine
2 cups rolled oats
½ cup brown sugar
¼ cup corn syrup or honey
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons vanilla
4 ounces (⅔ cup) semi-sweet chocolate (chips or pieces)
¼ cup finely chopped nuts

Pour melted butter over rolled oats, mixing thoroughly. Add brown sugar, corn syrup, salt, and vanilla; mix until combined. Pack firmly into well-greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in hot oven (425°-450° F.) about 12 minutes, or until a rich brown color. (Mixture may be bubbling.) Place on wire rack and let stand until completely cold. Loosen the edges, turn pan over and strike firmly against table top until loosened. Melt chocolate over hot water and spread on top of cookies. Sprinkle with finely chopped nuts. Chill in refrigerator until chocolate hardens. Cut in squares about 1½ inches. Yield: about 24 squares.

Pineapple Upsidedown Cake is easy to make now that there are so many good white cake mixes on the market. Just melt six tablespoons of butter in an eight-inch square pan, then sprinkle with two-thirds cup of brown sugar and arrange a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple (well drained) over the sugar. Add the cake batter and bake in a moderate oven for 50 to 60 minutes. Be sure to let the upsidedown cake stand for about 5 minutes before turning it out on your serving plate.

Renew Old-Fashioned Christmas Customs With Gifts Of Candy

Christmas is the time for giving, but gifts for friends and neighbors needn't be elaborate and costly. The old-fashioned custom of taking along a small box of homemade candy when making holiday calls is one that will be appreciated by the most modern of friends.

Let the entire family join in the candy - making work and fun. They'll enjoy every minute, from the actual preparation and cooking right down until the candy is packed into gay gift boxes and tied with bright ribbons.

Candy-making isn't difficult and it doesn't require a lot of special equipment. Most important, however, is to have a reliable candy thermometer. Sugar mixtures must be cooked to exactly the right temperatures for perfect candies.

A new candy thermometer that is easy to use and easy to clean is made of non-breakable stainless steel. It has a round, clock-like temperature fact and is fastened to the side of the cooking pan by an adjustable clamp.

Other equipment needed includes a deep saucepan, measuring cups and spoons, a large wooden spoon for beating and pans for cooling the candies.

Here is a recipe to add to the holiday favorites. It will add variety to the gift boxes and will be a popular addition to the home candy dishes, too.

Pecan Patties

1 cup white sugar; 1 cup brown sugar; ½ cup light cream; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon butter; 1 cup halves.

Mix sugars, cream and salt in saucepan and heat slowly, stirring only until the sugar is dissolved. Cook to 240 degrees F. (softball stage). Add butter and cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F.) without stirring. Add nuts and beat until slightly thickened. While mixture is still clear and glossy, drop by teaspoons onto buttered cookie sheets. If candy hardens too quickly place pan in hot water to soften. Makes about 30 small patties.

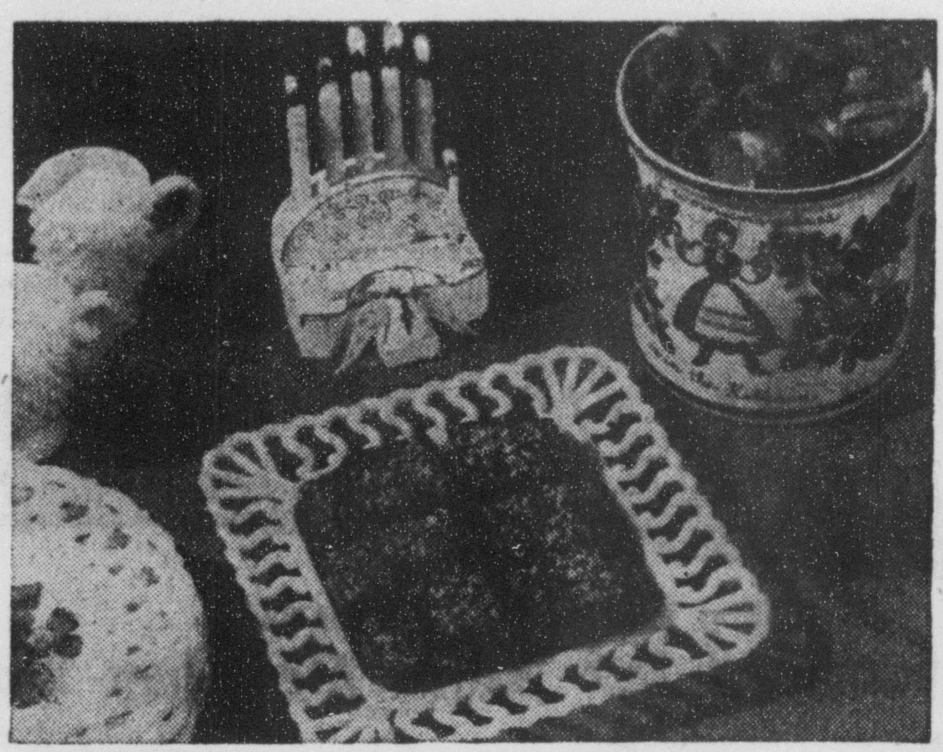
A quick-and-easy-to-serve product, just available, is an eleven-and-one-half-ounce can with eight generous-size meat balls packed in a good-tasting spaghetti sauce. Just cook the spaghetti, add a salad, and you have a jiffy meal. Or serve the meat balls and sauce with rice.

Cereal Cookies Make Wholesome Christmas Snacks



Listen to Christmas. Hear the hearty singing of the carolers, distant ringing of the church bells, and those special laughs of happy people? Right inside your warm home, you hear another bit of Christmas "music." It's the solid plunk of the cooky jar lid coming off.

The Toffee Oat Squares are a dark brown cooky with a rich chocolate and nut topping. Oatmeal Ginger Wafers give a spicy treat. Like all cereal cookies, these wafers give an added bonus in nutrition because they're made with rolled oats.

Oatmeal Ginger Wafers

- ½ cup sugar
- ⅔ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup dark corn syrup
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1 cup rolled oats, uncooked
- ½ teaspoon lemon extract

Combine sugar, butter, and syrup in saucepan and heat until melted. Cool a little and add egg, flour, salt, baking powder, ginger, rolled oats, and extract.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on well-greased cooky sheet about 5 inches apart. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from sheet with a hot wet spatula. (If cookies become crisp so that it is difficult to remove them from sheet, hold cooky sheet over pan of boiling water.) Roll around the handle of a wooden spoon, if desired, cooling with split side down. Yield: about 36 wafers.

Toffee Oat Squares

- ⅓ cup melted butter or margarine
- 2 cups rolled oats
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup corn syrup or honey
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoons vanilla
- 4 ounces (⅔ cup) semi-sweet chocolate (chips or pieces)
- ¼ cup finely chopped nuts

Pour melted butter over rolled oats, mixing thoroughly. Add brown sugar, corn syrup, salt, and vanilla; mix until combined. Pack firmly into well-greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in hot oven (425°-450° F.) about 12 minutes, or until a rich brown color. (Mixture may be bubbling.) Place on wire rack and let stand until completely cold. Loosen the edges, turn pan over and strike firmly against table top until loosened. Melt chocolate over hot water and spread on top of cookies. Sprinkle with finely chopped nuts. Chill in refrigerator until chocolate hardens. Cut in squares about 1½ inches. Yield: about 24 squares.

Pineapple Upsidedown Cake is easy to make now that there are so many good white cake mixes on the market. Just melt six tablespoons of butter in an eight-inch square pan, then sprinkle with two-thirds cup of brown sugar and arrange a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple (well drained) over the sugar. Add the cake batter and bake in a moderate oven for 50 to 60 minutes. Be sure to let the upsidedown cake stand for about 5 minutes before turning it out on your serving plate.

Renew Old-Fashioned Christmas Customs With Gifts Of Candy

Christmas is the time for giving, but gifts for friends and neighbors needn't be elaborate and costly. The old-fashioned custom of taking along a small box of homemade candy when making holiday calls is one that will be appreciated by the most modern of friends.

Let the entire family join in the candy-making work and fun. They'll enjoy every minute, from the actual preparation and cooking right down until the candy is packed into gay gift boxes and tied with bright ribbons.

Candy-making isn't difficult and it doesn't require a lot of special equipment. Most important, however, is to have a reliable candy thermometer. Sugar mixtures must be cooked to exactly the right temperatures for perfect candies.

A new candy thermometer that is easy to use and easy to clean is made of non-breakable stainless steel. It has a round, clock-like temperature fact and is fastened to the side of the cooking pan by an adjustable clamp.

Other equipment needed includes a deep saucpan, measuring cups and spoons, a large wooden spoon for beating and pans for cooling the candies.

Here is a recipe to add to the holiday favorites. It will add variety to the gift boxes and will be a popular addition to the home candy dishes, too.

Pecan Patties

1 cup white sugar; 1 cup brown sugar; ½ cup light cream; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon butter; 1 cup halves.

Mix sugars, cream and salt in saucepan and heat slowly, stirring only until the sugar is dissolved. Cook to 240 degrees F. (softball stage). Add butter and cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F.) without stirring. Add nuts and beat until slightly thickened. While mixture is still clear and glossy, drop by teaspoons onto buttered cookie sheets. If candy hardens too quickly place pan in hot water to soften. Makes about 30 small patties.

Brazil Nut Candies Extend Holiday Welcome Message

Chocolate Brazil Nut Fudge

2 cups sugar
⅔ cup milk
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped Brazil nuts

Combine first 4 ingredients in saucepan, place over low heat. Stir constantly until sugar is dissolved. Cook stirring occasionally until small amount of the mixture dropped in cold water forms a soft ball, or until candy thermometer reaches 238 degrees F. Remove from heat; add butter, do not stir. Cool until luke warm, or until candy thermometer reaches 110 degrees F. Add vanilla; beat until mixture begins to lose its gloss. Quickly stir in Brazil nuts. Turn into a greased 8x8x2-inch square pan. Lightly mark off squares; press Brazil nut slice into center of each square. Cool, cut into squares.

Yield: Approximately 1¼ pounds.

Make It A White Christmas Cake

Snow or shine, yours will be a white Christmas when you serve this velvety, white cake with its snowy icing. A beautiful sight, it's festive and light, and straight from a winter wonderland. And it's the perfect answer for dessert for Christmas dinner or for the holiday parties that call for dessert and coffee. Then too, it's ideal for holiday giving. Why not fill the gift cake box with this delicious cake — something for the entire family.

Most families agree that the holidays just aren't complete without "something for the sweet tooth." Cake and coffee or punch make a holiday open house a special occasion.

For this feathery, moist cake use either butter or margarine. The same amount of either one assures you a flavorful cake. Be sure to use cake flour. Here's a tip for egg whites — have them at room temperature for quicker whipping and greater volume. You'll want to save the yolks for a custard, gold cake, or possibly salad dressing.

Holiday time is a busy time for mother, so she'll be particularly grateful for this easy-to-make, Christmasy dessert.

White Christmas Cake

½ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
3 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 egg whites

Cream butter or margarine, add sugar gradually and cream well together. Add dry ingredients that have been sifted together alternately with the milk, beginning and ending with the dry ingredients. Add the vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Electric mixer can be used up to this point with low speed when beginning to add the flour. Now with a rubber spatula or a spoon fold in the egg whites with an up and over motion. Pour batter into 2 lightly oiled 9-inch layer cake pans lined with waxed paper. Bake in 375 degrees F. oven for 20 minutes or until inserted toothpick comes out clean. Place on racks until cake is cool enough to handle. Turn out and cool before frosting.

Fluffy Frosting

2 egg whites
1½ cups sugar
1½ teaspoons light corn syrup
⅓ cup water
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix ingredients, except vanilla, in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water, beating constantly, for seven minutes or until frosting is desired consistency. Add vanilla. Sprinkle frosted cake with shredded cocoanut.

For that extra Christmas touch, add a sprig of evergreen topped with stemmed marschino cherries.

A quick-and-easy-to-serve product, just available, is an eleven-and-one-half-ounce can with eight generous-size meat balls packed in a good-tasting spaghetti sauce. Just cook the spaghetti, add a salad, and you have a jiffy meal. Or serve the meat balls and sauce with rice.

Oatmeal Ginger Wafers

½ cup sugar
⅔ cup butter or margarine
½ cup dark corn syrup
1 egg
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon ginger
1 cup rolled oats, uncooked
½ teaspoon lemon extract

Combine sugar, butter, and syrup in saucepan and heat until melted. Cool a little and add egg, flour, salt, baking powder, ginger, rolled oats, and extract.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on well-greased cooky sheet about 5 inches apart. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from sheet with a hot wet spatula. (If cookies become crisp so that it is difficult to remove them from sheet, hold cooky sheet over pan of boiling water.) Roll around the handle of a wooden spoon, if desired, cooling with split side down. Yield: about 36 wafers.

Toffee Oat Squares

⅓ cup melted butter or margarine
2 cups rolled oats
½ cup brown sugar
¼ cup corn syrup or honey
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons vanilla
4 ounces (⅔ cup) semi-sweet chocolate (chips or pieces)
¼ cup finely chopped nuts

Pour melted butter over rolled oats, mixing thoroughly. Add brown sugar, corn syrup, salt, and vanilla; mix until combined. Pack firmly into well-greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in hot oven (425°-450° F.) about 12 minutes, or until a rich brown color. (Mixture may be bubbling.) Place on wire rack and let stand until completely cold. Loosen the edges, turn pan over and strike firmly against table top until loosened. Melt chocolate over hot water and spread on top of cookies. Sprinkle with finely chopped nuts. Chill in refrigerator until chocolate hardens. Cut in squares about 1½ inches. Yield: about 24 squares.

Pineapple Upsidedown Cake is easy to make now that there are so many good white cake mixes on the market. Just melt six tablespoons of butter in an eight-inch square pan, then sprinkle with two-thirds cup of brown sugar and arrange a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple (well drained) over the sugar. Add the cake batter and bake in a moderate oven for 50 to 60 minutes. Be sure to let the upsidedown cake stand for about 5 minutes before turning it out on your serving plate.

TRIANGLE FOOD STORES

EASY as 1-2-3, and with only three ingredients, appears a dessert cake with a fudge-rich chocolate frosting. Packaged cake mix solves the speed of the cake's production. Sweetened condensed milk and semi-sweet chocolate produce the wonderful icing that is ready in minutes. See recipe elsewhere on this page.

Condensed Milk Produces Many Delicious Desserts

Canned condensed milk calls for little cooking when used for frostings and as an ingredient in lemon pie, cookies and candies. Fifty to sixty percent of the water has been evaporated from whole milk. Then too, it is already sweetened. The creamy, smooth frosting is about the quickest chocolate wonder you can produce. Semi-sweet chocolate is heated in the condensed milk until it melts, and that's the entire production.

Quick Chocolate Frosting

9 ounces semi-sweet chocolate
⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
1 tablespoon water

Melt chocolate over boiling water. Add sweetened condensed milk and water; stir until smooth. YIELD: Frosting for one 8 or 9 inch square cake.

Holiday Hospitality

Holidays mean hospitality — with with trimmings. When Christmas callers drop in, it's one of the joys of the season to turn every call into a party.

And a party it is, when you bring on an array of gaily decorated cakes —each as pretty as a Christmas tree ornament—reminiscent of the delightful pastry tray.

You can turn out these delectable tidbits with a minimum of fuss if you bake whole layer cakes and cut them in squares and diamonds. Two basic cakes for Christmas - time—Chocolate Peppermint and Old Fashioned White, are suggested.

You can put the layers together with frosting first, then cut them up and frost them all over, or you can cut single layers for smaller-sized goodies. The taste is in the cake — the effect in the decorating. That's where you let your imagination cut loose.

Made up small batches of different frostings and to have at hand a pastry bag and some vegetable colorings. Frost each cake piece on top and sides, and once the frosting is set, you can have the fun of trimming.

Decorating with a pastry bag is a fascinating fun. And don't forget that candied fruit and crushed peppermint candy make delicious toppings—as do chopped nuts.

And now for the cake recipe, both of which make two deep 9-inch layers:

Chocolate Peppermint Cake:

Measure into a mixing bowl: 2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 cups sugar; ½cup shortening; 1 teaspoon salt; 3 squares melted chocolate; ¾ cup milk.

Blend thoroughly by hand or mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. Stir in: ½teaspoon baking powder and 1½ teaspoons soda. Add: ½ cup milk; 3 eggs; ¼ teaspoon peppermint extract.

Blend by hand or mixed (medium speed) for two minutes. Pour this batter into two deep 9-inch pans (1-½ inches deep) which have been rubbed with shortening and lined with heavy waxed paper. If smaller pans are used, fill them half full and bake the remaining batter in cup cake pans, for still another variation. Bake in moderate oven (350 degree F.) for 35 to 40 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool before frosting.

Old Fashioned White Cake:

Measure into mixing bowl: 2½ cups sifted cake flour; 1-⅜ cups sugar; 1 teaspoon salt; ⅔ cup shortening; ¾ cup milk. Blend throughly by hand or mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. Stir in: 4½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; (with tartrate type, use 5½ teaspoons). Add: 5 egg whites; ½ cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Blend by hand or mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. Pour batter into two deep 9-inch layer pans (1½ inches deep) which have been rubbed with shortening and lined with heavy waxed paper. (If smaller pans are used, fill half full and bake remaining batter in cup cake pans.) Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 35 to 40 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool before frosting.

If you want a really creamy frosting, try one made with cream cheese. Leave a three-ounce package of cream cheese out of the refrigerator to soften, then blend it with three tablespoons of light cream, adding one tablespoon at a time. Blend in gradually two-and-one-half to three cups of sifted confectioners' sugar and two square (two ounces) of unsweetened chocolate. Beat until smooth with an eighth teaspoon of salt.

When friends come over for a snack after a football game, serve individual chicken pies (made ahead and ready to be reheated), a bit salad, and lots of coffee. Dessert can be cold crisp Delicious apples and a snappy cheese.

A new cake server, recently on the market, has a long stainless steel blade with one edge serrated so you can cut cakes and have their texture remain as fluffy as possible. The attractive handle of the server is of durable molded hard rubber.

Oyster Stew

Good oyster stew is a natural for Christmas eve company. It's easy to fix, too — something that's important with all the cooking activities ahead next day.

Oyster stew should be so hot you have to let the first spoonful cool a bit. It should be rich — golden butter floating on the top. It should be full of plump oysters cooked just right—edges curled, centers tender.

Here's the recipe: First combine 2 tablespoons of flour, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and 2 tablespoons water. Blend to a smooth paste. Stir this into one pint of oysters and their liquid. The small amount of flour is one of the secrets of the stew's perfection.

Now simmer the oysters over very low heat till edges curl. Pour them into one quart of scalded milk. Remove this pan from heat—cover it —and let stand for 15 minutes. This improves the flavor. For extra richness and goodness add half a stick of butter. To serve reheat briefly. When it's hot, dash with paprika.

This is soup to make a meal. All you need with it is a basket of oyster crackers and a dish of cold, crisp relishes.

Add a little curry powder to a can of baked beans when you are heating them. These taste good served over hamburgers on toasted buns.

Add a handful of washed drained raisins to thinly shredded red cabbage that has been moistened with dressing. Serve in lettuce cups in individual wooden salad bowls.

How To Make Hot Cheese Rolls

1 pkge. Duff's Hot Roll Mix
1 cup lukewarm water
½ cup grated American cheese

Blend grated cheese with contents of large package. Mix water with yeast in small envelope, following directions and add to cheese mixture to form dough. Cover and allow to rise in warm place until double in bulk. Shape into rolls and place in greased oven pans. Cover and allow to rise until double. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10-15 minutes. Serve hot with butter or margarine.

EASY as 1-2-3, and with only three ingredients, appears a dessert cake with a fudge-rich chocolate frosting. Packaged cake mix solves the speed of the cake's production. Sweetened condensed milk and semi-sweet chocolate produce the wonderful icing that is ready in minutes. See recipe elsewhere on this page.

Condensed Milk Produces Many Delicious Desserts

Canned condensed milk calls for little cooking when used for frostings and as an ingredient in lemon pie, cookies and candies. Fifty to sixty percent of the water has been evaporated from whole milk. Then too, it is already sweetened. The creamy, smooth frosting is about the quickest chocolate wonder you can produce. Semi-sweet chocolate is heated in the condensed milk until it melts, and that's the entire production.

Quick Chocolate Frosting

9 ounces semi-sweet chocolate
⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
1 tablespoon water

Melt chocolate over boiling water. Add sweetened condensed milk and water; stir until smooth. YIELD: Frosting for one 8 or 9 inch square cake.

Holiday Hospitality

Holidays mean hospitality — with with trimmings. When Christmas callers drop in, it's one of the joys of the season to turn every call into a party.

And a party it is, when you bring on an array of gaily decorated cakes—each as pretty as a Christmas tree ornament—reminiscent of the delightful pastry tray.

You can turn out these delectable tidbits with a minimum of fuss if you bake whole layer cakes and cut them in squares and diamonds. Two basic cakes for Christmas - time—Chocolate Peppermint and Old Fashioned White, are suggested.

You can put the layers together with frosting first, then cut them up and frost them all over, or you can cut single layers for smaller-sized goodies. The taste is in the cake — the effect in the decorating. That's where you let your imagination cut loose.

Made up small batches of different frostings and to have at hand a pastry bag and some vegetable colorings. Frost each cake piece on top and sides, and once the frosting is set, you can have the fun of trimming.

Decorating with a pastry bag is a fascinating fun. And don't forget that candied fruit and crushed peppermint candy make delicious toppings—as do chopped nuts.

And now for the cake recipe, both of which make two deep 9-inch layers:

Chocolate Peppermint Cake:

Measure into a mixing bowl: 2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 cups sugar; ½cup shortening; 1 teaspoon salt; 3 squares melted chocolate; ¾ cup milk.

Blend thoroughly by hand or mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. Stir in: ½teaspoon baking powder and 1½ teaspoons soda. Add: ½ cup milk; 3 eggs; ¼ teaspoon peppermint extract.

Blend by hand or mixed (medium speed) for two minutes. Pour this batter into two deep 9-inch pans (1-½ inches deep) which have been rubbed with shortening and lined with heavy waxed paper. If smaller pans are used, fill them half full and bake the remaining batter in cup cake pans, for still another variation. Bake in moderate oven (350 degree F.) for 35 to 40 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool before frosting.

Old Fashioned White Cake:

Measure into mixing bowl: 2½ cups sifted cake flour; 1-⅜ cups sugar; 1 teaspoon salt; ⅔ cup shortening; ¾ cup milk. Blend thoroughly by hand or mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. Stir in: 4½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; (with tartrate type, use 5½ teaspoons). Add: 5 egg whites; ½ cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Blend by hand or mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. Pour batter into two deep 9-inch layer pans (1½ inches deep) which have been rubbed with shortening and lined with heavy waxed paper. (If smaller pans are used, fill half full and bake remaining batter in cup cake pans.) Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 35 to 40 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool before frosting.

If you want a really creamy frosting, try one made with cream cheese. Leave a three-ounce package of cream cheese out of the refrigerator to soften, then blend it with three tablespoons of light cream, adding one tablespoon at a time. Blend in gradually two-and-one-half to three cups of sifted confectioners' sugar and two square (two ounces) of unsweetened chocolate. Beat until smooth with an eighth teaspoon of salt.

When friends come over for a snack after a football game, serve individual chicken pies (made ahead and ready to be reheated), a bit salad, and lots of coffee. Dessert can be cold crisp Delicious apples and a snappy cheese.

A new cake server, recently on the market, has a long stainless steel blade with one edge serrated so you can cut cakes and have their texture remain as fluffy as possible. The attractive handle of the server is of durable molded hard rubber.

LORD CALVERT
COFFEE

FUSSY ABOUT COFFEE?
This fine coffee pleases every taste. It goes far, too, because you need little per cup.

Oyster Stew

Good oyster stew is a natural for Christmas eve company. It's easy to fix, too — something that's important with all the cooking activities ahead next day.

Oyster stew should be so hot you have to let the first spoonful cool a bit. It should be rich — golden butter floating on the top. It should be full of plump oysters cooked just right—edges curled, centers tender.

Here's the recipe: First combine 2 tablespoons of flour, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and 2 tablespoons water. Blend to a smooth paste. Stir this into one pint of oysters and their liquid. The small amount of flour is one of the secrets of the stew's perfection.

Now simmer the oysters over very low heat till edges curl. Pour them into one quart of scalded milk. Remove this pan from heat—cover it —and let stand for 15 minutes. This improves the flavor. For extra richness and goodness add half a stick of butter. To serve reheat briefly. When it's hot, dash with paprika.

This is soup to make a meal. All you need with it is a basket of oyster crackers and a dish of cold, crisp relishes.

Add a little curry powder to a can of baked beans when you are heating them. These taste good served over hamburgers on toasted buns.

Add a handful of washed drained raisins to thinly shredded red cabbage that has been moistened with dressing. Serve in lettuce cups in individual wooden salad bowls.

Ridgeley Legion Plans New Home

The location of the new home of Knobley Mountain Post, American Legion, has been changed, post official announced yesterday.

The ground has been broken for the structure on a lot purchased by the post on Second Avenue.

The building had been previously planned on property owned by the Legion on Blocher Street, but members felt the structure should be placed in a more central location. The new site is opposite the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club home.

Plans call for a one-story building of concrete block and brick estimated to cost about $25,000. A second story will be added later.

It will have a built-up roof and modern front and will contain an assembly hall, lounge, social rooms, office and a modern kitchen to be furnished and operated by the Auxiliary Unit of the post.

The contractor is W. A. McKenna, of Cumberland.

Cloves are the dried, unexpanded flower buds of a tree.

George S. Filler Again Heads Fire Unit

The Paw Paw, W. Va., Volunteer Fire Company has elected officers for 1951, with George S. Filler reelected to serve his 12th term.

Others chosen include, Thomas A. Kerns, vice president; J. D. Kifer, financial secretary; John Kesler, corresponding secretary; E. H. Gross, treasurer; L. P. Hardy, fire chief; R. A. Portmess, first assistant; Boyd Gordon, second assistant and Edward Ryan, third assistant chief; Edward Youngblood, captain; James Robertson, first lieutenant; Alpha Graham, sergeant at arms; J. D. Duvall, chaplain; R. C. Fawver and O. B. Clem, executive committee; and B. M. Holliday, C. L. Gordon and Don Sharp, board of governors.

Following the election the company's annual Christmas party was held. On Monday, the company distributed treats to 350 children of the community.

Not Much Difference

ROANOKE, Va., Dec. 21 (AP)—One can't be too sure these days.

The latest puzzler for City Manager Arthur S. Owens is a query from a Philadelphia woman wanting to move to Roanoke. She asked if the city is safe from atomic bombing.

Owens' reply: Roanoke is as safe as anywhere else.

The chief home of Asiatic cholera is India.

Firemen To Install Officers January 8

Officers for 1951 of the Bedford Road Volunteer Fire Company will be installed Monday evening, January 8.

They are: W. Earle Lawyer, president; John Rodecap, vice president; Wayne Brady, recording secretary; Lee Morriss, assistant secretary; Jack Mayo, finanical secretary; Arthur Eshelman, treasurer; G. Walter Frantz, trustee, and Robert Adams, fire chief.

The central building of the capitol at Richmond, Va., was designed by Thomas Jefferson and begun in 1785.

One pound of saccaharin will sweeten about 30,000 cups of coffee.

Ridgeley Legion Plans New Home

The location of the new home of Knobley Mountain Post, American Legion, has been changed, post official announced yesterday.

The ground has been broken for the structure on a lot purchased by the post on Second Avenue.

The building had been previously planned on property owned by the Legion on Blocher Street, but members felt the structure should be placed in a more central location. The new site is opposite the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club home.

Plans call for a one-story building of concrete block and brick estimated to cost about $25,000. A second story will be added later.

It will have a built-up roof and modern front and will contain an assembly hall, lounge, social rooms, office and a modern kitchen to be furnished and operated by the Auxiliary Unit of the post.

The contractor is W. A. McKenna, of Cumberland.

Cloves are the dried, unexpanded flower buds of a tree.

George S. Filler Again Heads Fire Unit

The Paw Paw, W. Va., Volunteer Fire Company has elected officers for 1951, with George S. Filler re-elected to serve his 12th term.

Others chosen include, Thomas A. Kerns, vice president; J. D. Kifer, financial secretary; John Kesler, corresponding secretary; E. H. Gross, treasurer; L. P. Hardy, fire chief; R. A. Portmess, first assistant; Boyd Gordon, second assistant and Edward Ryan, third assistant chief; Edward Youngblood, captain; James Robertson, first lieutenant; Alpha Graham, sergeant at arms; J. D. Duvall, chaplain; R. C. Fawver and O. B. Clem, executive committee; and B. M. Holliday, C. L. Gordon and Don Sharp, board of governors.

Following the election the company's annual Christmas party was held. On Monday, the company distributed treats to 350 children of the community.

Not Much Difference

ROANOKE, Va., Dec. 21 (AP)—One can't be too sure these days.

The latest puzzler for City Manager Arthur S. Owens is a query from a Philadelphia woman wanting to move to Roanoke. She asked if the city is safe from atomic bombing.

Owens' reply: Roanoke is as safe as anywhere else.

The chief home of Asiatic cholera is India.

Firemen To Install Officers January 8

Officers for 1951 of the Bedford Road Volunteer Fire Company will be installed Monday evening, January 8.

They are: W. Earle Lawyer, president; John Rodecap, vice president; Wayne Brady, recording secretary; Lee Morriss, assistant secretary; Jack Mayo, finanical secretary; Arthur Eshelman, treasurer; G. Walter Frantz, trustee, and Robert Adams, fire chief.

The central building of the capitol at Richmond, Va., was designed by Thomas Jefferson and begun in 1785.

One pound of saccaharin will sweeten about 30,000 cups of coffee.

Billiard Parlor Robbed Of $167

City police reported that the Queen City Billiard Parlor, 19 North Liberty Street, was robbed of $167 early yesterday morning.

Detective Thomas J. See said entrance was gained by forcing a window leading to a lavatory in the rear of the building. A rear door was used for the escape by the thief.

According to See, a penknife taken from a drawer in the place was used to cut the lock from another drawer containing the money.

The robbery was discovered at 7:35 a. m. yesterday by "Bunny" Smith, police said, adding that the investigation is continuing. Francis Frantz operates the parlor.

A requiem mass for Charles R. Kane, 55, of 407 Fifth Street, who died Monday at Perry Point Veterans' Hospital, Perryville, Md., was celebrated yesterday in St. Mary's Catholic Church by Rev. Robert Hopkins, assistant pastor.

Military honors at the grave in St. Patrick's Cemetery were accorded by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion. Pallbearers were Joseph Fradiska, Paul Weisenmiller, Jeremiah Defibaugh, David Rennie, Lee Fuller and James Jones.

Color guards included Truman Fuller and George Zegler. The firing squad was composed of Joseph Challinor, Lawrence Lease, William Rank, William Valentine and Vernon Crable. Harry Barley sounded taps.

CASTLE SERVICE

A funeral service was held yesterday at 2:30 p. m. from the residence for William L. Castle, 84, of 127 Arch Street, retired B & O conductor who died Monday.

Rev. A. B. L. Fisher, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, officiated and interment was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were George Durrett, James Mahaney, Grafton Henry, William Henry, V. C. Liller, Ross Wolfe, and C. A. Kelley. Active pallbearers included Fred Wagner, Charles Maffley, Thomas Blacklin, James Adams, Russell Rader and Leslie Daugherty.

MILLENSON FUNERAL

A service for Lester Millenson, 56, of 110 Luteman Road, who died Monday in Memorial Hospital, was conducted yesterday at Stein's Chapel. Rabbi H. J. Wilner officiated and interment was in East View Cemetery.

Pallbearers were David Sigel, Lee Cohn, Samuel Fine, Frank Blaul, Michael Beerman, Dr. Samuel M. Jacobson, Dr. Emmett L. Jones, Dr. Harold W. Eliason and William Carskadon.

HOFFMAN BURIAL

A funeral service for Mrs. Ella Mae Hoffman, 76, formerly of 230 Spruce Street, who died in Allegany Infirmary Monday, was held yesterday at 2 p. m. from George's Funeral Home.

Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church officiated and interment was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Pallbearers were Henry Wolfe, Clarence Schaffer, Carl Schaffer, Alfred Jacopi, Norman Geatz and George Heinrich.

THOMAS M. BAREIS

Thomas M. Bareis, 50, of 525 Fayette Street, died yesterday at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Wednesday. He had been in failing health for some time.

A well known meat cutter here, Mr. Bareis was a son of Peter R. Bareis, at home, and the late Amelia Reichert Bareis who died in 1945. He had been employed by Carl D. McIntyre, grocery store operator.

Mr. Bareis held membership in Cumberland Aerie No. 245, F. O. Eagles; Tonkaway Tribe No. 120, Improved Order of Red Men, and SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

Besides his father, he leaves a sister, Miss Mary T. Bareis, and two brothers, Joseph A. and Francis L. Bareis, all at home.

The body is at the Kight Funeral Home. A requiem mass will be celebrated Saturday at 9 a. m. in SS. Peter and Paul Church. Burial will take place in the parish cemetery.

Fort Ashby Program Set

Christmas carols of all countries will be presented by the Fort Ashby Presbyterian Church in the Presbyterian Church, tomorrow evening. The program is to begin at 7:30.

Everyone is invited to attend and observe the "Christmas spirit around the world."

Saccharin is several hundred times sweeter than common sugar.

El Alamein Minefields Guard Bleached Bones Of Battle Dead

By ED POLLAK

CAIRO—(AP)—After a year and a half of effort, an Italian war graves commissioner finally has penetrated the deep minefields which have guarded some 180 dead of the El Alamein desert battle since 1942.

The sun and sand bleached bones of the Italian and British soldiers who fell on "Hill 77" lie among scattered equipment, ammunition, rust-covered guns and the carcasses of a few trucks.

"Hill 77' was the most advanced Italian position in the great North African battle of World War II, which proved to be one of the turning points of the war. It was held by a company of the division "Fologre" (lightning). On October 25, 1942, it was attacked by the British 4th Hussars, the Royal West Kent and the Green Howards.

Only seven Italians survived. The remainder of the company, including its commander, Capt. Constantino Ruspoli, prince of Poggio Suasa, died on the hill.

Count Paolo Caccia Dominioni, Italian war graves commissioner, had tried 19 times to reach "Hill 77" since May 1949. Early this month, he finally found a way through the dangerous minefields surrounding the battle area.

"The success of our latest reconnaissance was mainly due to a sketch sent to me by a Hill 77 survivor," Caccia Dominioni said in an interview. "Former Corporal Salvatore Franza (of Milan, Italy) supplied a detailed map showing the winding path through the mines."

Caccia Dominioni said he and a small party started in a jeep from the station of El Alamein, "heading south for some 20 miles. Then we drove eastward, then south again and penetrated the area from the west."

Near Deir El Munassib, Caccia Dominioni found the battle area "still intact."

"As far as I can say no living soul has reached the place since the end of the battle," he said.

In a foxhole was a skeleton, believed that of Prince Ruspoli. The Ruspolis are one of Rome's old princely families.

"Survivors told me they placed the body of their dead commandant on a stretcher in the foxhole," Caccia Dominioni related. "The skeleton we found was in the same position. Its size corresponds to that of Ruspoli, whom I knew personally. We also found the stretcher.

"Other bodies were scattered around. More are buried under the sands. We estimated their number at around 180. About 100 are British."

Caccia Dominioni said he took back the remains of nine soldiers to the El Alamein cemetery, where they were buried. "Two of them were British," he added.

Caccia Dominioni, an architect, is an Italian resident of Egypt. He commanded a shock battalion at El Alemein. After the war, he was given the job of building and supervising Italian war cemeteries at El Alamein. He also is in charge of the search for missing bodies.

Caccia Dominioni estimates he has driven more than 2,000 miles through mined terrain in the last year and a half. He is assisted by another El Adamein veteran, Renato Chiodini of Milan.

The war graves commissioner plans to return to El Alamein in an attempt to recover other bodies.

El Alamein Minefields Guard Bleached Bones Of Battle Dead

By ED POLLAK

CAIRO—(AP)—After a year and a half of effort, an Italian war graves commissioner finally has penetrated the deep minefields which have guarded some 180 dead of the El Alamein desert battle since 1942.

The sun and sand bleached bones of the Italian and British soldiers who fell on "Hill 77" lie among scattered equipment, ammunition, rust-covered guns and the carcasses of a few trucks.

"Hill 77' was the most advanced Italian position in the great North African battle of World War II, which proved to be one of the turning points of the war. It was held by a company of the division "Fologre" (lightning). On October 25, 1942, it was attacked by the British 4th Hussars, the Royal West Kent and the Green Howards.

Only seven Italians survived. The remainder of the company, including its commander, Capt. Constantino Ruspoli, prince of Poggio Suasa, died on the hill.

Count Paolo Caccia Dominioni, Italian war graves commissioner, had tried 19 times to reach "Hill 77" since May 1949. Early this month, he finally found a way through the dangerous minefields surrounding the battle area.

"The success of our latest reconnaissance was mainly due to a sketch sent to me by a Hill 77 survivor," Caccia Dominioni said in an interview. "Former Corporal Salvatore Franza (of Milan, Italy) supplied a detailed map showing the winding path through the mines."

Caccia Dominioni said he and a small party started in a jeep from the station of El Alamein, "heading south for some 20 miles. Then we drove eastward, then south again and penetrated the area from the west."

Near Deir El Munassib, Caccia Dominioni found the battle area "still intact."

"As far as I can say no living soul has reached the place since the end of the battle," he said.

In a foxhole was a skeleton, believed that of Prince Ruspoli. The Ruspolis are one of Rome's old princely families.

"Survivors told me they placed the body of their dead commandant on a stretcher in the foxhole," Caccia Dominioni related. "The skeleton we found was in the same position. Its size corresponds to that of Ruspoli, whom I knew personally. We also found the stretcher.

"Other bodies were scattered around. More are buried under the sands. We estimated their number at around 180. About 100 are British."

Caccia Dominioni said he took back the remains of nine soldiers to the El Alamein cemetery, where they were buried. "Two of them were British," he added.

Caccia Dominioni, an architect, is an Italian resident of Egypt. He commanded a shock battalion at El Alemein. After the war, he was given the job of building and supervising Italian war cemeteries at El Alamein. He also is in charge of the search for missing bodies.

Caccia Dominioni estimates he has driven more than 2,000 miles through mined terrain in the last year and a half. He is assisted by another El Adamein veteran, Renato Chiodini of Milan.

The war graves commissioner plans to return to El Alamein in an attempt to recover other bodies.

Oakland Freed In Damage Suit

The sustaining of a demurrer filed by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland by the Circuit Court of Washington County has dismissed the town from liability in two damage suits totaling $120,000, it was announced yesterday.

Arguments on the demurrer were heard last Saturday in Hagerstown by Judge Joseph D. Mish, and notice of his decision was made yesterday morning.

The remaining defendants in the suits are Howard Tasker, Ralph Pritts and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, and the trial has been set for January 22 in Hagerstown.

One suit, for $100,000, was filed by Mrs. Ruth Wright as the result of a crossing accident in Oakland, October 23, 1948, when a B. and O. train struck a car driven by Tasker and knocked it against the plaintiff who sustained injuries resulting in the amputation of a leg. Pritts was the owner of the car driven by Tasker.

The second suit, for $20,000, was filed by John Wright due to the loss of the services of his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Wirght reside in Swanton. Tasker and Pritts are residents of Oakland.

The Town of Oakland was represented at the hearing on the demurrer by Lewis R. Jones, Oakland, and Roland C. Ready, Hagerstown. The plaintiffs were represented by Walter W. Dawson and C. Neil Fraley, Oakland, and John Wagaman, Hagerstown.

There will be 150,000 graduates of engineering schools in the United States in the next four years.

The canopied bed came into use prior to the reign of Queen Elizabeth in England.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A Beacon Hill youngster was showing her family album to some Boston friends from the wrong side of Commonwealth avenue. "Isn't this one a scream?" she asked. "It's my Aunt Dorothy. She's the fattest lady who ever lived on Pinckney Street." The friend, duly impressed, said, "And who is that standing behind her?" The youngster said, "Don't be silly. That's still Aunt Dorothy."

Silas Seadler, of MGM, remarks, "Some people think a la carte means putting the d'oeuvres before the hors."

Morey Amsterdam, that somewhat different looking comedian, claims that when he was born, his mother took one look then turned on the nurse and rasped, "Stop clowning. Where's the baby?"

Oakland Freed In Damage Suit

The sustaining of a demurrer filed by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland by the Circuit Court of Washington County has dismissed the town from liability in two damage suits totaling $120,000, it was announced yesterday.

Arguments on the demurrer were heard last Saturday in Hagerstown by Judge Joseph D. Mish, and notice of his decision was made yesterday morning.

The remaining defendants in the suits are Howard Tasker, Ralph Pritts and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, and the trial has been set for January 22 in Hagerstown.

One suit, for $100,000, was filed by Mrs. Ruth Wright as the result of a crossing accident in Oakland, October 23, 1948, when a B. and O. train struck a car driven by Tasker and knocked it against the plaintiff who sustained injuries resulting in the amputation of a leg. Pritts was the owner of the car driven by Tasker.

The second suit, for $20,000, was filed by John Wright due to the loss of the services of his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Wirght reside in Swanton. Tasker and Pritts are residents of Oakland.

The Town of Oakland was represented at the hearing on the demurrer by Lewis R. Jones, Oakland, and Roland C. Ready, Hagerstown. The plaintiffs were represented by Walter W. Dawson and C. Neil Fraley, Oakland, and John Wagaman, Hagerstown.

There will be 150,000 graduates of engineering schools in the United States in the next four years.

The canopied bed came into use prior to the reign of Queen Elizabeth in England.

Oakland Freed In Damage Suit

The sustaining of a demurrer filed by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland by the Circuit Court of Washington County has dismissed the town from liability in two damage suits totaling $120,000, it was announced yesterday.

Arguments on the demurrer were heard last Saturday in Hagerstown by Judge Joseph D. Mish, and notice of his decision was made yesterday morning.

The remaining defendants in the suits are Howard Tasker, Ralph Pritts and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, and the trial has been set for January 22 in Hagerstown.

One suit, for $100,000, was filed by Mrs. Ruth Wright as the result of a crossing accident in Oakland, October 23, 1948, when a B. and O. train struck a car driven by Tasker and knocked it against the plaintiff who sustained injuries resulting in the amputation of a leg. Pritts was the owner of the car driven by Tasker.

The second suit, for $20,000, was filed by John Wright due to the loss of the services of his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Wirght reside in Swanton. Tasker and Pritts are residents of Oakland.

The Town of Oakland was represented at the hearing on the demurrer by Lewis R. Jones, Oakland, and Roland C. Ready, Hagerstown. The plaintiffs were represented by Walter W. Dawson and C. Neil Fraley, Oakland, and John Wagaman, Hagerstown.

There will be 150,000 graduates of engineering schools in the United States in the next four years.

The canopied bed came into use prior to the reign of Queen Elizabeth in England.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A Beacon Hill youngster was showing her family album to some Boston friends from the wrong side of Commonwealth avenue. "Isn't this one a scream?" she asked. "It's my Aunt Dorothy. She's the fattest lady who ever lived on Pinckney Street." The friend, duly impressed, said, "And who is that standing behind her?" The youngster said, "Don't be silly. That's still Aunt Dorothy."

Silas Seadler, of MGM, remarks, "Some people think a la carte means putting the d'oeuvres before the hors."

Morey Amsterdam, that somewhat different looking comedian, claims that when he was born, his mother took one look then turned on the nurse and rasped, "Stop clowning. Where's the baby?"

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

(Distributed By INS)

This thing will not be serious until England pages Winnie the pooh. Then Parliament will roll out the red carpet with the moth holes in it. Down the crimson path Winnie will gallop four abreast.

With his all-Havana heater stuck in his Fauntleroy kisser he will take charge like an idiot in a switch tower. He is one turnip who knows where the tracks go.

There is nothing to worry about. England always keeps the fire going until Winnie finds his axe and red hat.

•—•—•

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD
By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21—(INS)—Lauren Bacall has put her name to a contract for one picture a year at 20th on a non-exclusive deal.

"Baby" will do nothing for Darryl Zanuck, however until after she goes to Europe with Humphrey Bogart—and here is why: Bogey will co-star in "African Queen" with Katharine Hepburn for his own independent company, with Sam Spiegel producing and John Huston directing.

Just before Stewart Granger took off for Tucson to marry Jean Simmons, he was sent for by the M-G-M front office. Wondering what on earth had happened, the nervous bridegroom-to-be was told that he would play dual roles in "Scaramouche." He'll be seen as Scaramouche and also as the wicked Marquis De Maine in Sabatini's romantic novel of pre-French revolution.

Richard Montalban, supposed to be the heavy, was a little unwilling to play second fiddle—so he draws another assignment.

The lady fair who falls in love with both the good and the wicked characters played by Granger is Ava Gardner.

Granger was so excited about getting off for his wedding that he registered neither joy nor sorrow over the double work.

Roberto Rossellini is branching out ambitiously in his picture making. Besides the movies he starts in Paris after the first of the year with Ingrid Bergman, he'll be at the helm of another one, "The Lovers" in May.

For this, he wants Greta Garbo—but we'll have to see what we see about his getting her. Garbo is pretty well committed to Wald and Krasna for a picture in this country.

But, Richard Conte tells me he has been offered the male lead in "The Lovers" and he is seriously considering accepting. Lewis Milestone and Jules Dassin are associated with Rossellini in this movie.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The romance between John Agar and Patricia Medina looks serious—but I still think somehow, she and Richard Greene will kiss and make up.

Jack Warner spends Christmas in Florida with Mrs. Warner and Barbara. The William Orrs will go south with him.

Ruth Roman, who swore she'll never ride in an airplane, is helping her bridegroom, Mortimer Hall, select one.

Milton Frank and Sally Forrest, who planned to marry around Christmas, have moved the date to March. Sally has too many commitments.

While Evie and Van Johnson were in New York they saw the Clark Gables and all four went to see "Call Me Madam" and "Guys And Dolls" together. It was a great night for the fans.

After waiting a year to let the world see Faith Domergue, Howard Hughes now unveils his new star at Two New York theaters in to different pictures. Broadway gets a double voltage of Faith in "Vendetta" opening Christmas Day and "Where Danger Lives" on New Year's.

The "Red" Doffs (pappy is the well-known press agent) welcomed their first—a seven-pound boy on Wednesday.

The lone gunman who tried to hold up the Charlevals, the French acrobatic team, in a parking lot made a serious mistake. Within three seconds the Charlevals had the gunman tied in knots and knocked out. Later he was turned over to the police.

The Dan Duryeas will have a white Christmas at Lake Arrowhead and the kids are looking forward to it.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21—(INS)—Lauren Bacall has put her name to a contract for one picture a year at 20th on a non-exclusive deal.

"Baby" will do nothing for Darryl Zanuck, however until after she goes to Europe with Humphrey Bogart—and here is why: Bogey will co-star in "African Queen" with Katharine Hepburn for his own independent company, with Sam Spiegel producing and John Huston directing.

Just before Stewart Granger took off for Tucson to marry Jean Simmons, he was sent for by the M-G-M front office. Wondering what on earth had happened, the nervous bridegroom-to-be was told that he would play dual roles in "Scaramouche." He'll be seen as Scaramouche and also as the wicked Marquis De Maine in Sabatini's romantic novel of pre-French revolution.

Richard Montalban, supposed to be the heavy, was a little unwilling to play second fiddle—so he draws another assignment.

The lady fair who falls in love with both the good and the wicked characters played by Granger is Ava Gardner.

Granger was so excited about getting off for his wedding that he registered neither joy nor sorrow over the double work.

Roberto Rossellini is branching out ambitiously in his picture making. Besides the movies he starts in Paris after the first of the year with Ingrid Bergman, he'll be at the helm of another one, "The Lovers" in May.

For this, he wants Greta Garbo—but we'll have to see what we see about his getting her. Garbo is pretty well committed to Wald and Krasna for a picture in this country.

But, Richard Conte tells me he has been offered the male lead in "The Lovers" and he is seriously considering accepting. Lewis Milestone and Jules Dassin are associated with Rossellini in this movie.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The romance between John Agar and Patricia Medina looks serious—but I still think somehow, she and Richard Greene will kiss and make up.

Jack Warner spends Christmas in Florida with Mrs. Warner and Barbara. The William Orrs will go south with him.

Ruth Roman, who swore she'll never ride in an airplane, is helping her bridegroom, Mortimer Hall, select one.

Milton Frank and Sally Forrest, who planned to marry around Christmas, have moved the date to March. Sally has too many commitments.

While Evie and Van Johnson were in New York they saw the Clark Gables and all four went to see "Call Me Madam" and "Guys And Dolls" together. It was a great night for the fans.

After waiting a year to let the world see Faith Domergue, Howard Hughes now unveils his new star at Two New York theaters in to different pictures. Broadway gets a double voltage of Faith in "Vendetta" opening Christmas Day and "Where Danger Lives" on New Year's.

The "Red" Doffs (pappy is the well-known press agent) welcomed their first—a seven-pound boy on Wednesday.

The lone gunman who tried to hold up the Charlevals, the French acrobatic team, in a parking lot made a serious mistake. Within three seconds the Charlevals had the gunman tied in knots and knocked out. Later he was turned over to the police.

The Dan Duryeas will have a white Christmas at Lake Arrowhead and the kids are looking forward to it.

The neighbors are greatly relieved that Errol Flynn has cabled Mrs. Eddington to give his five-year-old

Snow Clearance Warning Given To Keyserites

Leniency Will Not Be Shown In Future

KEYSER, W. Va. — Many citizens of Keyser may be in for a surprise financial penalty, if another snow storm strikes the community this season.

The city has an ordinance that requires that snow must be removed from the sidewalks within 12 hours after it has fallen. The city officials have been lenient for sometime, but they are worried because of a state court decision that the city will be liable in part when injuries are caused on sidewalks that have not had snow cleared off them.

It is likely that police action will be taken within 12 hours after the next snow falls in the city against citizens who fail to clean their walks. A police officer may be sent to occupants of homes throughout the city, if the snow is not removed.

Property owners are expected to repair their sidewalks when there is danger of accidents, and home occupants are expected to clear snow from the walks which can cause serious injuries that will result in probable damage suits.

This matter was considered at the meeting of the mayor and council Tuesday and a plan is being worked out which it is hoped will clear away all danger of accidents. If not done, court actions will follow.

Frostburg Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Himmelwright, Beall Street, announce the birth of a son, Tuesday in Miners Hospital.

The bowling team of the Potomac Edison Company held its annual Christmas banquet Tuesday evening at Workman's restaurant.

A clinic for infants and preschool children will be held today from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., in the health center at Zihlman. Dr. Martin Rothstein will conduct the examinations.

Carol singing will be part of the Christmas Eve program of First Congregational Church. A group will go about the community early in the evening singing familiar carols. Returning to the church, they will take part in a rededication service at 11 p. m., to be presented by the choir and the congregation.

G. Franklin Martens, president of the East End Playground Association, announced that any soliciting of funds at this season for the playground is unauthorized. He urged that the identity of such solicitations be reported to the police.

Four men from this area enlisted in the Air Force Monday. They are John R. Hetz, John A. Rizer, Edwin F. Garlitz and Leo Garlitz. All were sent to Martinsburg, W. Va., and will be assigned to Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas for basic training.

Frostburg Yule Tree Lighted

FROSTBURG — The Community Christmas tree sponsored by Farady Post No. 24, American Legion and placed this year for the first time in the yard of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Main and Water Streets, was illuminated last evening and will remain until after New Year's.

The 30-foot tamarac pine tree was presented to the Legion by Mrs. Mae Lambert, West College Avenue, and installed and decorated by employes of the Potomac Edison Company.

A committee of Legionnaires, consisting of Earl R. Miller, John F. Rowe and Kenneth Wellings installed the six-inch steel pipe in the lawn of the church, which will be the permanent location of future community trees.

All materials used in installing the pipe were donated by Walter C. Hunter, local dealer in sand and stone, Adam Lloyd and David Glessner.

Plans Yule Service

FROSTBURG—Mrs. Lottie Loar, superintendent of the Sunday School of the Frostburg Church of the Nazarene, announces the annual Christmas program will be held Christmas night at 7:30 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the youth choir under direction of Mrs. Richard Watkins, with Mrs. John Lewis playing the piano.

Following the program, those attending will be given a Christmas treat. The Sunday School teachers are cooperating in planning the event.

Midland Briefs

The Midland Homemakers held their monthly business meeting and Christmas party Wednesday night in Red Men's Hall.

Snow Clearance Warning Given To Keyserites

Leniency Will Not Be Shown In Future

KEYSER, W. Va. — Many citizens of Keyser may be in for a surprise financial penalty, if another snow storm strikes the community this season.

The city has an ordinance that requires that snow must be removed from the sidewalks within 12 hours after it has fallen. The city officials have been lenient for sometime, but they are worried because of a state court decision that the city will be liable in part when injuries are caused on sidewalks that have not had snow cleared off them.

It is likely that police action will be taken within 12 hours after the next snow falls in the city against citizens who fail to clean their walks. A police officer may be sent to occupants of homes throughout the city, if the snow is not removed.

Property owners are expected to repair their sidewalks when there is danger of accidents, and home occupants are expected to clear snow from the walks which can cause serious injuries that will result in probable damage suits.

This matter was considered at the meeting of the mayor and council Tuesday and a plan is being worked out which it is hoped will clear away all danger of accidents. If not done, court actions will follow.

Frostburg Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Himmelwright, Beall Street, announce the birth of a son, Tuesday in Miners Hospital.

The bowling team of the Potomac Edison Company held its annual Christmas banquet Tuesday evening at Workman's restaurant.

A clinic for infants and preschool children will be held today from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., in the health center at Zihlman. Dr. Martin Rothstein will conduct the examinations.

Carol singing will be part of the Christmas Eve program of First Congregational Church. A group will go about the community early in the evening singing familiar carols. Returning to the church, they will take part in a rededication service at 11 p. m., to be presented by the choir and the congregation.

G. Franklin Martens, president of the East End Playground Association, announced that any soliciting of funds at this season for the playground is unauthorized. He urged that the identity of such solicitations be reported to the police.

Four men from this area enlisted in the Air Force Monday. They are John R. Hetz, John A. Rizer, Edwin F. Garlitz and Leo Garlitz. All were sent to Martinsburg, W. Va., and will be assigned to Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas for basic training.

Frostburg Yule Tree Lighted

FROSTBURG — The Community Christmas tree sponsored by Farady Post No. 24, American Legion and placed this year for the first time in the yard of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Main and Water Streets, was illuminated last evening and will remain until after New Year's.

The 30-foot tamarac pine tree was presented to the Legion by Mrs. Mae Lambert, West College Avenue, and installed and decorated by employes of the Potomac Edison Company.

A committee of Legionnaires, consisting of Earl R. Miller, John F. Rowe and Kenneth Wellings installed the six-inch steel pipe in the lawn of the church, which will be the permanent location of future community trees.

All materials used in installing the pipe were donated by Walter C. Hunter, local dealer in sand and stone, Adam Lloyd and David Glessner.

Plans Yule Service

FROSTBURG—Mrs. Lottie Loar, superintendent of the Sunday School of the Frostburg Church of the Nazarene, announces the annual Christmas program will be held Christmas night at 7:30 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the youth choir under direction of Mrs. Richard Watkins, with Mrs. John Lewis playing the piano.

Following the program, those attending will be given a Christmas treat. The Sunday School teachers are cooperating in planning the event.

Midland Briefs

The Midland Homemakers held their monthly business meeting and Christmas party Wednesday night in Red Men's Hall.

The orthopedic clinic was held Wednesday at the Midland Medical Center, Railroad Street, with Miss Margaret Poole and Miss Henrietta Lippold, Cumberland orthopedic nurses, in charge.

Eckhart Homemakers Mark Christmas

FROSTBURG — A covered dish supper featured the Christmas meeting of the Eckhart Homemakers held in the Eckhart Methodist Church basement.

Following the supper, a program arranged by Mrs. Reuben O. Lewis, was presented.

Vandals Damage Keyser Yule Decorations

KEYSER, W. Va.—Local merchants have had some of the Christmas decorations in front of their places of business destroyed recently.

In addition to the strings of greenery and electric lights over the curbing and the individual Christmas trees, on which there are tinsel and electric lights, each merchant has tried to beautify his store for the Christmas season.

The trees have been set in heavy concrete blocks to prevent them from being toppled over. They range in height from five to eight feet and have presented a beautiful appearance along the street.

Two trees have been removed, together with the lights and some of the lights attached to the wires over the sidewalks have been removed.

Police report the trees and the bulbs have been removed after traffic dropped off, probably in the early hours of the morning. Police warn arrests will be made if any persons are caught, with heavy fines recommended.

Sorority Stages Christmas Party

KEYSER, W. Va.—The Iota Pi Chapter, Tau Phi Lambda Sorority of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, held a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Betty Murray on Monday evening. The group sang Christmas carols and a contest was held to see who could draw the best Christmas tree with all the trimmings while in the dark. Miss Juanita Rotruck received the prize for the best drawing. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served. The room was decorated with a Christmas tree with the presents underneath.

The next meeting will be held at the Potomac Edison Office on Monday, January 8, at 8 p. m. Initiation and installation ceremonies will be held following a dinner at the Old Homestead Hotel in Burlington on Monday, January 22.

Lonaconing Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stewart and sons, Gene and Dickie, left Thursday to make their home in Alexandria, Va.

A son was born to Mrs. Thomas Robertson, of Dudley Street, Wednesday, in Miners Hospital, Frostburg. Her husband was killed in a truck accident in May when a truck run into a mine picket line at Georges Creek mine, Lonaconing.

A community Christmas treat to all the children was given Thursday afternoon at the San Toy theatre. A free movie was followed by candy distribution. Schools dismissed at 2:10 p. m. to allow the children to attend.

Pvts. William Cameron and Robert Stafford, Marine reserves, called to active service in July from Cumberland, are home on leave, from Quantico, Va.

Kiwanis Club Has Yule Party

KEYSER, W. Va. — Santa Claus paid a visit to the Keyser Kiwanis Club at Wednesday's dinner meeting and left presents for all of the members.

The membership exchanged presents.

A rule for the Christmas party was that each member had to write a poem to accompany his gift. There were no Longfellows or Whittiers in the group.

Another feature was the group singing of carols with Mrs. Coyd Yost at the piano, and the reading of a "spooferism" on "It was The Night Before Christmas," by Mrs. Yost, and the "spoofing" offering. Mrs. Yost also read another Christmas poem.

Lester McDowell, of the Keyser High School faculty, was accompanied by his sons, Leon and William "Buddy" McDowell, as guests, who are home on furlough from the Navy.

Walter A. Jaworek, Potomac State School, played Santa Claus.

Church Will Hold Christmas Program

KEYSER, W. Va.—A special Christmas program will be presented at the Sunday School session at Janes Methodist Church Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Children of the school department and parents will participate.

In answer to the call for the entire nation to join in prayer for world peace, members and friends of Janes Church will attend the Christmas service at 11 a. m. Sunday. The pastor, Rev. C. E. Johnson, will speak on the subject.

Candlelight Service Set

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—A Christmas Eve candlelight service again will be held in the local Methodist Church at 10 p. m. Sunday.

The pastor will be in charge and members of the sanctuary choir will sing. The service will feature a candlelight processional as each member of the audience will light a taper. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed. Everyone is urged to attend this annual service regardless of denominational affiliation. Previous to the service, members of the MYF's will go caroling and will distribute baskets to needy families.

A large audience witnessed the cantata, "The Dawn of Christmas" at the Methodist Church last Sunday night. The cantata was under the direction of Mrs. R. B. Sindy with Mrs. J. M. Harman at the organ and Bill Dryfield at the piano.

Keyser Seeks Road Scrapers

KEYSER, W. Va.—A matter of considerable importance to small municipalities in West Virginia was discussed at the meeting of Keyser City Council and the Mayor with Senator Ralph Bean, Moorefield, member of the State Senate, and John I. Rogers, new member of the House of Delegates.

Senator Bean was asked if there is not some way whereby small municipalities may purchase road trucks and machinery from the State Road Commission, after the trucks and machinery have been set aside as discards.

In the past, the road commission has been unable to dispose of worn equipment other than to scrap it, and in scrapping the machinery, acetylene torches have made a thorough job in preventing them from being used again. The mayor and council called attention to the fact that Keyser does not have the money to purchase road scrapers and other equipment, as there is no new place to tap for raising tax monies at this time.

Barton Band To Play Christmas Concert

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murray, 61 Paxton Street, Piedmont, W. Va., announce the birth of a son at their home.

Miss Martha Morrison, New York City, will visit her step-mother, Mrs. Taylor Morrison at the rectory of St. James Church, Main Street, Westernport, during the Christmas holidays.

Candlelight Service Set

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—A Christmas Eve candlelight service again will be held in the local Methodist Church at 10 p. m. Sunday.

The pastor will be in charge and members of the sanctuary choir will sing. The service will feature a candlelight processional as each member of the audience will light a taper. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed. Everyone is urged to attend this annual service regardless of denominational affiliation. Previous to the service, members of the MYF's will go caroling and will distribute baskets to needy families.

A large audience witnessed the cantata, "The Dawn of Christmas" at the Methodist Church last Sunday night. The cantata was under the direction of Mrs. R. B. Sindy with Mrs. J. M. Harman at the organ and Bill Dryfield at the piano.

Keyser Seeks Road Scrapers

KEYSER, W. Va.—A matter of considerable importance to small municipalities in West Virginia was discussed at the meeting of Keyser City Council and the Mayor with Senator Ralph Bean, Moorefield, member of the State Senate, and John I. Rogers, new member of the House of Delegates.

Senator Bean was asked if there is not some way whereby small municipalities may purchase road trucks and machinery from the State Road Commission, after the trucks and machinery have been set aside as discards.

In the past, the road commission has been unable to dispose of worn equipment other than to scrap it, and in scrapping the machinery, acetylene torches have made a thorough job in preventing them from being used again. The mayor and council called attention to the fact that Keyser does not have the money to purchase road scrapers and other equipment, as there is no new place to tap for raising tax monies at this time.

Barton Band To Play Christmas Concert

BARTON—The annual Christmas concert at Barton Citizens Band will be held on Christmas morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The group plays thoughout the town each Christmas.

All members are asked to meet at the band's headquarters in the firemen's armory at 10:15 a. m., James Lamberson, president stated.

Vandals Damage Keyser Yule Decorations

KEYSER, W. Va.—Local merchants have had some of the Christmas decorations in front of their places of business destroyed recently.

In addition to the strings of greenery and electric lights over the curbing and the individual Christmas trees, on which there are tinsel and electric lights, each merchant has tried to beautify his store for the Christmas season.

The trees have been set in heavy concrete blocks to prevent them from being toppled over. They range in height from five to eight feet and have presented a beautiful appearance along the street.

Two trees have been removed, together with the lights and some of the lights attached to the wires over the sidewalks have been removed.

Police report the trees and the bulbs have been removed after traffic dropped off, probably in the early hours of the morning. Police warn arrests will be made if any persons are caught, with heavy fines recommended.

Sorority Stages Christmas Party

KEYSER, W. Va.—The Iota Pi Chapter, Tau Phi Lambda Sorority of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, held a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Betty Murray on Monday evening. The group sang Christmas carols and a contest was held to see who could draw the best Christmas tree with all the trimmings while in the dark. Miss Juanita Rotruck received the prize for the best drawing. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served. The room was decorated with a Christmas tree with the presents underneath.

The next meeting will be held at the Potomac Edison Office on Monday, January 8, at 8 p. m. Initiation and installation ceremonies will be held following a dinner at the Old Homestead Hotel in Burlington on Monday, January 22.

Lonaconing Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stewart and sons, Gene and Dickie, left Thursday to make their home in Alexandria, Va.

A son was born to Mrs. Thomas Robertson, of Dudley Street, Wednesday, in Miners Hospital, Frostburg. Her husband was killed in a truck accident in May when a truck run into a mine picket line at Georges Creek mine, Lonaconing.

A community Christmas treat to all the children was given Thursday afternoon at the San Toy theatre. A free movie was followed by candy distribution. Schools dismissed at 2:10 p. m. to allow the children to attend.

Pvts. William Cameron and Robert Stafford, Marine reserves, called to active service in July from Cumberland, are home on leave, from Quantico, Va.

Keyser Dance

Kiwanis Club Has Yule Party

KEYSER, W. Va. — Santa Claus paid a visit to the Keyser Kiwanis Club at Wednesday's dinner meeting and left presents for all of the members.

The membership exchanged presents.

A rule for the Christmas party was that each member had to write a poem to accompany his gift. There were no Longfellows or Whittiers in the group.

Another feature was the group singing of carols with Mrs. Coyd Yost at the piano, and the reading of a "spooferism" on "It was The Night Before Christmas," by Mrs. Yost, and the "spoofing" offering. Mrs. Yost also read another Christmas poem.

Lester McDowell, of the Keyser High School faculty, was accompanied by his sons, Leon and William "Buddy" McDowell, as guests, who are home on furlough from the Navy.

Walter A. Jaworek, Potomac State School, played Santa Claus.

Church Will Hold Christmas Program

KEYSER, W. Va.—A special Christmas program will be presented at the Sunday School session at Janes Methodist Church Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Children of the school department and parents will participate.

In answer to the call for the entire nation to join in prayer for world peace, members and friends of Janes Church will attend the Christmas service at 11 a. m. Sunday. The pastor, Rev. C. E. Johnson, will speak on the subject.

Congressmen Are Plenty Worried, "Congressional Record" Reveals.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Obviously your congressman is worried. Plenty worried.

It's particularly apparent in the "Congressional Record."

The appendix of the record is a catch-all in which congressmen dump any articles or editorials or speeches that appeal to them. They write their own headlines, and a quick glance at these shows how the congressmen feel.

Let's look at a few headlines, and their authors:

"The Hour Is At Hand," by Rep. Wickersham (D-Okla).

"Only Congress Can Declare War And Make Treaties," by Rep. Lovre (R-SD).

"Let's Put First Things First," by Rep. Bailey (D-WVa).

"Is This Our Last Hour?" by Rep. Harrison (D-Va).

"Let's Make It Clear To Youth," by Rep. Canfield (R-NJ).

"The War We Are Losing," by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark).

"Liberty Shall Not Cringe In The Face Of Brute Force," by Rep. Elliott (D-Ala).

"If We Are To Come Through The Next Grim Half Of This Twentieth Century Still A Republic Of Free People, We Will Need All Of Our Courage And Brains," by Rep. Rees (R-Kan).

Quantitatively at least, the leading worrier is Rep. O'Hara (R-Minn).

For O'Hara is represented by insertions bearing these titles:

"America Must Not Stumble Into War With Red China,"

"It Would Be Worth Trying,"

"Nero, Bring Back The Fiddle,"

"Would Bomb Shelters Become Traps?"

"Viewpoint," and

"At Last We Face The Issue."

With all these worries, O'Hara still had room for another one—"Socialized Medicine Is No Bargain."

Although the tone is predominantly gloomy, it's pleasant to report it's chins-up time for congressmen, too.

Rep. Bentsen (D-Tex) inserted an editorial entitled, "Vision And Courage."

And even the uneasy O'Hara had one called:

"A Time To Take Heart And Renew Courage."

Obviously this was written by someone who doesn't read the appendix of the record.

Friend Of Hickok Dies At Age 106

ABILENE, Kas., (AP) — J. B. Edwards, pioneer cattleman and onetime close friend of "Wild Bill" Hickok, died at the age of 106.

Edwards, who was rejected for service in the Civil War because of poor teeth, worked in his garden until past 100 and he walked downtown every day until his 102nd birthday.

He was born Sept. 1, 1844, near Athens, Pa., in 1869 he saw two trainloads of cattle enroute from Texas through Abilene to New York and was inspired to go west.

When he came here in 1872, Abilene was a wild boom town at the end of the Texas cattle rail.

Edwards was influential in getting Hickok, who had been an Indian scout and peace officer of Dodge City, Kas., to come here as Sheriff and restore law and order.

After the boom days, Edwards settled down to a quiet life of political work. He was the author of "The Cattle Trail," a history of the early-day cattle business.

He is survived by two daughters and a son.

East Berliner's Suit For Divorce Backfires

BERLIN, Dec. 21 (AP) — It was a sad day for Max Zander when he sued his wife for divorce in an East Berlin court. He charged Mrs. Zander, who moved to the West during bombing raids on Berlin, deserted him.

Notified, she returned to East Berlin. She brought along letters Zander had written her, telling of miserable living conditions in East Berlin and the Soviet zone.

The court decided Mrs. Zander deserved the divorce. Then it sentenced Zander to two years in prison for "spreading false rumors, slandering the Soviet army and endangering internal peace."

"Santa" Presents Globe To Library

BALTIMORE (AP) — An anonymous Santa Claus has given the world to Baltimore's Enoch Pratt Library.

It's an $800 world globe, largest commercial kind made and the first one here.

The globe, 100 inches around and 32 inches in diameter, was presented to the library after Director Emerson Greenaway and another library official had seen it in a downtown store.

They wanted to get it for the library but decided the price was too high.

A man who later visited the store felt that one of the globes should be in a Baltimore institution. When he heard the library was in the market, he sent it as a gift.

He insisted on remaining anonymous.

Congressmen Are Plenty Worried, "Congressional Record" Reveals.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Obviously your congressman is worried. Plenty worried.

It's particularly apparent in the "Congressional Record."

The appendix of the record is a catch-all in which congressmen dump any articles or editorials or speeches that appeal to them. They write their own headlines, and a quick glance at these shows how the congressmen feel.

Let's look at a few headlines, and their authors:

"The Hour Is At Hand," by Rep. Wickersham (D-Okla).

"Only Congress Can Declare War And Make Treaties," by Rep. Lovre (R-SD).

"Let's Put First Things First," by Rep. Bailey (D-WVa).

"Is This Our Last Hour?" by Rep. Harrison (D-Va).

"Let's Make It Clear To Youth," by Rep. Canfield (R-NJ).

"The War We Are Losing," by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark).

"Liberty Shall Not Cringe In The Face Of Brute Force," by Rep. Elliott (D-Ala).

"If We Are To Come Through The Next Grim Half Of This Twentieth Century Still A Republic Of Free People, We Will Need All Of Our Courage And Brains," by Rep. Rees (R-Kan).

Quantitatively at least, the leading worrier is Rep. O'Hara (R-Minn).

For O'Hara is represented by insertions bearing these titles:

"America Must Not Stumble Into War With Red China,"

"It Would Be Worth Trying,"

"Nero, Bring Back The Fiddle,"

"Would Bomb Shelters Become Traps?"

"Viewpoint," and

"At Last We Face The Issue."

With all these worries, O'Hara still had room for another one—"Socialized Medicine Is No Bargain."

Although the tone is predominantly gloomy, it's pleasant to report it's chins-up time for congressmen, too.

Rep. Bentsen (D-Tex) inserted an editorial entitled, "Vision And Courage."

And even the uneasy O'Hara had one called:

"A Time To Take Heart And Renew Courage."

Obviously this was written by someone who doesn't read the appendix of the record.

Friend Of Hickok Dies At Age 106

ABILENE, Kas., (AP) — J. B. Edwards, pioneer cattleman and onetime close friend of "Wild Bill" Hickok, died at the age of 106.

Edwards, who was rejected for service in the Civil War because of poor teeth, worked in his garden until past 100 and he walked downtown every day until his 102nd birthday.

He was born Sept. 1, 1844, near Athens, Pa., in 1869 he saw two trainloads of cattle enroute from Texas through Abilene to New York and was inspired to go west.

When he came here in 1872, Abilene was a wild boom town at the end of the Texas cattle rail.

Edwards was influential in getting Hickok, who had been an Indian scout and peace officer of Dodge City, Kas., to come here as Sheriff and restore law and order.

After the boom days, Edwards settled down to a quiet life of political work. He was the author of "The Cattle Trail," a history of the early-day cattle business.

He is survived by two daughters and a son.

East Berliner's Suit For Divorce Backfires

BERLIN, Dec. 21 (AP) — It was a sad day for Max Zander when he sued his wife for divorce in an East Berlin court. He charged Mrs. Zander, who moved to the West during bombing raids on Berlin, deserted him.

Notified, she returned to East Berlin. She brought along letters Zander had written her, telling of miserable living conditions in East Berlin and the Soviet zone.

The court decided Mrs. Zander deserved the divorce. Then it sentenced Zander to two years in prison for "spreading false rumors, slandering the Soviet army and endangering internal peace."

"Santa" Presents Globe To Library

BALTIMORE (AP) — An anonymous Santa Claus has given the world to Baltimore's Enoch Pratt Library.

It's an $800 world globe, largest commercial kind made and the first one here.

The globe, 100 inches around and 32 inches in diameter, was presented to the library after Director Emerson Greenaway and another library official had seen it in a downtown store.

They wanted to get it for the library but decided the price was too high.

A man who later visited the store felt that one of the globes should be in a Baltimore institution. When he heard the library was in the market, he sent it as a gift.

He insisted on remaining anonymous.

Player Of Year To Be Named; West Dies Of Ring Injuries

City Gridder To Be Picked From 10 Boys

Third Annual Award To Be Presented At Maryland At 9 P. M.

Winner of Greater Cumberland's third annual Player of the Year football award will be announced at special exercises tonight at 9 o'clock at the Maryland Theater.

There are ten candidates for the award—a gold engraved wrist watch offered by Cumberland Council No. 586 Knights of Columbus. One of the candidates is Lynn Beightol, quarterback of Fort Hill High School's undefeated and untied team, who won Player of the Year honors in 1949.

Beightol, incidentally, won the Player of the Week awards twice in 1949 and twice this year.

The ten athletes who were selected as Players of the Week during the 1950 season will receive white coat sweaters suitably monogrammed.

Players of the Week are Beightol, Dick Beard and Eddie Landis, Fort Hill; Don Fletcher, Bob Anderson, Ronnie Sisk and Kenneth "Mike" Birmingham, Allegany, and Jimmy Byrnes, Lucindo Fabbri and Bobby Arnone, LaSalle.

J. Suter Kegg, Times sports editor, will introduce the players and announce the winner of the award. Earl "Lefty" Bruce of Allegany High School was the first winner in 1948.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Peter J. Carpenti, grand knight of Cumberland Council. He also will present the sweaters.

Among the speakers will be Noyes Thompson (Tommy) Powers, former Allegany High School athlete, who starred on the gridiron for Duke University this year.

Thirty-six gridders have received K. of C. Player of the Week awards over three seasons.

Giants Sign Stanky And Bobby Thompson

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—(INS)—The New York Giants announced the signing today of second baseman Eddie Stanky and outfielder Bobby Thomson for the 1951 season.

Stanky, who came to the Giants last season from Boston with Alvin Dark in one of the biggest deals of the winter and sparked the Durochermen to a third place finish in the National League, received a substantial increase. He is said to be getting approximately $30,000 for next season.

Thomson, an early season bust at the plate, received the same contract as in 1950.

Jackets Seek 3rd PVC Win At Ft. Ashby

Keyser And Bruce Hosts To Alumni

Moorefield High School will be shooting for its third straight victory in the Potomac Valley Conference basketball race when it faces Coach Tom Small's Fort Ashby High Eagles tonight at Fort Ashby.

The Yellow Jackets defeated Mathias and Franklin in the first two P.V.C. games of the season. Fort Ashby holds a 62-10 decision over the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney.

Fort Ashby's over-all record is 3-1 and Moorefield's is 2-1.

John Shelton's Keyser High cagers, victorious over Elk Garden in the opener, will tackle the Alumni tonight on the Keyser court.

Hitting .500 for four games played to date, Coach Woody Woodson's Bruce High floormen also will play host to the Alumni quint tonight. Bruce has defeated Elk Garden and Kitzmiller and lost to LaSalle and Fort Ashby.

Paw Paw High School's Mountaineers (0-3) will invade Berkeley Springs to tackle Coach Calhoun's Indians.

In other games on tap tonight, Strasburg (Va.) will play the Warriors at Wardensville High School and Mathias (2-2) will play a return game at Timberville. Mathias won the opener, 43-9.

Berlin Jayvees Defeat Hyndman

HYNDMAN, Pa., Dec. 22 — Hyndman High School lost its first game at home tonight, bowing to the Berlin (Pa.) High School Jayvees, 36-30.

It was the first basketball game played at home by a Hyndman High School team and was staged in the Community Center before a good-sized crowd.

Casey Is Accused Of Being Father Of Dodger Fan's Son

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS) — Former Brooklyn relief pitcher Hugh Casey was accused in Special Sessions Court today of being the father of a 25-year-old Dodger fan's infant son.

The paternity suit was brought by Hilda Weissman, a slender brunette, who told the court she was intimate with Casey on three occasions in a Brooklyn hotel room.

Miss Weissman's child was born Nov. 2, 1949. She said her relations with Casey began on Jan. 23 of that year. Testimony was produced that Casey registered at the hotel that night, but the defense sought to prove he was a frequent guest.

Casey's wife, Kathleen, a statuesque blonde, appeared in court with the pitcher and told newsmen she has "complete faith in the loyalty and morality" of her husband.

The 37-year-old righthander starred for the Dodgers from 1939 through 1948 and subsequently pitched for the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees. Last season, he was at Atlanta in the Southern Association.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS)—Oklahoma's Sooners handed national champion City College of New York its second loss of the season tonight when they beat the Beavers, 48 to 43 in the second game of a Madison Square Garden "skyscraper" doubleheader.

In the first game, the crowd of 15,500 saw the big boys from Long Island University trounce UCLA, 90 to 71.

Glamack Set Record

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 21 (AP) — Mark Workman approached, but did not set, a Southern Conference individual basketball scoring record when he tallied 44 points for West Virginia against George Washington University last night.

George Glamack, University of North Carolina star of 1939-40-41, tallied 45 points against Clemson on Feb. 10, 1941, to set what is believed to be the record for a game between conference foes.

Chandler Hopes To Retain Job

Happy Tells Editor He Has Eleven Votes

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (INS) — The man most likely to succeed Albert B. Chandler as baseball commissioner is Albert B. Chandler according to a Kentucky newspaper editor who claims to know.

Mark Warren of the Woodford Sun of Versailles, Ky., told International News Service today in a long distance telephone call that Chandler believes he needs only one more vote to regain his job. Warrn continued:

"The commissioner says he has 11 of the 12 votes necessary to secure a new contract. He expects to get the missing vote and to be re-elected at a major league meeting in New York on Feb. 4."

Chandler is the owner of the newspaper which Warren edits and the former Kentucky governor and U. S. senator has his home in Versailles. Warren said Chandler revealed his gain of two votes before returning to baseball's head quarters in Cincinnati.

Nine teams voted for Chandler during a meeting in St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 11, but seven cast their ballots against him and left the man known as "happy" three votes short and quite unhappy.

Warren said Chandled did not disclose the names of the two clubs which plan to switch their allegiance toward him. But one team appeared to be the Chicago White Sox.

Race Track Owners Interested In Colts

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21 (AP) — Two Baltimore contractors who became successful race track owners expressed interest today in the franchise of the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League which is being kicked around like a loose ball.

Saul Silberman and Ralph De Chairo said today they will meet with a committee representing 200 stockholders who now own the franchise.

The stockholders have offered the franchise to Abe Watner, president of the organization. Watner says he will make up his mind Dec. 31.

Silberman and De Chiaro, who took over the Randall Park Race Track in Ohio this year, said their interest is contingent on assurance they would not be responsible for this year's debts.

Two Brain Operations Fail To Save Life Of Fighter

Washington Negro's Head Struck Floor In Go With Bassett

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — Al (Sonny Boy) West, 21-year-old Washington, D. C., boxer, died tonight at St. Clare's Hospital some 22 hours after he was knocked out by Percy Bassett of Philadelphia.

Two delicate brain operations failed to save the life of the Negro lightweight who was kayoed in the seventh round at St. Nicholas Arena last night. He died at 7:59 p. m. (EST) after having been kept alive for several hours by artificial respiration.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, state athletic commission physician, said West apparently had died of an intra-cerebral hemorrhage and a cerebral concussion caused when his head hit the floor of the ring in falling.

West died in the operating room, not having been moved after the second operation in mid-afternoon. The stricken fighter received three blood transfusions after the second operation, but failed to rally. He never regained consciousness after the knockout.

Dr. Nardiello and Dr. Nicholas de Vito of the hospital staff, were at his side when death came. In the corridor outside were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank West, who arrived from Washington this morning, and his boxing associates, Manager Frank DeLeon and trainers Johnny Sullivan and Daniel Crew.

West was the ninth boxing fatality in the world in 1950 and the third in the United States.

Lavern Roach of Plainview, Tex., died of injuries suffered in the same ring last Feb. 23, in a bout also witnessed by millions on their television screens.

"It was a tragic accident," declared Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club which promoted the bout.

Col. Eddie Eagan, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, said that a preliminary investigation he made today disclosed that the doctors had found West in a "A-1 excellent shape."

Commission inspectors had examined the ring before the bout, Eagan said, and reported the padding okay. The gloves were new and found to be okay, too, Eagen said.

"We found that all regulations had been complied with," the chairman said, adding that it is "one of those things that happen in any vigorous sport."

The body will be taken to Bellevue morgue for an autopsy tomorrow.

The plant from which castor oil is obtained is a native of tropical Africa.

Player Of Year To Be Named; West Dies Of Ring Injuries

City Gridder To Be Picked From 10 Boys

Third Annual Award To Be Presented At Maryland At 9 P. M.

Winner of Greater Cumberland's third annual Player of the Year football award will be announced at special exercises tonight at 9 o'clock at the Maryland Theater.

There are ten candidates for the award—a gold engraved wrist watch offered by Cumberland Council No. 586 Knights of Columbus. One of the candidates is Lynn Beightol, quarterback of Fort Hill High School's undefeated and untied team, who won Player of the Year honors in 1949.

Beightol, incidentally, won the Player of the Week awards twice in 1949 and twice this year.

The ten athletes who were selected as Players of the Week during the 1950 season will receive white coat sweaters suitably monogrammed.

Players of the Week are Beightol, Dick Beard and Eddie Landis, Fort Hill; Don Fletcher, Bob Anderson, Ronnie Sisk and Kenneth "Mike" Birmingham, Allegany, and Jimmy Byrnes, Lucindo Fabbri and Bobby Arnone, LaSalle.

J. Suter Kegg, Times sports editor, will introduce the players and announce the winner of the award. Earl "Lefty" Bruce of Allegany High School was the first winner in 1948.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Peter J. Carpenti, grand knight of Cumberland Council. He also will present the sweaters.

Among the speakers will be Noyes Thompson (Tommy) Powers, former Allegany High School athlete, who starred on the gridiron for Duke University this year.

Thirty-six gridders have received K. of C. Player of the Week awards over three seasons.

Giants Sign Stanky And Bobby Thompson

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—(INS)—The New York Giants announced the signing today of second baseman Eddie Stanky and outfielder Bobby Thomson for the 1951 season.

Stanky, who came to the Giants last season from Boston with Alvin Dark in one of the biggest deals of the winter and sparked the Durochermen to a third place finish in the National League, received a substantial increase. He is said to be getting approximately $30,000 for next season.

Thomson, an early season bust at the plate, received the same contract as in 1950.

Casey Is Accused Of Being Father Of Dodger Fan's Son

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS) — Former Brooklyn relief pitcher Hugh Casey was accused in Special Sessions Court today of being the father of a 25-year-old Dodger fan's infant son.

The paternity suit was brought by Hilda Weissman, a slender brunette, who told the court she was intimate with Casey on three occasions in a Brooklyn hotel room.

Miss Weissman's child was born Nov. 2, 1949. She said her relations with Casey began on Jan. 23 of that year. Testimony was produced that Casey registered at the hotel that night, but the defense sought to prove he was a frequent guest.

Casey's wife, Kathleen, a statuesque blonde, appeared in court with the pitcher and told newsmen she has "complete faith in the loyalty and morality" of her husband.

The 37-year-old righthander starred for the Dodgers from 1939 through 1948 and subsequently pitched for the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees. Last season, he was at Atlanta in the Southern Association.

Player Of Year To Be Named; West Dies Of Ring Injuries

City Gridder To Be Picked From 10 Boys

Third Annual Award To Be Presented At Maryland At 9 P. M.

Winner of Greater Cumberland's third annual Player of the Year football award will be announced at special exercises tonight at 9 o'clock at the Maryland Theater.

There are ten candidates for the award—a gold engraved wrist watch offered by Cumberland Council No. 586 Knights of Columbus. One of the candidates is Lynn Beightol, quarterback of Fort Hill High School's undefeated and untied team, who won Player of the Year honors in 1949.

Beightol, incidentally, won the Player of the Week awards twice in 1949 and twice this year.

The ten athletes who were selected as Players of the Week during the 1950 season will receive white coat sweaters suitably monogrammed.

Players of the Week are Beightol, Dick Beard and Eddie Landis, Fort Hill; Don Fletcher, Bob Anderson, Ronnie Sisk and Kenneth "Mike" Birmingham, Allegany, and Jimmy Byrnes, Lucindo Fabbri and Bobby Arnone, LaSalle.

J. Suter Kegg, Times sports editor, will introduce the players and announce the winner of the award. Earl "Lefty" Bruce of Allegany High School was the first winner in 1948.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Peter J. Carpenti, grand knight of Cumberland Council. He also will present the sweaters.

Among the speakers will be Noyes Thompson (Tommy) Powers, former Allegany High School athlete, who starred on the gridiron for Duke University this year.

Thirty-six gridders have received K. of C. Player of the Week awards over three seasons.

Giants Sign Stanky And Bobby Thompson

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—(INS)—The New York Giants announced the signing today of second baseman Eddie Stanky and outfielder Bobby Thomson for the 1951 season.

Stanky, who came to the Giants last season from Boston with Alvin Dark in one of the biggest deals of the winter and sparked the Durochermen to a third place finish in the National League, received a substantial increase. He is said to be getting approximately $30,000 for next season.

Thomson, an early season bust at the plate, received the same contract as in 1950.

Casey Is Accused Of Being Father Of Dodger Fan's Son

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS) — Former Brooklyn relief pitcher Hugh Casey was accused in Special Sessions Court today of being the father of a 25-year-old Dodger fan's infant son.

The paternity suit was brought by Hilda Weissman, a slender brunette, who told the court she was intimate with Casey on three occasions in a Brooklyn hotel room.

Miss Weissman's child was born Nov. 2, 1949. She said her relations with Casey began on Jan. 23 of that year. Testimony was produced that Casey registered at the hotel that night, but the defense sought to prove he was a frequent guest.

Casey's wife, Kathleen, a statuesque blonde, appeared in court with the pitcher and told newsmen she has "complete faith in the loyalty and morality" of her husband.

The 37-year-old righthander starred for the Dodgers from 1939 through 1948 and subsequently pitched for the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees. Last season, he was at Atlanta in the Southern Association.

Sooners Beat CCNY

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS)—Oklahoma's Sooners handed national champion City College of New York its second loss of the season tonight when they beat the Beavers, 48 to 43 in the second game of a Madison Square Garden "skyscraper" doubleheader.

In the first game, the crowd of 15,500 saw the big boys from Long Island University trounce UCLA, 90 to 71.

Glamack Set Record

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 21 (AP) — Mark Workman approached, but did not set, a Southern Conference individual basketball scoring record when he tallied 44 points for West Virginia against George Washington University last night.

George Glamack, University of North Carolina star of 1939-40-41, tallied 45 points against Clemson on Feb. 10, 1941, to set what is believed to be the record for a game between conference foes.

Chandler Hopes To Retain Job

Happy Tells Editor He Has Eleven Votes

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (INS) — The man most likely to succeed Albert B. Chandler as baseball commissioner is Albert B. Chandler according to a Kentucky newspaper editor who claims to know.

Mark Warren of the Woodford Sun of Versailles, Ky., told International News Service today in a long distance telephone call that Chandler believes he needs only one more vote to regain his job. Warrn continued:

"The commissioner says he has 11 of the 12 votes necessary to secure a new contract. He expects to get the missing vote and to be re-elected at a major league meeting in New York on Feb. 4."

Chandler is the owner of the newspaper which Warren edits and the former Kentucky governor and U. S. senator has his home in Versailles. Warren said Chandler revealed his gain of two votes before returning to baseball's head quarters in Cincinnati.

Nine teams voted for Chandler during a meeting in St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 11, but seven cast their ballots against him and left the man known as "happy" three votes short and quite unhappy.

Warren said Chandled did not disclose the names of the two clubs which plan to switch their allegiance toward him. But one team appeared to be the Chicago White Sox.

Race Track Owners Interested In Colts

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21 (AP) — Two Baltimore contractors who became successful race track owners expressed interest today in the franchise of the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League which is being kicked around like a loose ball.

Saul Silberman and Ralph De Chairo said today they will meet with a committee representing 200 stockholders who now own the franchise.

The stockholders have offered the franchise to Abe Watner, president of the organization. Watner says he will make up his mind Dec. 31.

Silberman and De Chiaro, who took over the Randall Park Race Track in Ohio this year, said their interest is contingent on assurance they would not be responsible for this year's debts.

Washington Negro's Head Struck Floor In Go With Bassett

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — Al (Sonny Boy) West, 21-year-old Washington, D. C., boxer, died tonight at St. Clare's Hospital some 22 hours after he was knocked out by Percy Bassett of Philadelphia.

Two delicate brain operations failed to save the life of the Negro lightweight who was kayoed in the seventh round at St. Nicholas Arena last night. He died at 7:59 p. m. (EST) after having been kept alive for several hours by artificial respiration.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, state athletic commission physician, said West apparently had died of an intra-cerebral hemorrhage and a cerebral concussion caused when his head hit the floor of the ring in falling.

West died in the operating room, not having been moved after the second operation in mid-afternoon. The stricken fighter received three blood transfusions after the second operation, but failed to rally. He never regained consciousness after the knockout.

Dr. Nardiello and Dr. Nicholas de Vito of the hospital staff, were at his side when death came. In the corridor outside were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank West, who arrived from Washington this morning, and his boxing associates, Manager Frank DeLeon and trainers Johnny Sullivan and Daniel Crew.

West was the ninth boxing fatality in the world in 1950 and the third in the United States.

Lavern Roach of Plainview, Tex., died of injuries suffered in the same ring last Feb. 23, in a bout also witnessed by millions on their television screens.

"It was a tragic accident," declared Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club which promoted the bout.

Col. Eddie Eagan, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, said that a preliminary investigation he made today disclosed that the doctors had found West in a "A-1 excellent shape."

Commission inspectors had examined the ring before the bout, Eagan said, and reported the padding okay. The gloves were new and found to be okay, too, Eagen said.

"We found that all regulations had been complied with," the chairman said, adding that it is "one of those things that happen in any vigorous sport."

The body will be taken to Bellevue morgue for an autopsy tomorrow.

The plant from which castor oil is obtained is a native of tropical Africa.

National League Home Run Total Sets New Record

1950 Total Is 1,100, 5,007 Whiffs Listed

By HOWARD SIGMAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS) — Stanley Musial, who seeks $100,000 for his services next season, can point to the records again today to show St. Louis owner Fred Saigh why he is worth the money.

The National League batting champion was also the top slugger in 1950. Official figures placed Musial's slugging percentage at .596.

This gave the Redbird outfielder-first baseman a lifetime slugging percentage of .580, compiled over a nine-year stretch. Musial's average tops the marks of .5768 by Johnny Mize and .5766 by Rogers Hornsby. Mize and Hornsby saw longer service.

Homer Mark Is Set

Slugging percentages are derived by dividing total bases by times at bat. Musial drove for 331 total bases in 555 times at bat.

In all, the season saw eight major league records broken and two tied. Nineteen National League records were set while four were tied.

Th standout record of all was the 1,100 homers hit by National League batsmen. This is an all-time mark in baseball.

Another couple of interesting league standards set were in strikeouts and walks. The 5,007 strikeouts wiped out the former record of 4,828 made in 1916.

The 4,537 walks issued by senior circuit pitchers erased the 1947 high of 4,476.

Walkingest man in the league was Eddie Stankey of the New York Giants. The fiery second baseman got 144 free tickets to first base. The New York "Gromyko" also was hit the most often by pitched balls, 12 times.

Roy Whiffed 114 Times

The individual who did the most to help the strikeout cause was Chicago's Roy Smalley. The Cub shortstop whiffed 114 times. His teammates helped, too, striking out a total of 767 times to establish a new league record.

Del Ennis, who captured runs-batted-in honors with 126, earned horns in another department. The Philadelphia outfielder batted into the most double plays, 25.

The Whiz Kids had the budious distinction of leading the parade in this department by grounding into 144 twin killings.

Top slugging percentage in the league among the teams was recorded by Brooklyn with .444. The Pittsburgh Pirates were second with .406. The champion Phillies finished fifth in this category with .396.

Mr. Ace Wins Florida Race

Son Of Case Ace Beats Major Kay

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP) — William G. Helis Jr.'s Mr. Ace, entered in a claimer for the first time, had too much class for nine rivals as he made every pole a winning one in the seventh and best race of the program at Tropical Park today.

Making his first start since last May 4, the son of Case Ace came back to the races in superb fettle, thanks to the training skill of Frank Catrone.

Reeling off the six furlongs in 1.11 1-5 under 105 pounds, the gelding scored by two lengths from Ida C, which in turn outfinished Major Kay by a neck. Another neck away was Pnut Vendor. Warmonger, slight choice over Mr. Ace, was shy on speed and finished out of the picture.

Mr. Ace, ridden by Jimmy Stout, paid $8.40 straight, this was his fourth victory of the year out of 13 starts. However, he was claimed today for $8,500 by O. J. Ciresa, Jr.

Continued cold weather held the attendance down to 6,597.

The daily double, involving Transit, $9.50, winner of the opener under Jimmy Duff, and Free Transit, returned $103.70. It was selected by 218 customers.

Generals Arrive For Florida Game

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP) —The Washington and Lee football team arrived today, completing the cast for the Gator Bowl game Jan. 1.

Wyoming, its opponent, got here yesterday and immediately began drills. George Barclay, head coach of the Generals, said his 39-man squad will begin twice-a-day practice sessions beginning tomorrow.

"I've no doubt Wyoming is as good as its rating," said Barclay. The Cowpokes ranked 12th in the nation for the 1950 season.

Imburgia Leads College Scorers

Cincinnati Player Posts 29.3 Average

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — Larry Imburgia, a six-foot sophomore at the University of Cincinnati, has vaulted to the top of the major college basketball scoring race after the first two weeks of the 1950 season.

Imburgia hit the hoop for 88 points in the Bearcats' first three games for an average of 29.3, according to official figures through games of Dec. 16, compiled by the NCAA's Service Bureau here. Second in the national standing is Mark Workman of West Virginia, with a 28.5 average for four games, and a third is Bill Mlkvy of Temple with 27.3 in six contests.

Only Nick Maguire of Villanova, has sunk a higher percentage of his field goal shots than Imburgia. Maguire has clicked on 21 out of 31 attempts for an amazing average of 67.7. Imburgia has hit 38 out of 61 for a 62.3 mark.

Following are the top 10 scorers, based on average points per game.

National League Home Run Total Sets New Record

1950 Total Is 1,100, 5,007 Whiffs Listed

By HOWARD SIGMAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS) — Stanley Musial, who seeks $100,000 for his services next season, can point to the records again today to show St. Louis owner Fred Saigh why he is worth the money.

The National League batting champion was also the top slugger in 1950. Official figures placed Musial's slugging percentage at .596.

This gave the Redbird outfielder-first baseman a lifetime slugging percentage of .580, compiled over a nine-year stretch. Musial's average tops the marks of .5768 by Johnny Mize and .5766 by Rogers Hornsby. Mize and Hornsby saw longer service.

Homer Mark Is Set

Slugging percentages are derived by dividing total bases by times at bat. Musial drove for 331 total bases in 555 times at bat.

In all, the season saw eight major league records broken and two tied. Nineteen National League records were set while four were tied.

Th standout record of all was the 1,100 homers hit by National League batsmen. This is an all-time mark in baseball.

Another couple of interesting league standards set were in strikeouts and walks. The 5,007 strikeouts wiped out the former record of 4,828 made in 1916.

The 4,537 walks issued by senior circuit pitchers erased the 1947 high of 4,476.

Walkingest man in the league was Eddie Stankey of the New York Giants. The fiery second baseman got 144 free tickets to first base. The New York "Gromyko" also was hit the most often by pitched balls, 12 times.

Roy Whiffed 114 Times

The individual who did the most to help the strikeout cause was Chicago's Roy Smalley. The Cub shortstop whiffed 114 times. His teammates helped, too, striking out a total of 767 times to establish a new league record.

Del Ennis, who captured runs-batted-in honors with 126, earned horns in another department. The Philadelphia outfielder batted into the most double plays, 25.

The Whiz Kids had the budious distinction of leading the parade in this department by grounding into 144 twin killings.

Top slugging percentage in the league among the teams was recorded by Brooklyn with .444. The Pittsburgh Pirates were second with .406. The champion Phillies finished fifth in this category with .396.

Mr. Ace Wins Florida Race

Son Of Case Ace Beats Major Kay

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP) — William G. Helis Jr.'s Mr. Ace, entered in a claimer for the first time, had too much class for nine rivals as he made every pole a winning one in the seventh and best race of the program at Tropical Park today.

Making his first start since last May 4, the son of Case Ace came back to the races in superb fettle, thanks to the training skill of Frank Catrone.

Reeling off the six furlongs in 1.11 1-5 under 105 pounds, the gelding scored by two lengths from Ida C, which in turn outfinished Major Kay by a neck. Another neck away was Pnut Vendor. Warmonger, slight choice over Mr. Ace, was shy on speed and finished out of the picture.

Mr. Ace, ridden by Jimmy Stout, paid $8.40 straight, this was his fourth victory of the year out of 13 starts. However, he was claimed today for $8,500 by O. J. Ciresa, Jr.

Continued cold weather held the attendance down to 6,597.

The daily double, involving Transit, $9.50, winner of the opener under Jimmy Duff, and Free Transit, returned $103.70. It was selected by 218 customers.

Generals Arrive For Florida Game

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP) —The Washington and Lee football team arrived today, completing the cast for the Gator Bowl game Jan. 1.

Wyoming, its opponent, got here yesterday and immediately began drills. George Barclay, head coach of the Generals, said his 39-man squad will begin twice-a-day practice sessions beginning tomorrow.

"I've no doubt Wyoming is as good as its rating," said Barclay. The Cowpokes ranked 12th in the nation for the 1950 season.

Imburgia Leads College Scorers

Cincinnati Player Posts 29.3 Average

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — Larry Imburgia, a six-foot sophomore at the University of Cincinnati, has vaulted to the top of the major college basketball scoring race after the first two weeks of the 1950 season.

Imburgia hit the hoop for 88 points in the Bearcats' first three games for an average of 29.3, according to official figures through games of Dec. 16, compiled by the NCAA's Service Bureau here. Second in the national standing is Mark Workman of West Virginia, with a 28.5 average for four games, and a third is Bill Mlkvy of Temple with 27.3 in six contests.

Only Nick Maguire of Villanova, has sunk a higher percentage of his field goal shots than Imburgia. Maguire has clicked on 21 out of 31 attempts for an amazing average of 67.7. Imburgia has hit 38 out of 61 for a 62.3 mark.

Following are the top 10 scorers, based on average points per game.

National League Home Run Total Sets New Record

1950 Total Is 1,100, 5,007 Whiffs Listed

By HOWARD SIGMAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS) — Stanley Musial, who seeks $100,000 for his services next season, can point to the records again today to show St. Louis owner Fred Saigh why he is worth the money.

The National League batting champion was also the top slugger in 1950. Official figures placed Musial's slugging percentage at .596.

This gave the Redbird outfielder-first baseman a lifetime slugging percentage of .580, compiled over a nine-year stretch. Musial's average tops the marks of .5768 by Johnny Mize and .5766 by Rogers Hornsby. Mize and Hornsby saw longer service.

Homer Mark Is Set

Slugging percentages are derived by dividing total bases by times at bat. Musial drove for 331 total bases in 555 times at bat.

In all, the season saw eight major league records broken and two tied. Nineteen National League records were set while four were tied.

Th standout record of all was the 1,100 homers hit by National League batsmen. This is an all-time mark in baseball.

Another couple of interesting league standards set were in strikeouts and walks. The 5,007 strikeouts wiped out the former record of 4,828 made in 1916.

The 4,537 walks issued by senior circuit pitchers erased the 1947 high of 4,476.

Walkingest man in the league was Eddie Stankey of the New York Giants. The fiery second baseman got 144 free tickets to first base. The New York "Gromyko" also was hit the most often by pitched balls, 12 times.

Roy Whiffed 114 Times

The individual who did the most to help the strikeout cause was Chicago's Roy Smalley. The Cub shortstop whiffed 114 times. His teammates helped, too, striking out a total of 767 times to establish a new league record.

Del Ennis, who captured runs-batted-in honors with 126, earned horns in another department. The Philadelphia outfielder batted into the most double plays, 25.

The Whiz Kids had the budious distinction of leading the parade in this department by grounding into 144 twin killings.

Top slugging percentage in the league among the teams was recorded by Brooklyn with .444. The Pittsburgh Pirates were second with .406. The champion Phillies finished fifth in this category with .396.

Mr. Ace Wins Florida Race

Son Of Case Ace Beats Major Kay

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP) — William G. Helis Jr.'s Mr. Ace, entered in a claimer for the first time, had too much class for nine rivals as he made every pole a winning one in the seventh and best race of the program at Tropical Park today.

Making his first start since last May 4, the son of Case Ace came back to the races in superb fettle, thanks to the training skill of Frank Catrone.

Reeling off the six furlongs in 1.11 1-5 under 105 pounds, the gelding scored by two lengths from Ida C, which in turn outfinished Major Kay by a neck. Another neck away was Pnut Vendor. Warmonger, slight choice over Mr. Ace, was shy on speed and finished out of the picture.

Mr. Ace, ridden by Jimmy Stout, paid $8.40 straight, this was his fourth victory of the year out of 13 starts. However, he was claimed today for $8,500 by O. J. Ciresa, Jr.

Continued cold weather held the attendance down to 6,597.

The daily double, involving Transit, $9.50, winner of the opener under Jimmy Duff, and Free Transit, returned $103.70. It was selected by 218 customers.

Generals Arrive For Florida Game

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP) —The Washington and Lee football team arrived today, completing the cast for the Gator Bowl game Jan. 1.

Wyoming, its opponent, got here yesterday and immediately began drills. George Barclay, head coach of the Generals, said his 39-man squad will begin twice-a-day practice sessions beginning tomorrow.

"I've no doubt Wyoming is as good as its rating," said Barclay. The Cowpokes ranked 12th in the nation for the 1950 season.

Imburgia Leads College Scorers

Cincinnati Player Posts 29.3 Average

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — Larry Imburgia, a six-foot sophomore at the University of Cincinnati, has vaulted to the top of the major college basketball scoring race after the first two weeks of the 1950 season.

Imburgia hit the hoop for 88 points in the Bearcats' first three games for an average of 29.3, according to official figures through games of Dec. 16, compiled by the NCAA's Service Bureau here. Second in the national standing is Mark Workman of West Virginia, with a 28.5 average for four games, and a third is Bill Mlkvy of Temple with 27.3 in six contests.

Only Nick Maguire of Villanova, has sunk a higher percentage of his field goal shots than Imburgia. Maguire has clicked on 21 out of 31 attempts for an amazing average of 67.7. Imburgia has hit 38 out of 61 for a 62.3 mark.

Following are the top 10 scorers, based on average points per game.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Those Fascinating Newspapermen

THE fascination of newspapermen, who theoretically meet such interesting people, is being thoroughly exploited on television as it was on radio. The best and certainly the most honest to come to my attention is "The Big Story" which you'll find on NBC-TV 9:30 p m. EST on alternate Fridays. (It is on tonight, incidentally).

John Crosby

"Big Story" is quite an operation. These are the dramatizations of actual news stories in which a reporter solved a crime exposed civic corruption or in some way participated a little more fully than simply covering the story. Each reporter whose yarn is used gets $500. On radio where it still is (NBC 10 p. m. EST Wednesdays) the program required a bit of research but not much else.

• • •

Television is another matter. Bernard Procter, the producer, now has a seven-man crew which travels all over the country in a station wagon equipped with motion picture cameras, shooting platforms and recording equipment. "Big Story" is a combination of live and filmed drama, the proportion of film ranging from 5 to 75 per cent, depending on the story. Prockter insists on authenticity of background. He'll send his crew to Detroit to film the street where the crime took place, though he could find a similar street in Long Island City.

The crew takes the star of the piece, the man who plays the reporter, along with them and digs up local actors for the other parts. It runs into a good deal of money. Prockter would like to put the whole show on film but costs are too great. He did one experimental program entirely on film and it cost $20,000 which was a little too rich for the American Tobacco Company, the sponsor.

The stories, while frequently lurid, are all accurate to the last comma, Prockter insists. Some of them are pretty incredible though true. One of the most startling of the big stories was that of Eddie Di Castro of "The Buffalo Evening News." On his first day at work for the paper, Di Castro overhead of a murder in downtown Buffalo, talked a circulation driver into helping him track down the killer and nabbed him that evening. Another one was the story of Eugene Travis of "The Memphis Commercial Appeal" who eavesdropped on three underworld characters in a saloon, heard them plan a robbery and had the story in his paper a few minutes after the robbery was committed.

Spectacular as these stories are, they are handled with great restraint. The dialogue and acting are lean, terse and convincing. The reporters look like reporters and, if possible, Prockter digs up a man who resembles the real reporter. The stories unroll backwards the way reporters generally get them, after the event. The newsmen, both the editors and the reporters, are matter-of-fact folk about even the most heinous crimes, a refreshing change from the hyped-up city room atmosphere in most movies.

Between the time Prockter and his staff accept a story and its final presentation, six months usually elapses, much of it in research. This devotion to fact gives the program its special flavor of authenticity. The documentary approach has paid off well in the movies, "Northside 777," "Lost Boundaries," "Asphalt Jungle") and it is high time it was explored on the air. In spite of its honesty, or possibly because of it, "Big Story" has pulled consistently good rating though it has been up against stiff opposition on other networks (Magnovox Theater on CBS and Pulitzer Prize Playhouse on ABC).

My sole objection to it is that it concerns itself too exclusively with the more spectacular aspects of journalism, chiefly murder stories. Reporters frequently deal in gentler forms of skullduggery; in fact, if you investigated all the reporters in the country at any given time, the proportion of them chasing criminals would be very small. It would be nice if "Big Story" would devote some time to other types of stories but I supose that's asking too much.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

F C X C K T J V G V R S R; J O R H G V F S- C V R R F C X J O R R T V V S C V R R C K L K G V R J F N N R V V L F S R S G O Q V—T J O S S O V G.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: FOR EVER IN THINE EYES, O LIBERTY, SHINES THAT HIGH LIGHT WHEREBY THE WORLD IS SAVED—HAY.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Those Fascinating Newspapermen

THE fascination of newspapermen, who theoretically meet such interesting people, is being thoroughly exploited on television as it was on radio. The best and certainly the most honest to come to my attention is "The Big Story" which you'll find on NBC-TV 9:30 p m. EST on alternate Fridays. (It is on tonight, incidentally).

John Crosby

"Big Story" is quite an operation. These are the dramatizations of actual news stories in which a reporter solved a crime exposed civic corruption or in some way participated a little more fully than simply covering the story. Each reporter whose yarn is used gets $500. On radio where it still is (NBC 10 p. m. EST Wednesdays) the program required a bit of research but not much else.

* * *

Television is another matter. Bernard Procter, the producer, now has a seven-man crew which travels all over the country in a station wagon equipped with motion picture cameras, shooting platforms and recording equipment. "Big Story" is a combination of live and filmed drama, the proportion of film ranging from 5 to 75 per cent, depending on the story. Prockter insists on authenticity of background. He'll send his crew to Detroit to film the street where the crime took place, though he could find a similar street in Long Island City.

The crew takes the star of the piece, the man who plays the reporter, along with them and digs up local actors for the other parts. It runs into a good deal of money. Prockter would like to put the whole show on film but costs are too great. He did one experimental program entirely on film and it cost $20,000 which was a little too rich for the American Tobacco Company, the sponsor.

The stories, while frequently lurid, are all accurate to the last comma, Prockter insists. Some of them are pretty incredible though true. One of the most startling of the big stories was that of Eddie Di Castro of "The Buffalo Evening News." On his first day at work for the paper, Di Castro overhead of a murder in downtown Buffalo, talked a circulation driver into helping him track down the killer and nabbed him that evening. Another one was the story of Eugene Travis of "The Memphis Commercial Appeal" who eavesdropped on three underworld characters in a saloon, heard them plan a robbery and had the story in his paper a few minutes after the robbery was committed.

* * *

Spectacular as these stories are, they are handled with great restraint. The dialogue and acting are lean, terse and convincing. The reporters look like reporters and, if possible, Prockter digs up a man who resembles the real reporter. The stories unroll backwards the way reporters generally get them, after the event. The newsmen, both the editors and the reporters, are matter-of-fact folk about even the most heinous crimes, a refreshing change from the hyped-up city room atmosphere in most movies.

Between the time Prockter and his staff accept a story and its final presentation, six months usually elapses, much of it in research. This devotion to fact gives the program its special flavor of authenticity.

The documentary approach has paid off well in the movies, "Northside 777," "Lost Boundaries," "Asphalt Jungle") and it is high time it was explored on the air. In spite of its honesty, or possibly because of it, "Big Story" has pulled consistently good rating though it has been up against stiff opposition on other networks (Magnovox Theater on CBS and Pulitzer Prize Playhouse on ABC).

My sole objection to it is that it concerns itself too exclusively with the more spectacular aspects of journalism, chiefly murder stories. Reporters frequently deal in gentler forms of skullduggery; in fact, if you investigated all the reporters in the country at any given time, the proportion of them chasing criminals would be very small. It would be nice if "Big Story" would devote some time to other types of stories but I supose that's asking too much.

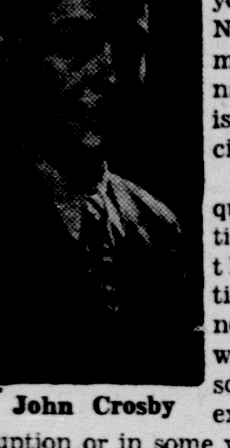
Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Those Fascinating Newspapermen

THE fascination of newspapermen, who theoretically meet such interesting people, is being thoroughly exploited on television as it was on radio. The best and certainly the most honest to come to my attention is "The Big Story" which you'll find on NBC-TV 9:30 p. m. EST on alternate Fridays. (It is on tonight, incidentally).



John Crosby

"Big Story" is quite an operation. These are the dramatizations of actual news stories in which a reporter solved a crime exposed civic corruption or in some way participated a little more fully than simply covering the story. Each reporter whose yarn is used gets $500. On radio where it still is (NBC 10 p. m. EST Wednesdays) the program required a bit of research but not much else.

* * *

Television is another matter. Bernard Procter, the producer, now has a seven-man crew which travels all over the country in a station wagon equipped with motion picture cameras, shooting platforms and recording equipment. "Big Story" is a combination of live and filmed drama, the proportion of film ranging from 5 to 75 per cent, depending on the story. Prockter insists on authenticity of background. He'll send his crew to Detroit to film the street where the crime took place, though he could find a similar street in Long Island City.

The crew takes the star of the piece, the man who plays the reporter, along with them and digs up local actors for the other parts. It runs into a good deal of money. Prockter would like to put the whole show on film but costs are too great. He did one experimental program entirely on film and it cost $20,000 which was a little too rich for the American Tobacco Company, the sponsor.

The stories, while frequently lurid, are all accurate to the last comma, Prockter insists. Some of them are pretty incredible though true. One of the most startling of the big stories was that of Eddie Di Castro of "The Buffalo Evening News." On his first day at work for the paper, Di Castro overhead of a murder in downtown Buffalo, talked a circulation driver into helping him track down the killer and nabbed him that evening. Another one was the story of Eugene Travis of "The Memphis Commercial Appeal" who eavesdropped on three underworld characters in a saloon, heard them plan a robbery and had the story in his paper a few minutes after the robbery was committed.

* * *

Spectacular as these stories are, they are handled with great restraint. The dialogue and acting are lean, terse and convincing. The reporters look like reporters and, if possible, Prockter digs up a man who resembles the real reporter. The stories unroll backwards the way reporters generally get them, after the event. The newsmen, both the editors and the reporters, are matter-of-fact folk about even the most heinous crimes, a refreshing change from the hyped-up city room atmosphere in most movies.

Between the time Prockter and his staff accept a story and its final presentation, six months usually elapses, much of it in research. This devotion to fact gives the program its special flavor of authenticity.

The documentary approach has paid off well in the movies, "Northside 777," "Lost Boundaries," "Asphalt Jungle") and it is high time it was explored on the air. In spite of its honesty, or possibly because of it, "Big Story" has pulled consistently good rating though it has been up against stiff opposition on other networks (Magnovox Theater on CBS and Pulitzer Prize Playhouse on ABC).

My sole objection to it is that it concerns itself too exclusively with the more spectacular aspects of journalism, chiefly murder stories. Reporters frequently deal in gentler forms of skullduggery; in fact, if you investigated all the reporters in the country at any given time, the proportion of them chasing criminals would be very small. It would be nice if "Big Story" would devote some time to other types of stories but I supose that's asking too much.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, James R. Murphy, Sr., who passed away 3 years ago, December 22, 1947.

Two years ago you left us,
Your dear face no more to see,
But our thoughts are full of memories,
And in our hearts you will always be.

Loyalty Class Stages Dinner

FROSTBURG—The Loyalty Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church recently held a turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Close.

Miss Louise Shaffer, a charter member, conducted the devotions and a Christmas story was read by Mrs. Harold R. Stoudt, wife of the pastor. Carols were sung by the group with Mrs. Howard Shaffer playing the accompaniments and the scripture was by Mrs. Ronald Cosgrove.

Others attending were Rev. Harold R. Stoudt, James Engle Mesdames Thomas Rank, Everett Lemmert, Harry Brode, Myrtle Knieriem, Ada Dillon, Edgar Frank, Cora Wittig, Bertha Wittig, Eva Crosby, Myrtle Steele, George Sires, Elizabeth Wright, Idella Dickle, Cecil Engle, Emma Keller, Marian Jenkins, Arch Davis, John Close, Bertha Arnold, Eldridge Crowe, Walter Lindeman, Jesse Pfaff and Miss Melda Engle.

Daughters Enjoy Holiday Party

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Members of Court Sancta Maria, No. 485, Catholic Daughters of America, was followed by a Christmas party.

A turkey dinner was served by Mrs. Anna Davis, and her committee Mrs. Madge Carey, Mrs. Lillian Wilson, Mrs. Teresa DiMasi, Mrs. Rosetta Amann, Mrs. Mildred Laughlin, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. Catherine Iansceo. Miss Eleanor Davis, Miss Margaret Spicer and Miss Winifred Small.

Mrs. Catherine Iabacci, as Santa Claus, presented gifts to all. Miss Margaret Spicer and Mrs. Minnie Morgan presented a comic skit. Miss Beatrice Fahey and Miss Naoma Flanagan gave humorous readings.

Rev. George Pugh, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, was a guest of honor and was presented with a rememberance in appreciation of his services to the court.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

CAN'T TELL EVERYTHING

CONTRACT bridge is a game in which you have to choose what information is most important to give your partner.. You can't tell him everything, but are obliged to withhold certain facts because you consider others may be more valuable to him. Take the case of a hand with just about the amount of total strength shown by an original bid of 2-No Trumps. Maybe the distribution of the hand is such that it is better to use a suit bid, even though it can't begin to advertise the exact strength as well.

South was afraid to bid any more after that, so at game in No Trumps he tried it. Unfortunately for South, West selected the diamond 3 for his lead. Seeing that he had two stoppers in the suit only if West held the K, South came in with dummy's Q. The K killed it quickly and, noting no purpose in a hold-up, South won with the A. Now the contract depended entirely on finding the spade K in the East, singly guarded, which would enable South to score five tricks in that suit plus enough others. When that proved not to be so, he was ruined.

It happened that South held exactly enough total strength for a 2-No Trumps bid of the kind he and his partner used. He considered that 1-Spade would not show anything like his great strength, and that 2-Spades would be an overbid. But calm reflection should have told him that, unless North had the bare minimum to bid something after 1-Spade, there probably would be no game in the hand. As it happens, that sound opening would have led to a spade game contract in which ten tricks would have been more than probable. Indeed, twelve could have been taken by trying all finesses in sight. An opening No Trump bid of any size when holding a good five-card major suit would not pay many dividends in the long run.

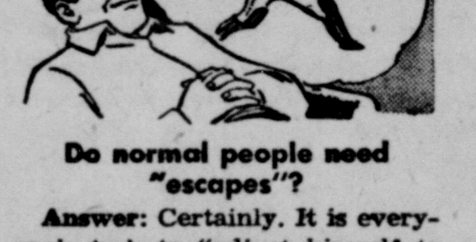
MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

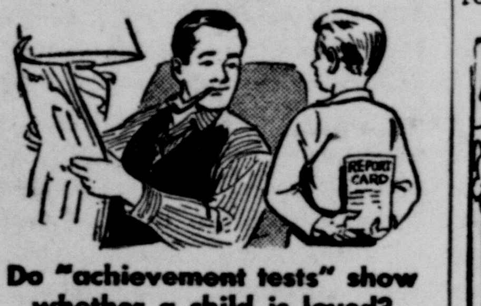
Will "striving to please" make people like you?

Answer: Not necessarily. A genuine interest in making other people happy will unquestionably tend to make them like you. But "breaking your neck to please them" is more apt to have the opposite effect. For one thing the feeling that they are taking advantage of you will make them uncomfortable. But what's even more important, you can't help resenting the fact that (as you suppose) you have to pay so high a price for their good will. And try as you may to hide it, your resentment will be bound to seep through, somehow.



Do normal people need "escapes"?

Answer: Certainly. It is everyone's task to "adjust himself to reality," but no one can do this twenty-four hours a day without frustrating his natural instincts to a dangerous degree. The most complete "escape" is, of course, sleep, but there are others which should not be sneered at. And what they all have in common is to let us gratify primitive wishes in imagination without the risks doing so in real life would involve. At the movies, for example, you can fight—or love—vicariously and suffer no painful consequences.



Do "achievement tests" show whether a child is loved?

Answer: Yes, reports psychologist Henry Feinberg in the Journal of Genetic Psychology. The results of an achievement test given to fifty girls and fifty boys living in friendly foster homes were compared with those of children from an institution for the maladjusted. Except for arithmetical reasoning, the foster children made a better showing in all subjects, though they averaged considerably younger. The frustration of a child's need for love and affection can be detected from his "pattern of performance" in anything he does.

Barton Firemen Enjoy Dinner

BARTON — Members of Barton Hose Company No. 1 were honored with a turkey dinner last night at their new fire hall by the Ladies Auxiliary of the company.

C. C. Keyes acted as toastmaster. Short talks were given by Mrs. Della Miller, president of the auxiliary; Henry Howell, president of the firemen; Mrs. Louise Lamberson, newly elected president of the auxiliary; Mrs. Ann Magruder, treasurer; Mrs. Delvin, secretary; Mrs. Laura A. Shuhart, Mrs. Elsie McCormick, Mrs. Aleda Kimble, William Kyle and Russell Kiddy, Sr.

Mrs. Kimble, chairman of the affair, was praised for the dinner. A jingle party was held by the auxiliary following the banquet and gifts were exchanged. The firemen were also presented with a gift at the close of the dinner.

Mt. Savage Set For Yule Parties

MT. SAVAGE — Among the numerous Christmas parties arranged here will be the annual Christmas party of the Mt. Savage Lions Club for all children of the community at the Majestic Theatre at 1 p. m. Saturday.

The New Row Card Club held a jingle party recently at the home of Mrs. Iris Stowell. Secret sisters were revealed, gifts exchanged and cards played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Doris Crowe, Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins and Mrs. Mary Deffenbaguh.

The club's turkey dinner will be held Friday, December 29. Mrs. Rizer will be hostess. Mrs. Mary Deffenbaugh will be hostess at the club's regular January meeting.

Utilities' Strong Showing Keeps Market Out Of Slump

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—A sparkling advance by utilities today kept the stock market out of a slump by a very narrow margin.

Rails and utilities were prominent in the list of the most active issues. Missouri-Kansas-Texas common topped the list with a gain of 1⅜ at 11. New York Central came second, off ⅛ at 21½, the only loser in the 15 most active issues. Katy preferred, 14th most active, was up 2⅛ at 51¼.

Utilities showed the best strength. Peoples Gas was up 2½ at 112½, Southern Carolina Electric & Gas ⅝ at 8⅝, North American Co. 1¼ at 17½, Southern Co. ⅝ at 11⅛, Standard Gas $4 preferred 1¼ at 70¼, Houston Light & Power 1⅝ at 52½, Niagara Mohawk Power 1⅛ at 20⅝, Consolidated Edison 1⅛ at 30, and Public Service Electric & Gas 1⅛ at 21⅞.

Paramount was up 1⅛ at 21⅜.

Radio Corp. gained ⅛ at 17⅛, and Columbia Broadcasting System "A" lost a point at 28⅝.

Illinois Central was down 2⅞.

The volume came to 2,990,000 shares as compared with yesterday's 3,500,000 shares. There were 1,182 individual issues traded of which 502 advanced and 436 declined.

Among shares a few cents lower were U. S. Steel 41, Bethlehem Steel 48⅝, General Motors 45⅜, Chrysler 67⅜, Boeing 39⅞, Anaconda Copper 37¾, du Pont 82, American 92¾, Sinclair Oil 33¼, and Southern Railway 50½.

Goodyear was up 1¼ at 64⅞, Goodrich 1½ at 125¼, Caterpillar Tractor 1¼ at 51½, Homestake Mining 1½ at 35¼, and McIntyre-Porcupine 1¾ at 49½. Others up a few cents including Douglas Aircraft, Admiral Radio, Philco, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical, and U. S. Gypsum.

But he worked ceaselessly at improving those individual relationships. "Once that spirit could be developed in Berlin," he hoped, "it would spread beyond Germany to our own capitals . . . a modus vivendi between East and West was our first objective."

And he added, "... The alternative to success (of American-Soviet relations) seemed so terrifying to contemplate that all of us on occupation duty sought every possible avenue through which progress might be achieved."

He left no stone unturned to accomplish what he now knows was a doomed task. And he seemed to be getting somewhere on his August (1945) trip to Moscow when Stalin asked him to become the first foreigner ever to review a demonstration from the Tomb of Lenin.

Loyalty Class Stages Dinner

FROSTBURG—The Loyalty Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church recently held a turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Close.

Miss Louise Shaffer, a charter member, conducted the devotions and a Christmas story was read by Mrs. Harold R. Stoudt, wife of the pastor. Carols were sung by the group with Mrs. Howard Shaffer playing the accompaniments and the scripture was by Mrs. Ronald Cosgrove.

Others attending were Rev. Harold R. Stoudt, James Engle Mesdames Thomas Rank, Everett Lemmert, Harry Brode, Myrtle Knieriem, Ada Dillon, Edgar Frank, Cora Wittig, Bertha Wittig, Eva Crosby, Myrtle Steele, George Sires, Elizabeth Wright, Idella Dickle, Cecil Engle, Emma Keller, Marian Jenkins, Arch Davis, John Close, Bertha Arnold, Eldridge Crowe, Walter Lindeman, Jesse Pfaff and Miss Melda Engle.

Daughters Enjoy Holiday Party

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Members of Court Sancta Maria, No. 485, Catholic Daughters of America, was followed by a Christmas party.

A turkey dinner was served by Mrs. Anna Davis, and her committee Mrs. Madge Carey, Mrs. Lillian Wilson, Mrs. Teresa DiMasi, Mrs. Rosetta Amann, Mrs. Mildred Laughlin, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. Catherine Iansceo. Miss Eleanor Davis, Miss Margaret Spicer and Miss Winifred Small.

Mrs. Catherine Iabacci, as Santa Claus, presented gifts to all. Miss Margaret Spicer and Mrs. Minnie Morgan presented a comic skit. Miss Beatrice Fahey and Miss Naoma Flanagan gave humorous readings.

Rev. George Pugh, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, was a guest of honor and was presented with a rememberance in appreciation of his services to the court.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

CAN'T TELL EVERYTHING

CONTRACT bridge is a game in which you have to choose what information is most important to give your partner.. You can't tell him everything, but are obliged to withhold certain facts because you consider others may be more valuable to him. Take the case of a hand with just about the amount of total strength shown by an original bid of 2-No Trumps. Maybe the distribution of the hand is such that it is better to use a suit bid, even though it can't begin to advertise the exact strength as well.

South was afraid to bid any more after that, so at game in No Trumps he tried it. Unfortunately for South, West selected the diamond 3 for his lead. Seeing that he had two stoppers in the suit only if West held the K, South came in with dummy's Q. The K killed it quickly and, noting no purpose in a hold-up, South won with the A. Now the contract depended entirely on finding the spade K in the East, singly guarded, which would enable South to score five tricks in that suit plus enough others. When that proved not to be so, he was ruined.

It happened that South held exactly enough total strength for a 2-No Trumps bid of the kind he and his partner used. He considered that 1-Spade would not show anything like his great strength, and that 2-Spades would be an overbid. But calm reflection should have told him that, unless North had the bare minimum to bid something after 1-Spade, there probably would be no game in the hand. As it happens, that sound opening would have led to a spade game contract in which ten tricks would have been more than probable. Indeed, twelve could have been taken by trying all finesses in sight. An opening No Trump bid of any size when holding a good five-card major suit would not pay many dividends in the long run.

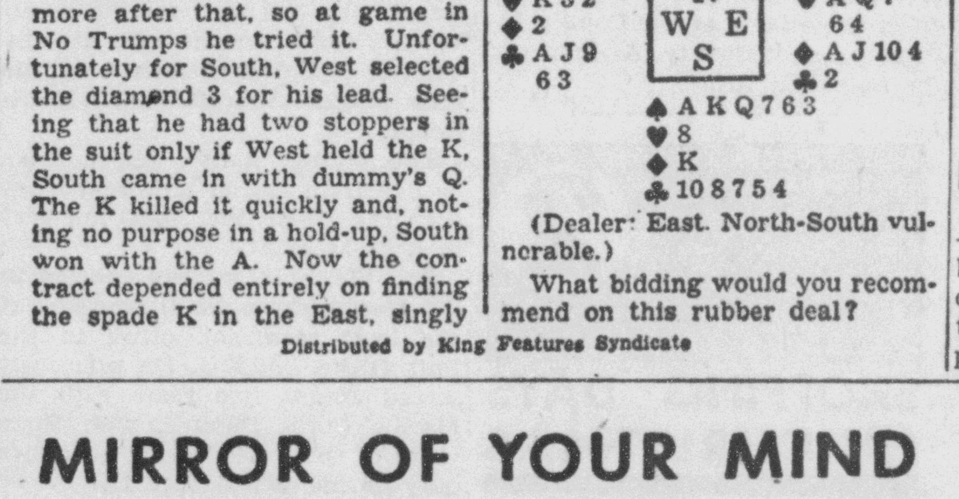
MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

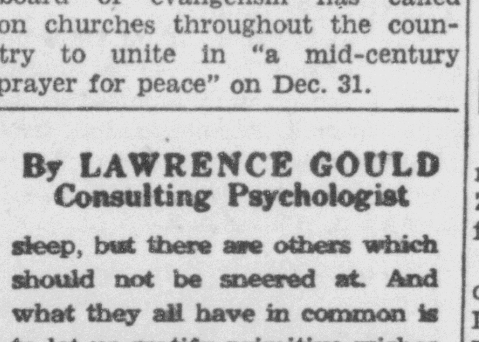


Will "striving to please" make people like you?

Answer: Not necessarily. A genuine interest in making other people happy will unquestionably tend to make them like you. But "breaking your neck to please them" is more apt to have the opposite effect. For one thing the feeling that they are taking advantage of you will make them uncomfortable. But what's even more important, you can't help resenting the fact that (as you suppose) you have to pay so high a price for their good will. And try as you may to hide it, your resentment will be bound to seep through, somehow.

Do normal people need "escapes"?

Answer: Certainly. It is everyone's task to "adjust himself to reality," but no one can do this twenty-four hours a day without frustrating his natural instincts to a dangerous degree. The most complete "escape" is, of course, sleep, but there are others which should not be sneered at. And what they all have in common is to let us gratify primitive wishes in imagination without the risks doing so in real life would involve. At the movies, for example, you can fight—or love—vicariously and suffer no painful consequences.



Do "achievement tests" show whether a child is loved?

Answer: Yes, reports psychologist Henry Feinberg in the Journal of Genetic Psychology. The results of an achievement test given to fifty girls and fifty boys living in friendly foster homes were compared with those of children from an institution for the maladjusted. Except for arithmetical reasoning, the foster children made a better showing in all subjects, though they averaged considerably younger. The frustration of a child's need for love and affection can be detected from his "pattern of performance" in anything he does.

Utilities' Strong Showing Keeps Market Out Of Slump

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—A sparkling advance by utilities today kept the stock market out of a slump by a very narrow margin.

Rails and utilities were prominent in the list of the most active issues. Missouri-Kansas-Texas common topped the list with a gain of 1⅜ at 11. New York Central came second, off ⅛ at 21½, the only loser in the 15 most active issues. Katy preferred, 14th most active, was up 2⅛ at 51¼.

Utilities showed the best strength. Peoples Gas was up 2½ at 112½, Southern Carolina Electric & Gas ⅝ at 8⅝, North American Co. 1¼ at 17½, Southern Co. ⅝ at 11⅛, Standard Gas $4 preferred 1¼ at 70¼, Houston Light & Power 1⅝ at 52½, Niagara Mohawk Power 1⅛ at 20⅝, Consolidated Edison 1⅛ at 30, and Public Service Electric & Gas 1⅛ at 21⅞.

Paramount was up 1⅛ at 21⅜.

Radio Corp. gained ⅛ at 17⅛, and Columbia Broadcasting System "A" lost a point at 28⅝.

Illinois Central was down 2⅞.

The volume came to 2,090,000 shares as compared with yesterday's 3,500,000 shares. There were 1,182 individual issues traded of which 502 advanced and 436 declined.

Among shares a few cents lower were U. S. Steel 41, Bethlehem Steel 48⅝, General Motors 45⅜, Chrysler 67⅜, Boeing 39⅞, Anaconda Copper 37¾, du Pont 82, American 92¾, Sinclair Oil 33¼, and Southern Railway 50½.

Goodyear was up 1¼ at 64⅞, Goodrich 1½ at 125¼, Caterpillar Tractor 1¼ at 51½, Homestake Mining 1½ at 35¼, and McIntyre-Porcupine 1¾ at 49½. Others up a few cents including Douglas Aircraft, Admiral Radio, Philco, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical, and U. S. Gypsum.

But he worked ceaselessly at improving those individual relationships. "Once that spirit could be developed in Berlin," he hoped, "it would spread beyond Germany to our own capitals . . . a modus vivendi between East and West was our first objective."

And he added, ". . . The alternative to success (of American-Soviet relations) seemed so terrifying to contemplate that all of us on occupation duty sought every possible avenue through which progress might be achieved."

He left no stone unturned to accomplish what he now knows was a doomed task. And he seemed to be getting somewhere on his August (1945) trip to Moscow when Stalin asked him to become the first foreigner ever to review a demonstration from the Tomb of Lenin.

Loyalty Class Stages Dinner

FROSTBURG—The Loyalty Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church recently held a turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Close.

Miss Louise Shaffer, a charter member, conducted the devotions and a Christmas story was read by Mrs. Harold R. Stoudt, wife of the pastor. Carols were sung by the group with Mrs. Howard Shaffer playing the accompaniments and the scripture was by Mrs. Ronald Cosgrove.

Others attending were Rev. Harold R. Stoudt, James Engle Mesdames Thomas Rank, Everett Lemmert, Harry Brode, Myrtle Knieriem, Ada Dillon, Edgar Frank, Cora Wittig, Bertha Wittig, Eva Crosby, Myrtle Steele, George Sires, Elizabeth Wright, Idella Dickle, Cecil Engle, Emma Keller, Marian Jenkins, Arch Davis, John Close, Bertha Arnold, Eldridge Crowe, Walter Lindeman, Jesse Pfaff and Miss Melda Engle.

Daughters Enjoy Holiday Party

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Members of Court Sancta Maria, No. 485, Catholic Daughters of America, was followed by a Christmas party.

A turkey dinner was served by Mrs. Anna Davis, and her committee Mrs. Madge Carey, Mrs. Lillian Wilson, Mrs. Teresa DiMasi, Mrs. Rosetta Amann, Mrs. Mildred Laughlin, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. Catherine Iansceo. Miss Eleanor Davis, Miss Margaret Spicer and Miss Winifred Small.

Mrs. Catherine Iabacci, as Santa Claus, presented gifts to all. Miss Margaret Spicer and Mrs. Minnie Morgan presented a comic skit. Miss Beatrice Fahey and Miss Naoma Flanagan gave humorous readings.

Rev. George Pugh, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, was a guest of honor and was presented with a rememberance in appreciation of his services to the court.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

CAN'T TELL EVERYTHING

CONTRACT bridge is a game in which you have to choose what information is most important to give your partner. You can't tell him everything, but are obliged to withhold certain facts because you consider others may be more valuable to him. Take the case of a hand with just about the amount of total strength shown by an original bid of 2-No Trumps. Maybe the distribution of the hand is such that it is better to use a suit bid, even though it can't begin to advertise the exact strength as well.

South was afraid to bid any more after that, so at game in No Trumps he tried it. Unfortunately for South, West selected the diamond 3 for his lead. Seeing that he had two stoppers in the suit only if West held the K, South came in with dummy's Q. The K killed it quickly and, noting no purpose in a hold-up, South won with the A. Now the contract depended entirely on finding the spade K in the East, singly guarded, which would enable South to score five tricks in that suit plus enough others. When that proved not to be so, he was ruined.

It happened that South held exactly enough total strength for a 2-No Trumps bid of the kind he and his partner used. He considered that 1-Spade would not show anything like his great strength, and that 2-Spades would be an overbid. But calm reflection should have told him that, unless North had the bare minimum to bid something after 1-Spade, there probably would be no game in the hand. As it happens, that sound opening would have led to a spade game contract in which ten tricks would have been more than probable. Indeed, twelve could have been taken by trying all finesses in sight. An opening No Trump bid of any size when holding a good five-card major suit would not pay many dividends in the long run.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

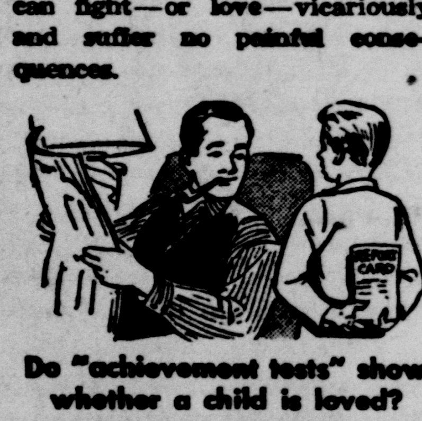
By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Will "striving to please" make people like you?

Answer: Not necessarily. A genuine interest in making other people happy will unquestionably tend to make them like you. But "breaking your neck to please them" is more apt to have the opposite effect. For one thing the feeling that they are taking advantage of you will make them uncomfortable. But what's even more important, you can't help resenting the fact that (as you suppose) you have to pay so high a price for their good will. And try as you may to hide it, your resentment will be bound to seep through, somehow.

Do normal people need "escapes"?

Answer: Certainly. It is everyone's task to "adjust himself to reality," but no one can do this twenty-four hours a day without frustrating his natural instincts to a dangerous degree. The most complete "escape" is, of course, sleep, but there are others which should not be sneered at. And what they all have in common is to let us gratify primitive wishes in imagination without the risks doing so in real life would involve. At the movies, for example, you can fight—or love—vicariously and suffer no painful consequences.



Do "achievement tests" show whether a child is loved?

Answer: Yes, reports psychologist Henry Feinberg in the Journal of Genetic Psychology. The results of an achievement test given to fifty girls and fifty boys living in friendly foster homes were compared with those of children from an institution for the maladjusted. Except for arithmetical reasoning, the foster children made a better showing in all subjects, though they averaged considerably younger. The frustration of a child's need for love and affection can be detected from his "pattern of performance" in anything he does.

Utilities' Strong Showing Keeps Market Out Of Slump

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—A sparkling advance by utilities today kept the stock market out of a slump by a very narrow margin.

Rails and utilities were prominent in the list of the most active issues. Missouri-Kansas-Texas common topped the list with a gain of 1⅜ at 11. New York Central came second, off ⅛ at 21½, the only loser in the 15 most active issues. Katy preferred, 14th most active, was up 2⅛ at 51¼.

Utilities showed the best strength. Peoples Gas was up 2½ at 112½, Southern Carolina Electric & Gas ⅝ at 8⅝, North American Co. 1¼ at 17½, Southern Co. ⅝ at 11⅛, Standard Gas $4 preferred 1¼ at 70¼, Houston Light & Power 1⅝ at 52½, Niagara Mohawk Power 1⅛ at 20⅝, Consolidated Edison 1⅛ at 30, and Public Service Electric & Gas 1⅛ at 21⅞.

Paramount was up 1⅛ at 21⅜.

Radio Corp. gained ⅛ at 17⅛, and Columbia Broadcasting System "A" lost a point at 28⅝.

Illinois Central was down 2⅞.

The volume came to 2,990,000 shares as compared with yesterday's 3,500,000 shares. There were 1,182 individual issues traded of which 502 advanced and 436 declined.

Among shares a few cents lower were U. S. Steel 41, Bethlehem Steel 48⅝, General Motors 45⅝, Chrysler 67⅜, Boeing 39⅞, Anaconda Copper 37⅜, du Pont 82, American 92¾, Sinclair Oil 33¼, and Southern Railway 50½.

Goodyear was up 1¼ at 64⅞, Goodrich 1½ at 125¼, Caterpillar Tractor 1¼ at 51⅛, Homestake Mining 1½ at 35¼, and McIntyre-Porcupine 1⅜ at 49½. Others up a few cents including Douglas Aircraft, Admiral Radio, Philco, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical, and U. S. Gypsum.

City Still Has Chance To Get Army Depot

Senator O'Conor's Appeal Submitted

Cumberland is apparently still in the picture as a possible site for the proposed Army Quartermaster Research Laboratory, it was learned here last night.

In a telegram from United States Senator Herbert R. O'Conor to William C. Walsh, the Senator disclosed that Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall has placed his appeal for location in Cumberland before the chairman of the Research Board, with requests that it might be considered by the site selection committee.

It was disclosed several days ago that of all the more than 200 possible sites which has been listed as seeking the laboratory, only three remained as possibilities. The committee has screened all applications and eliminated all but three.

No one would say definitely if Cumberland is one of the three, but these is some optimism on this score.

However, David Kauffman, chairman of the Steering Committee for Economic Development, and others who were in Washington, D. C., a few days ago in the interests of locating the depot here, said, "We are not too optimistic, but are remaining hopeful."

The laboratory will employ several hundred persons including both civilian and army personnel, and the Army wants it located within a reasonable distance of Washington, it has been indicated.

Cumberland, in view of its listing as one of the nation's number one critical areas of unemployment, is given an outside chance of getting this or some other governmental facility to help relieve the jobless problem.

Officials are urging the location here for this and a number of other pertinent reasons.

City Defers Plan For Rent Control Law

Plans for enacting a rent control ordinance for Cumberland were deferred yesterday after city officials received confirmation of the signing of a federal rent control law.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said W. Earle Cobey, city attorney, yesterday called Washington to secure official confirmation of the signing of the law extending federal rent controls for 90 days.

He said a resolution to continue rent controls in this city would have been entered at Tuesday's meeting of the Mayor and Council if the federal legislation had not become law by that time.

Mayor Post explained that any further action on rent regulation will be deferred until March, when the course of federal controls will be clearer.

Monday's meeting of the Mayor and Council has been postponed until Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and the January 1 meeting, which falls on New Year's day, will be held Tuesday, January 2, at 7:30 p. m.

Zion Church Plans Two Special Services

Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church will mark the Sunday before Christmas with two special services.

At the morning worship service at 10:45 a. m., the choir will sing the Christmas Cantata, entitled, "Childe Jesus," by Joseph W. Clokey and Hazel Jean Kirk, with Mrs. Louise Emerick at the organ.

Soloists for this cantata will be Miss Helen Mae Kreiling, Mrs. Valetta Kinsley, Charles Robinette, Sr., Earl Diehl and Homer Schadt.

Rev. Raymond A. Faulds, Jr., who directs the choir, will serve as narrator.

The annual Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be held Sunday evening at 11 p. m. This is to be a service of carols and candles. The pastor will speak on the theme, "Glory To God in the Highest." Choir selections are, "Cantique de Noel" by Adam, and "Gesu Bambino" by Pietro Yon.

The public is invited to these services.

New B. & O. Cars Set Precedent

Three strata-dome sleeping cars, the first to appear on any railroad in the East, were placed in service this week on two Baltimore and Ohio Railroad trains which pass through Cumberland.

Of the three units, built by the Budd Company of Philadelphia, two were placed in service on the B & O's famous "Capitol Limited," between Washington and Chicago. The third will operate on the B & O's "Shenandoah," between Washington and Chicago, making the westbound trip one day, and the eastbound trip on the succeeding day.

Each of the three new cars has a glass-roofed dome with 24 seats on an upper level. On its lower level, each car has five roomettes, one single bedroom, and three large double drawing rooms. Each double drawing room is fitted with three arm chairs for daytime use and twin beds for sleeping.

The B & O also has strata-dome coaches on its "New Columbian" streamliner between Washington and Chicago.

Christmas Display Arranged At Library

An attractive Christmas display has been arranged in the first-floor showcase at the Cumberland Public Library.

In the case are figures representing Mary, Joseph and the Christchild along with figures of shepherds and wise men walking toward Bethlehem.

WOW Yule Party Sunday

Mountain City Camp, No. 6, Woodmen of the World, will hold its annual kiddies' Christmas party Sunday at 2:30 p. m. on the first floor of the Woodmen Home, 144 Union Street, it was announced yesterday.

Members of the club, their families and friends and invited guests are requested to attend. Mrs. Lucille Hansrote will accompany a community sing and specialty numbers at the piano during the program. Santa Claus will make a visit to the affair and will distribute gifts and candy to those attending.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes George E. Sommerkamp, chairman, John German, Sebastian Spera, Lawrence Lease, Blair Kiser and Earl Shafer.

Queen City Grove No. 1, Woodman Circle, the ladies auxiliary will assist in arrangements and serving refreshments and about 450 children of the two junior clubs, the Frederick C. Dreyer Camp No. J-89, Junior Woodmen, and Juniors of the Forest No. J-1, are expected to be present.

Trainman Is Ill

Clarence E. Miller, 63, of 119 Arch Street, veteran B & O passenger train engineer, was reported critically ill in a Pittsburgh, Pa., hospital yesterday. He became ill Tuesday in the washroom of the P & L E station, Pittsburgh.

Eagles Treat Huge Throng At Yule Party

St. Nick Greets 4,500 Youngsters

Santa Claus was really busy yesterday.

At the home of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, more than 4,500 children of Cumberland and vicinity attended the lodge's annual Christmas party and were greeted by a jolly and jovial St. Nick, about 30 members of the order and a squadron of city police and firemen.

Before the party began at 4 p.m. a solid double line of children stretched for more than a city block, waiting to meet Santa Claus and receive a liberal candy, nuts and orange treat, plus a comic book.

Ranging in ages from babes in the arms of their mothers to about 12 or 14 years, all types, races, colors and creeds joined in a happy holiday event.

Colorful Setting

Christmas music filled the huge hallway and a gaily lighted Christmas scene, along with other garlands and Yuletide decorations completed the picture. Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time.

After it was all over and the last little youngster had come in for his treat, the tired workers and volunteers sat down to rest. Acting Fire Chief William Lindner, who was in charge of the firemen who volunteered their services to help escort the youngsters, commented, "I believe the Eagles had more fun at this party than the kids."

Lt. Raymond Johnson of the city police force was also on hand all afternoon with a group of regular and auxiliary officers. Traffic was directed carefully throughout the entire area, and the children were carefully helped in and out of the building.

Two city health nurses, on hand just in case of mishap or sickness, said nothing unfortunate happened to mar the event and they had little to do except keep a watchful eye on the young guests.

Special Party Held

The big community party was preceded by the scheduled Christmas treat, movie, and entertainment for about 200 little wards of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children and the Allegany County Rheumatic Fever and Heart Association. These handicapped youngsters were transported by the Eagles to the lodge hall at noon, and special provisions were made to see that each was comfortably seated in the hall during the party.

They were returned to their homes just before the big crowd arrived.

Members of the Eagles, after the party was over agreed that the affair was a great success and a thrilling, moving scene. They began plans for next year. A couple hundred treats that were left over were given to patients at the County Infirmary, and County Asylum and the Salvation Army.

Ridgeley Plans Annual Christmas Party Tonight

Treats Prepared For 400 Kiddies

The annual Christmas party and treat for the children of the Ridgeley, W. Va., community will be held tonight at 8 o'clock.

The party will be held in front of the community Christmas tree, erected opposite Frantz's market in Ridgeley.

Mayor B. Frank Magruder will officiate at the tree lighting ceremony, assisted by members of the town council.

Treats have been prepared for some 400 children of the community. They will be distributed by Santa Claus, impersonated by Robert Stoner.

Police Commissioner William Knieriem will act as master of ceremonies.

Carols will be sung by the Ridgeley High School Glee Club.

Members of the Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company have erected and decorated a 40 foot tree for the celebration.

The program is being sponsored by the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club, Ridgeley Lions Club, Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion and the Ridgeley Fire Company.

Bird Count Set For Saturday

Members of the Junior Nature Club will take their annual Christmas bird count Saturday night at eight different points in Allegany county.

Although most of the bird counters will complete their reports Saturday they have until the following Saturday, December 30, to do them, according to Mrs. G. M. Miller, club adviser. Anyone interested may submit a report.

Observers must be on the job for at least seven hours, must count the different species of birds and the number in each species. These results will be sent to the National Audubon Society in New York.

Leaders in the bird count will be Neil Smith, Leonard Llewellyn, Charles Baker, Bill Scott, Mrs. T. M. Andrews, James Deetz, Mrs. Miller and Richard Johnson. The bird counters will meet at the home of Mrs. Andrews on Allegany Street Saturday night for a report and Christmas party.

Local Marine Attached To Korea Squadron

Sgt. Altie L. Welsh, 25, son of Mrs. Lacy Ann Welsh, 112 Harrison Street, city, has been serving as an aircraft ordnanceman with an all-weather squadron attached to the First Marine Aircraft Wing in North Korea.

The Marine fighter pilots strike by day from carrier and land bases then the all-weather squadron goes to work at night.

Sgt. Welsh voluntarily enlisted in the Marine Corps for three years at the local recruiting office in the Post Office building. He previously served almost five years with the Marine Corps Reserve, with three years of this period being on active duty during World War II.

Move To Unseat Senator Fraley Will Be Made

Attorney Ryan Represents Gonder

Attorney Edward J. Ryan said yesterday a move will be made to unseat Senator Neil C. Fraley (R-Garrett) when the Legislature convenes next month.

Fraley won reelection last Nov. 7 by a 3,080-3,079 margin over Bernard I. Gonder, Oakland Democrat, who served in the Senate from 1943 to 1947.

Ryan, who is representing Gonder, said the defeated candidate will base his claim to the Senate seat "on grounds of error in counting the ballots."

"The question of fraud is not being considered," Ryan added, "for therei s no hint of that. We feel that some errors have been made and we want the ballots recounted."

If the matter is introduced in the Senate when Fraley stands to receive his oath of office and turned over to the Elections Committee, and the committee grants Gonder's request, the ballots in all probability would be delivered to Annapolis for recounting there.

Ryan said all requirements preliminary to such a step have been met. These include notifying the successful candidate within 10 days after the election that such action is contemplated.

Dr. R. W. Ballin To Begin Duty In Medical Corps

Is Assigned To Denver Hospital

Dr. Ralph W. Ballin, 62 Greene Street, will report to Fitzsimmons General Hospital, Denver, Colo., soon to begin a 21-month-tour of duty with the Army Medical Corps.

Dr. Ballin, a medical officer of Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard, recently asked for extended active service in the Army Medical Corps and was assigned to the Denver hospital.

He will return to Cumberland to resume his practice in internal medicine, specializing in diseases of the chest, when he is released from active duty in the Armed Services.

A graduate of the University of Cologne in 1935, Dr. Ballin practiced in Norwich, Conn., in 1944-45 and at the Maryland State Sanitorium at Sabillasville from 1945 to 1949.

A fellow of the American College of Chest Physicians, he came to Cumberland in February, 1949. He has conducted weekly chest clinics for the City and State Health Departments here in addition to his regular practice of medicine.

Dr. and Mrs. Ballin will leave here December 31 for the Army post. He will begin his duties there January 3.

He said that he will return to Cumberland to resume his practice when he is released from service.

News In Brief

The annual Christmas egg nog party of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, will be held Saturday night at the post home, Harrison Street.

A large Christmas tree has been erected in the Braddock Farms section of LaVale for the community Yule program tonight at 7:45 p. m. It will be the second annual carol sing and holiday program for residents of the area.

Carolers from Centre Street Methodist Church went through the halls of Allegany Hospital last night singing carols and hymns for the benefit of patients and nurses.

A Community Christmas program has been planned for the Bowman's Addition area and will be held tonight at the Fire Hall beginning at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Boyd Sulser is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the affair.

Weather

The sun momentarily peeked its nose through the cold, grey overcast yesterday and the thermometer perked up to its highest degree in three days. Some of the ice still remaining on the streets and sidewalks melted but the lowering temperatures last night gave doubts as to possibility of a warm spell. Official high for the day was 33 while the low was 15 degrees. At 9 o'clock last night mercury read 18 and was still dropping. City temperatures hit a high of 35 and a low of 20. Some snow flurries were seen yesterday. Fair and cold is predicted for early risers today with slowly rising temperatures during the day.

Chamber To Hear Smoke Control Progress Report

Interest Mounts In Federal Procurement

The progress of smoke control in this city will be discussed at the next luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be held January 19 at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA, with George M. Hitchcock, smoke abatement engineer for the City of Cumberland as principal speaker.

Hitchcock will discuss progress made here since the smoke abatement law was enacted.

Following his talk, members will participate in a general discussion on the subject.

Joseph M. Naughton, president, will be in charge of the meeting. Plans are being completed by the Civic Improvement and Membership Activities committees.

Plans for a meeting of directors of the Chamber last night were cancelled due to Christmas activities.

Scheduled tonight is a meeting of representatives of firms interested in securing government business.

Harold W. Smith, manager, said interest in the plan is growing, explaining that four more firms have indicated they plan to send representatives. Invitations were sent to 11 other businesses of the area.

The meeting, planned to discuss methods for joint bidding on government contracts, is slated at 8 p. m. in the Chamber office.

Under the proposed plan, a firm which is successful in securing a contract would sub-let part of the work to other firms.

Hopes for securing government work on a negotiated basis has spurred the already active local interest in federal procurement program.

Debnam Returns To Marine Office

Sgt. First Class Vernon Debnam, USMC, who formerly was stationed in Cumberland as a Marine recruiter, has returned as NCO in charge of the local station in the Post Office building.

Sgt. Debnam was transferred from recruiting service here in March, 1949, to the Second Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N. C., where he was a small arms instructor for infantry and artillerymen.

The veteran recruiter reported to the local station yesterday where he will take over his duties immediately. S-Sgt. Richard J. Holbrock, who has been in charge of the Marine recruiting division here, will remain as his assistant, Debnam said yesterday.

Debnam first spent 28 months as head of the local Marine recruiters here and previous to that time he had served a year in Hagerstown as chief Marine recruiter.

Two Men Enlist In Army Air Force

M/Sgt. Clarence Biehn, local Army recruiter, said yesterday that two more area men had enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Force and were sent to Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas, after passing their physicals at the main recruiting station in Martinsburg, W. Va.

The two Air Corps recruits are Kenneth F. Haines, 22, Springfield, W. Va., and Eugene H. Brant, 21, of 206 Virginia Avenue, city.

State's Attorney Still Probing Woman's Death

Deceased's Husband In County Jail

Investigation into the death Wednesday night of Mrs. Mary Darr, 40, Rawlings, who was crushed beneath the wheels of a truck cab driven by her husband will continue today, State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher said last night.

Fletcher would not state when the investigation would end, but indicated that a number of witnesses were being questioned. It was learned that Fletcher yesterday afternoon visited the point in front of the Darrs' residence on McMullen Highway where the fatal accident occurred.

The State's Attorney would make no other comment concerning the investigation last night.

Meanwhile, William Darr, 43, husband of the dead woman, was confined in the County Jail last night. He was brought there from the State's Attorney's office shortly after 1 p. m.

Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis said last night at the jail that, to his knowledge, no warrant has been issued for Darr's arrest. Lewis added that to his knowledge Darr had neither asked for an attorney to represent him nor had he talked with an attorney.

State Trooper Donald Wade, who investigated the accident, which occurred about 6 p. m. Wednesday, said that night that Mrs. Darr was standing on the running board of the vehicle and fell beneath the left rear dual-wheels.

Sheriff's deputies said that Darr told them a different version of the accident yesterday afternoon. Darr said at the jail, where he still was highly emotional, that he pulled the truck cab out of a driveway beside the lumber mill which he operates at Rawlings. This is located about 300 feet west of his residence. He had intended driving to a nearby store, he said. Darr explained that as he approached his residence his wife ran out the gate and onto the highway. He swerved to avoid hitting her, the deputies were told, but in so doing the right front fender or bumper struck her.

She died in Allegany Hospital about 11 p. m. Wednesday, some five hours after the accident. Darr said that he was puzzled as to why she ran into the road, the deputies added.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, attributed death to a crushed chest and crushed pelvis. The woman also suffered a fracture of the right upper leg and other injuries.

Following the mishap, police said, Darr was so distraught that he was unable to give a clear explanation of circumstances leading to the fatality. Mrs. Darr was in critical condition and could not be questioned before her death.

A daughter of the late Monroe and Nancy Ann Phillips, Mrs. Darr is survived by a son, William Darr, at home; three brothers, Charles M., Harry G., and John E. Phillips, all of Ridgeley, and two sisters, Mrs. Claude Seibert, North Branch, and Mrs. Delton Parker, Spring Gap.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home.

4-H Holiday Party Planned December 29

The Junior Extension 4-H Club holiday party for Allegany county will be held at 8 p. m. Friday, December 29, at LaVale Fire Hall, according to Miss Maude A. Bean, county home demonstration agent.

Invited are Junior Extension 4-H Club members and friends, 4-H Club leaders and friends and 4-H boys and girls 13 years and older. The program will include recreation, stories and music.

Births Announced

Memorial Hospital announces the following borths:

Mr. and Mrs. Everett McClung, Lonaconing, a son yesterday morning.

Allegany Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stahlman, Eilerslie, a daughter, yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Connelly, Route 6, city, a daughter Wednesday night.

Dr. and Mrs. Allen Trevaskis, Allentown, Pa., announce the birth of a son yesterday morning in Allentown Hospital. Mrs. Trevaskis is the former Miss Margaret Frazee, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Frazee, Baltimore Street, and Dr. Trevaskis is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard W. Trevaskis, Baltimore Avenue.

Hospital Employes In City To Get New Year Pay Raises

Cost of living wage hikes and increases in rates after the first of the year were announced yesterday by Memorial and Allegany Hospitals.

John A. Moberly, superintendent of Memorial Hospital, said wage boosts of $10 a month will be granted to all fulltime employes, of whom there are about 250. The increases, of course, are not granted to student nurses who are not in the employe category.

Moberly pointed out that all inpatient rates will be increased by $1 per day. For example, rates in the six-bed ward will be increased from $5.50 to $6.50, the four-bed ward from $6.50 to $7.50, semi-private rooms will go up from $7.50 to $8.50, and private rooms from $10 to $11.

At Allegany Hospital, Sister Angela, superintendent, said rates will be increased on a basis about the same as at Memorial Hospital.

Wage increases also will be granted at Allegany after the first of the year, Sister Angela said.

Both institutions also announced that employes will be provided with Social Security coverage after the first of the year as a result of the changes in the Social Security law.

Sister Angela said Allegany's approximately 130 employes have indicated 100 per cent that they want to be included in Social Security coverage.

Moberly said 92 per cent of Memorial's employes have indicated a desire for coverage since the Board of Governor's of the hospital decided at their meeting December 4 to make the coverage available.

For Social Security to become effective for employes of non-profit institutions, 66⅔ of the employes must indicate such a desire, Moberly explained. Present employes have an option of taking or leaving it, but all new employes, once it becomes effective, must be participants.

Santa Visits Keating Day Nursery

Children attending the Keating Memorial Day Nursery here are seen yesterday posing with Santa Claus after merry gentleman distributed treats at the annual Christmas party. Among the 30 pre-school children at the party are David Knoche and Sharon Shanholtz, seen sitting on Santa's lap. Features of the party were song's, sung around the beautiful tree and crib, movies and a treat. The nursery, operated by the Sisters of Charity, will be closed Saturday, Sunday and Christmas Day.

Post Office To Deliver Late Parcels Christmas

Good news is in store for residents who are still looking for the arrival of late Christmas packages in the mail.

Thomas B. Cumiskey, Jr., local assistant postmaster, said yesterday that every effort will be made to clear the load of mail and packages before Christmas but that Yule parcels would be delivered Christmas Day if necessary to make certain that no one would be disappointed because of the non-arrival of expected gifts.

However, he added, this did not mean that late Christmas cards and letters will also be delivered Christmas Monday. Only parcels and packages that arrive at the last moment and can be handled in time would be treated with this special effort.

The peak of the local mailing spree seems to have been reached, Cumiskey reported, and the holiday mailing trend is now back to normal after the record influx of the past few days. But the situation is far from normal as far as delivery is concerned. The backlog of letters, cards and packages is particulary heavy right now, he related. Every effort is being made to clear up the load and it appears that most of the work can be completed by Sunday, Cumiskey thought.

Cumiskey said he hoped there would be no last minute rush now to get packages in the mail because of the thought that it will be handled Christmas Day. It is planned by the local Post Office that most of the employees be relieved of duties on Sunday and Monday if possible so only that amount of mail which can easily be taken care of for Monday will be handled, he stated.

City Still Has Chance To Get Army Depot

Senator O'Conor's Appeal Submitted

Cumberland is apparently still in the picture as a possible site for the proposed Army Quartermaster Research Laboratory, it was learned here last night.

In a telegram from United States Senator Herbert R. O'Conor to William C. Walsh, the Senator disclosed that Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall has placed his appeal for location in Cumberland before the chairman of the Research Board, with requests that it might be considered by the site selection committee.

It was disclosed several days ago that of all the more than 200 possible sites which has been listed as seeking the laboratory, only three remained as possibilities. The committee has screened all applications and eliminated all but three.

No one would say definitely if Cumberland is one of the three, but these is some optimism on this score.

However, David Kauffman, chairman of the Steering Committee for Economic Development, and others who were in Washington, D. C., a few days ago in the interests of locating the depot here, said, "We are not too optimistic, but are remaining hopeful."

The laboratory will employ several hundred persons including both civilian and army personnel, and the Army wants it located within a reasonable distance of Washington, it has been indicated.

Cumberland, in view of its listing as one of the nation's number one critical areas of unemployment, is given an outside chance of getting this or some other governmental facility to help relieve the jobless problem.

Officials are urging the location here for this and a number of other pertinent reasons.

City Defers Plan For Rent Control Law

Plans for enacting a rent control ordinance for Cumberland were deferred yesterday after city officials received confirmation of the signing of a federal rent control law.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said W. Earle Cobey, city attorney, yesterday called Washington to secure official confirmation of the signing of the law extending federal rent controls for 90 days.

He said a resolution to continue rent controls in this city would have been entered at Tuesday's meeting of the Mayor and Council if the federal legislation had not become law by that time.

Mayor Post explained that any further action on rent regulation will be deferred until March, when the course of federal controls will be clearer.

Monday's meeting of the Mayor and Council has been postponed until Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and the January 1 meeting, which falls on New Year's day, will be held Tuesday, January 2, at 7:30 p. m.

Zion Church Plans Two Special Services

Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church will mark the Sunday before Christmas with two special services.

At the morning worship service at 10:45 a. m., the choir will sing the Christmas Cantata, entitled, "Childe Jesus," by Joseph W. Clokey and Hazel Jean Kirk, with Mrs. Louise Emerick at the organ.

Soloists for this cantata will be Miss Helen Mae Kreiling, Mrs. Valetta Kinsley, Charles Robinette, Sr., Earl Diehl and Homer Schadt.

Rev. Raymond A. Faulds, Jr., who directs the choir, will serve as narrator.

The annual Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be held Sunday evening at 11 p. m. This is to be a service of carols and candles. The pastor will speak on the theme, "Glory To God in the Highest." Choir selections are, "Cantique de Noel" by Adam, and "Gesu Bambino" by Pietro Yon.

The public is invited to these services.

New B. & O. Cars Set Precedent

Three strata-dome sleeping cars, the first to appear on any railroad in the East, were placed in service this week on two Baltimore and Ohio Railroad trains which pass through Cumberland.

Of the three units, built by the Budd Company of Philadelphia, two were placed in service on the B & O's famous "Capitol Limited," between Washington and Chicago. The third will operate on the B & O's "Shenandoah," between Washington and Chicago, making the westbound trip one day, and the eastbound trip on the succeeding day.

Each of the three new cars has a glass-roofed dome with 24 seats on an upper level. On its lower level, each car has five roomettes, one single bedroom, and three large double drawing rooms. Each double drawing room is fitted with three arm chairs for daytime use and twin beds for sleeping.

The B & O also has strata-dome coaches on its "New Columbian" streamliner between Washington and Chicago.

Move To Unseat Senator Fraley Will Be Made

Attorney Ryan Represents Gonder

Attorney Edward J. Ryan said yesterday a move will be made to unseat Senator Neil C. Fraley (R-Garrett) when the Legislature convenes next month.

Fraley won reelection last Nov. 7 by a 3,080-3,079 margin over Bernard I. Gonder, Oakland Democrat, who served in the Senate from 1943 to 1947.

Ryan, who is representing Gonder, said the defeated candidate will base his claim to the Senate seat "on grounds of error in counting the ballots."

"The question of fraud is not being considered," Ryan added, "for therei s no hint of that. We feel that some errors have been made and we want the ballots recounted."

If the matter is introduced in the Senate when Fraley stands to receive his oath of office and turned over to the Elections Committee, and the committee grants Gonder's request, the ballots in all probability would be delivered to Annapolis for recounting there.

Ryan said all requirements preliminary to such a step have been met. These include notifying the successful candidate within 10 days after the election that such action is contemplated.

Dr. R. W. Ballin To Begin Duty In Medical Corps

Is Assigned To Denver Hospital

Dr. Ralph W. Ballin, 62 Greene Street, will report to Fitzsimmons General Hospital, Denver, Colo., soon to begin a 21-month-tour of duty with the Army Medical Corps.

Dr. Ballin, a medical officer of Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard, recently asked for extended active service in the Army Medical Corps and was assigned to the Denver hospital.

He will return to Cumberland to resume his practice in internal medicine, specializing in diseases of the chest, when he is released from active duty in the Armed Services.

A graduate of the University of Cologne in 1935, Dr. Ballin practiced in Norwich, Conn., in 1944-45 and at the Maryland State Sanitorium at Sabillasville from 1945 to 1949.

A fellow of the American College of Chest Physicians, he came to Cumberland in February, 1949. He has conducted weekly chest clinics for the City and State Health Departments here in addition to his regular practice of medicine.

Dr. and Mrs. Ballin will leave here December 31 for the Army post. He will begin his duties there January 3.

He said that he will return to Cumberland to resume his practice when he is released from service.

News In Brief

The annual Christmas egg nog party of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, will be held Saturday night at the post home, Harrison Street.

A large Christmas tree has been erected in the Braddock Farms section of LaVale for the community Yule program tonight at 7:45 p. m. It will be the second annual carol sing and holiday program for residents of the area.

Carolers from Centre Street Methodist Church went through the halls of Allegany Hospital last night singing carols and hymns for the benefit of patients and nurses.

A Community Christmas program has been planned for the Bowman's Addition area and will be held tonight at the Fire Hall beginning at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Boyd Sulser is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the affair.

Weather

The sun momentarily peeked its nose through the cold, grey overcast yesterday and the thermometer perked up to its highest degree in three days. Some of the ice still remaining on the streets and sidewalks melted but the lowering temperatures last night gave doubts as to possibility of a warm spell. Official high for the day was 33 while the low was 15 degrees. At 9 o'clock last night mercury read 18 and was still dropping. City temperatures hit a high of 35 and a low of 20. Some snow flurries were seen yesterday. Fair and cold is predicted for early risers today with slowly rising temperatures during the day.

Chamber To Hear Smoke Control Progress Report

Interest Mounts In Federal Procurement

The progress of smoke control in this city will be discussed at the next luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be held January 19 at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA, with George M. Hitchcock, smoke abatement engineer for the City of Cumberland as principal speaker.

Hitchcock will discuss progress made here since the smoke abatement law was enacted.

Following his talk, members will participate in a general discussion on the subject.

Joseph M. Naughton, president, will be in charge of the meeting. Plans are being completed by the Civic Improvement and Membership Activities committees.

Plans for a meeting of directors of the Chamber last night were cancelled due to Christmas activities.

Scheduled tonight is a meeting of representatives of firms interested in securing government business.

Harold W. Smith, manager, said interest in the plan is growing, explaining that four more firms have indicated they plan to send representatives. Invitations were sent to 11 other businesses of the area.

The meeting, planned to discuss methods for joint bidding on government contracts, is slated at 8 p.. m. in the Chamber office.

Under the proposed plan, a firm which is successful in securing a contract would sub-let part of the work to other firms.

Hopes for securing government work on a negotiated basis has spurred the already active local interest in federal procurement program.

Debnam Returns To Marine Office

Sgt. First Class Vernon Debnam, USMC, who formerly was stationed in Cumberland as a Marine recruiter, has returned as NCO in charge of the local station in the Post Office building.

Sgt. Debnam was transferred from recruiting service here in March, 1949, to the Second Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N. C., where he was a small arms instructor for infantry and artillerymen.

The veteran recruiter reported to the local station yesterday where he will take over his duties immediately. S-Sgt. Richard J. Holbrock, who has been in charge of the Marine recruiting division here, will remain as his assistant, Debnam said yesterday.

Debnam first spent 28 months as head of the local Marine recruiters here and previous to that time he had served a year in Hagerstown as chief Marine recruiter.

Two Men Enlist In Army Air Force

M/Sgt. Clarence Biehn, local Army recruiter, said yesterday that two more area men had enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Force and were sent to Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas, after passing their physicals at the main recruiting station in Martinsburg, W. Va.

The two Air Corps recruits are Kenneth F. Haines, 22, Springfield, W. Va., and Eugene H. Brant, 21, of 206 Virginia Avenue, city.

State's Attorney Still Probing Woman's Death

Deceased's Husband In County Jail

Investigation into the death Wednesday night of Mrs. Mary Darr, 40, Rawlings, who was crushed beneath the wheels of a truck cab driven by her husband will continue today, State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher said last night.

Fletcher would not state when the investigation would end, but indicated that a number of witnesses were being questioned. It was learned that Fletcher yesterday afternoon visited the point in front of the Darrs' residence on McMullen Highway where the fatal accident occurred.

The State's Attorney would make no other comment concerning the investigation last night.

Meanwhile, William Darr, 43, husband of the dead woman, was confined in the County Jail last night. He was brought there from the State's Attorney's office shortly after 1 p. m.

Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis said last night at the jail that, to his knowledge, no warrant has been issued for Darr's arrest. Lewis added that to his knowledge Darr had neither asked for an attorney to represent him nor had he talked with an attorney.

State Trooper Donald Wade, who investigated the accident, which occurred about 6 p. m. Wednesday, said that night that Mrs. Darr was standing on the running board of the vehicle and fell beneath the left rear dual-wheels.

Sheriff's deputies said that Darr told them a different version of the accident yesterday afternoon. Darr said at the jail, where he still was highly emotional, that he pulled the truck cab out of a driveway beside the lumber mill which he operates at Rawlings. This is located about 300 feet west of his residence. He had intended driving to a nearby store, he said. Darr explained that as he approached his residence his wife ran out the gate and onto the highway. He swerved to avoid hitting her, the deputies were told, but in so doing the right front fender or bumper struck her.

She died in Allegany Hospital about 11 p. m. Wednesday, some five hours after the accident. Darr said that he was puzzled as to why she ran into the road, the deputies added.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, attributed death to a crushed chest and crushed pelvis. The woman also suffered a fracture of the right upper leg and other injuries.

Following the mishap, police said, Darr was so distraught that he was unable to give a clear explanation of circumstances leading to the fatality. Mrs. Darr was in critical condition and could not be questioned before her death.

A daughter of the late Monroe and Nancy Ann Phillips, Mrs. Darr is survived by a son, William Darr, at home; three brothers, Charles M., Harry G., and John E. Phillips, all of Ridgeley, and two sisters, Mrs. Claude Seibert, North Branch, and Mrs. Delton Parker, Spring Gap.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home.

4-H Holiday Party Planned December 29

The Junior Extension 4-H Club holiday party for Allegany county will be held at 8 p. m. Friday, December 29, at LaVale Fire Hall, according to Miss Maude A. Bean, county home demonstration agent.

Invited are Junior Extension 4-H Club members and friends, 4-H Club leaders and friends and 4-H boys and girls 13 years and older. The program will include recreation, stories and music.

Births Announced

Memorial Hospital announces the following borths:

Mr. and Mrs. Everett McClung, Lonaconing, a son yesterday morning.

Allegany Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stahlman, Ellerslie, a daughter, yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Connelly, Route 6, city, a daughter Wednesday night.

Dr. and Mrs. Allen Trevaskis, Allentown, Pa., announce the birth of a son yesterday morning in Allentown Hospital. Mrs. Trevaskis is the former Miss Margaret Frazee, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Frazee, Baltimore Street, and Dr. Trevaskis is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard W. Trevaskis, Baltimore Avenue.

Hospital Employes In City To Get New Year Pay Raises

Cost of living wage hikes and increases in rates after the first of the year were announced yesterday by Memorial and Allegany Hospitals.

John A. Moberly, superintendent of Memorial Hospital, said wage boosts of $10 a month will be granted to all fulltime employes, of whom there are about 250. The increases, of course, are not granted to student nurses who are not in the employe category.

Moberly pointed out that all inpatient rates will be increased by $1 per day. For example, rates in the six-bed ward will be increased from $5.50 to $6.50, the four-bed ward from $6.50 to $7.50, semi-private rooms will go up from $7.50 to $8.50, and private rooms from $10 to $11.

At Allegany Hospital, Sister Angela, superintendent, said rates will be increased on a basis about the same as at Memorial Hospital.

Wage increases also will be granted at Allegany after the first of the year, Sister Angela said.

Both institutions also announced that employes will be provided with Social Security coverage after the first of the year as a result of the changes in the Social Security law.

Sister Angela said Allegany's approximately 130 employes have indicated 100 per cent that they want to be included in Social Security coverage.

Moberly said 92 per cent of Memorial's employes have indicated a desire for coverage since the Board of Governor's of the hospital decided at their meeting December 4 to make the coverage available.

For Social Security to become effective for employes of non-profit institutions, 66⅔ of the employes must indicate such a desire, Moberly explained. Present employes have an option of taking or leaving it, but all new employes, once it becomes effective, must be participants.

Santa Visits Keating Day Nursery

Children attending the Keating Memorial Day Nursery here are seen yesterday posing with Santa Claus after that merry gentleman distributed treats at the annual Christmas party. Among the 30 preschool children at the party are David Knoche and Sharon Shanholtz, seen sitting on Santa's lap. Features of the party were song's, sung around the beautiful tree and crib, movies and a treat. The nursery, operated by the Sisters of Charity, will be closed Saturday, Sunday and Christmas Day.

Post Office To Deliver Late Parcels Christmas

Good news is in store for residents who are still looking for the arrival of late Christmas packages in the mail.

Thomas B. Cumiskey, Jr., local assistant postmaster, said yesterday that every effort will be made to clear the load of mail and packages before Christmas but that Yule parcels would be delivered Christmas Day if necessary to make certain that no one would be disappointed because of the non-arrival of expected gifts.

However, he added, this did not mean that late Christmas cards and letters will also be delivered Christmas Monday. Only parcels and packages that arrive at the last moment and can be handled in time would be treated with this special effort.

The peak of the local mailing spree seems to have been reached, Cumiskey reported, and the holiday mailing trend is now back to normal after the record influx of the past few days. But the situation is far from normal as far as delivery is concerned. The backlog of letters, cards and packages is particulary heavy right now, he related. Every effort is being made to clear up the load and it appears that most of the work can be completed by Sunday, Cumiskey thought.

Cumiskey said he hoped there would be no last minute rush now to get packages in the mail because of the thought that it will be handled Christmas Day. It is planned by the local Post Office that most of the employees be relieved of duties on Sunday and Monday if possible so only that amount of mail which can easily be taken care of for Monday will be handled, he stated.

City Still Has Chance To Get Army Depot

Senator O'Conor's Appeal Submitted

Cumberland is apparently still in the picture as a possible site for the proposed Army Quartermaster Research Laboratory, it was learned here last night.

In a telegram from United States Senator Herbert R. O'Conor to William C. Walsh, the Senator disclosed that Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall has placed his appeal for location in Cumberland before the chairman of the Research Board, with requests that it might be considered by the site selection committee.

It was disclosed several days ago that of all the more than 200 possible sites which has been listed as seeking the laboratory, only three remained as possibilities. The committee has screened all applications and eliminated all but three.

No one would say definitely if Cumberland is one of the three, but these is some optimism on this score.

However, David Kauffman, chairman of the Steering Committee for Economic Development, and others who were in Washington, D. C., a few days ago in the interests of locating the depot here, said, "We are not too optimistic, but are remaining hopeful."

The laboratory will employ several hundred persons including both civilian and army personnel, and the Army wants it located within a reasonable distance of Washington, it has been indicated.

Cumberland, in view of its listing as one of the nation's number one critical areas of unemployment, is given an outside chance of getting this or some other governmental facility to help relieve the jobless problem.

Officials are urging the location here for this and a number of other pertinent reasons.

City Defers Plan For Rent Control Law

Plans for enacting a rent control ordinance for Cumberland were deferred yesterday after city officials received confirmation of the signing of a federal rent control law.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said W. Earle Cobey, city attorney, yesterday called Washington to secure official confirmation of the signing of the law extending federal rent controls for 90 days.

He said a resolution to continue rent controls in this city would have been entered at Tuesday's meeting of the Mayor and Council if the federal legislation had not become law by that time.

Mayor Post explained that any further action on rent regulation will be deferred until March, when the course of federal controls will be clearer.

Monday's meeting of the Mayor and Council has been postponed until Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and the January 1 meeting, which falls on New Year's day, will be held Tuesday, January 2, at 7:30 p. m.

Zion Church Plans Two Special Services

Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church will mark the Sunday before Christmas with two special services.

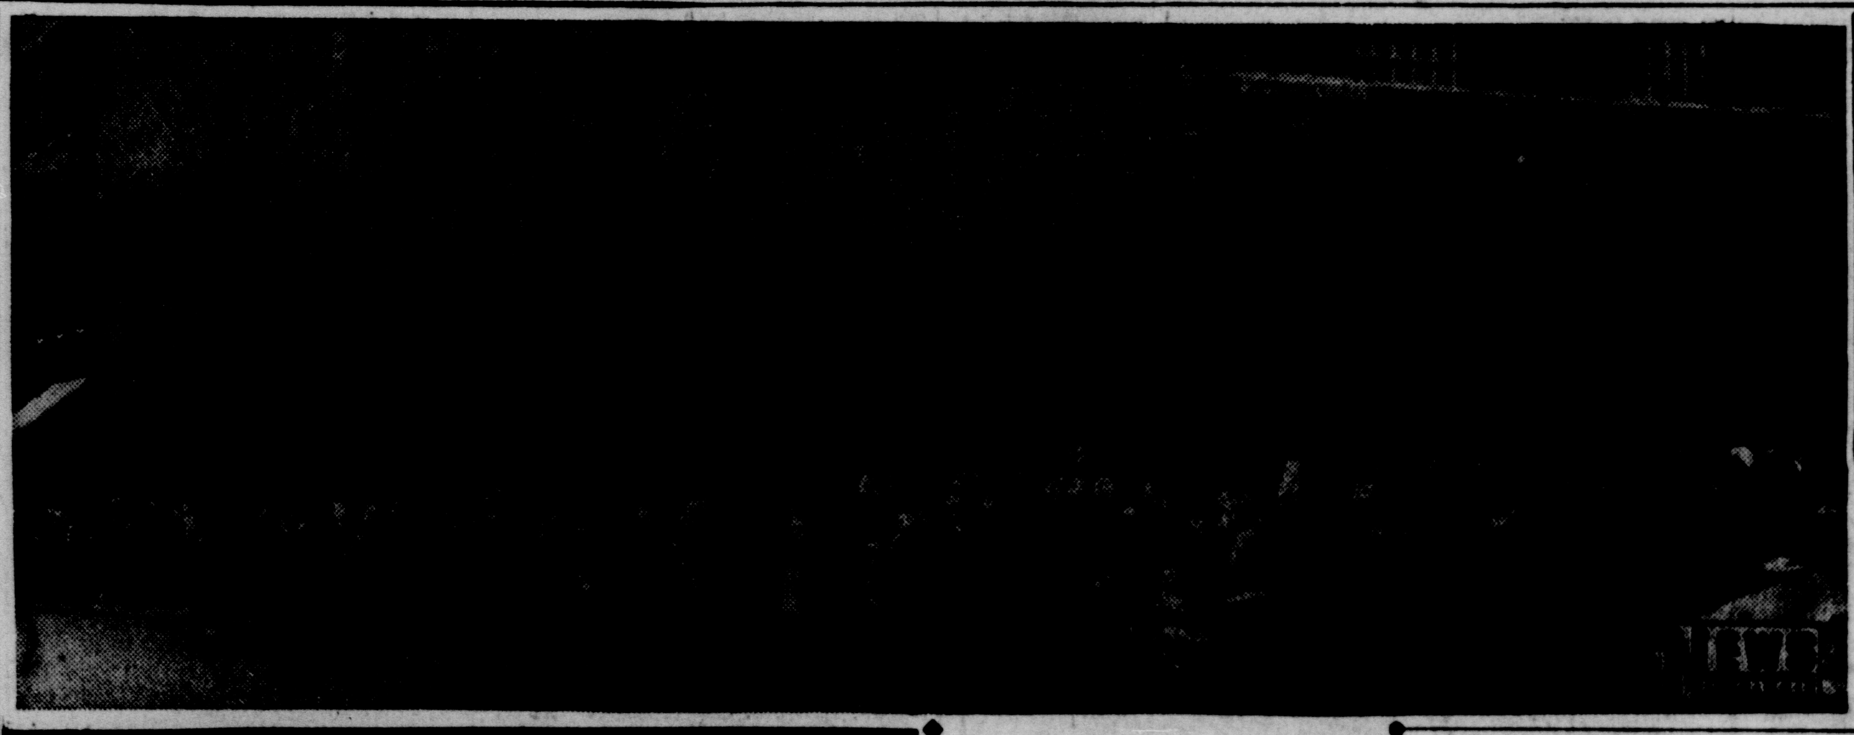
At the morning worship service at 10:45 a. m., the choir will sing the Christmas Cantata, entitled, "Childe Jesus," by Joseph W. Clokey and Hazel Jean Kirk, with Mrs. Louise Emerick at the organ.

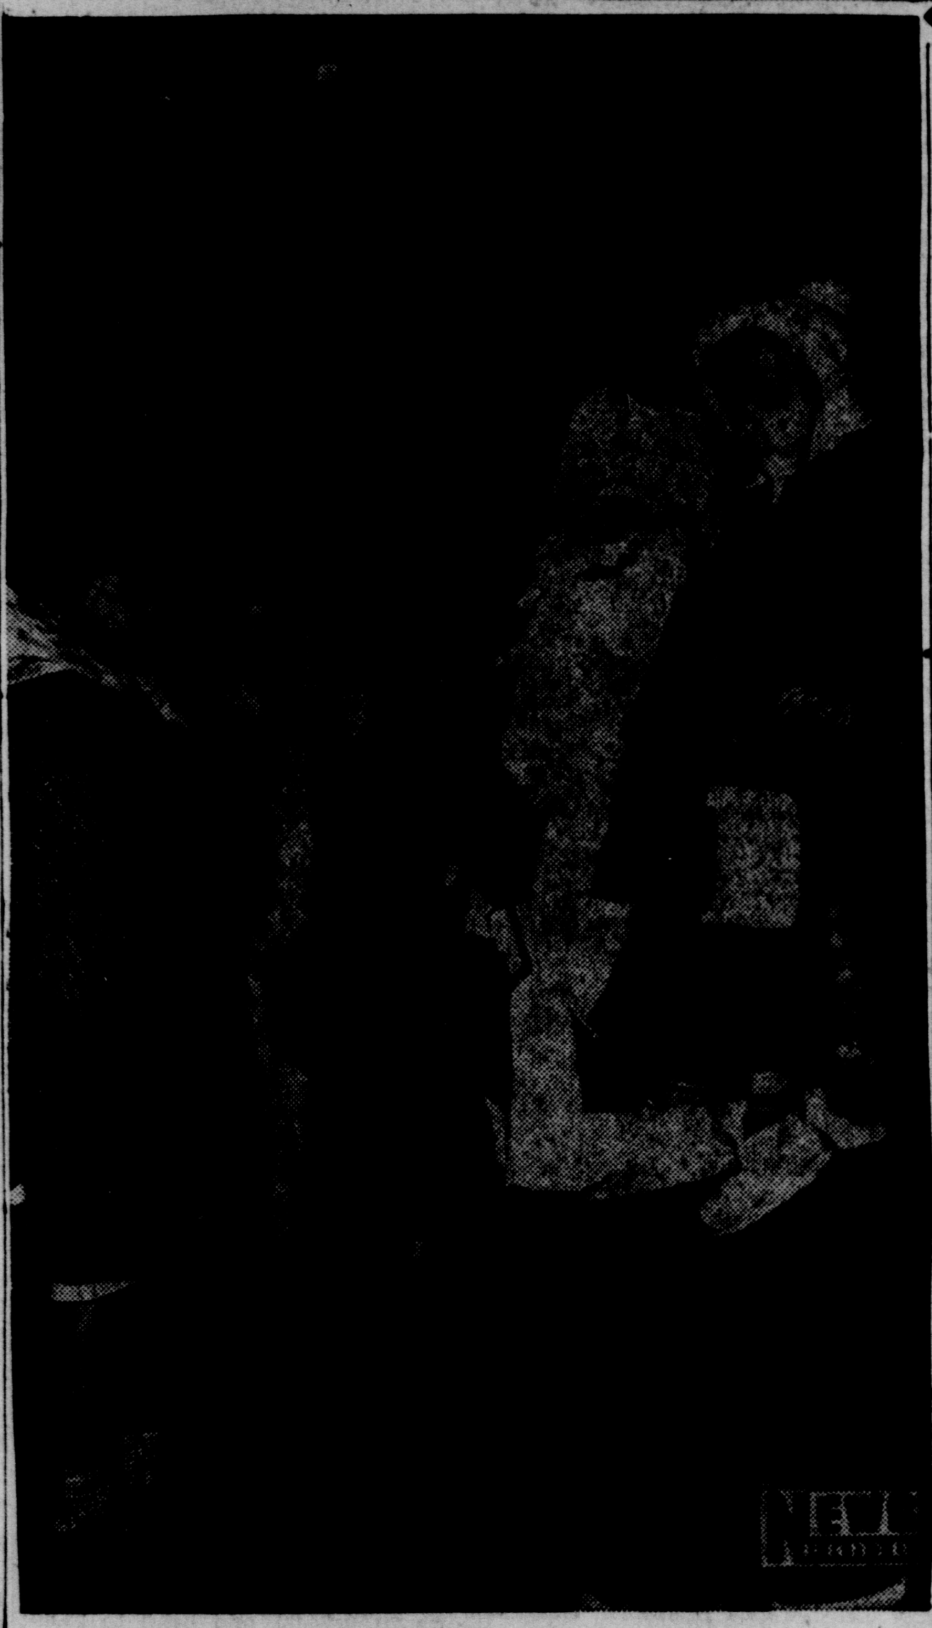
Soloists for this cantata will be Miss Helen Mae Kreiling, Mrs. Valetta Kinsley, Charles Robinette, Sr., Earl Diehl and Homer Schadt.

Rev. Raymond A. Faulds, Jr., who directs the choir, will serve as narrator.

The annual Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be held Sunday evening at 11 p. m. This is to be a service of carols and candles. The pastor will speak on the theme, "Glory To God in the Highest." Choir selections are, "Cantique de Noel" by Adam, and "Gesu Bambino" by Pietro Yon.

The public is invited to these services.





Happy Youngsters

More than 4,500 children can be seen above as they stood in a double line around the home of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles to attend the lodge's annual Christmas party. They ranged from small babies to children of 12 to 14 years. The lower photo shows two of the lucky youngsters as they were greeted by Santa Claus at the lodge's Christmas tree and received gifts.

New B. & O. Cars Set Precedent

Three strata-dome sleeping cars, the first to appear on any railroad in the East, were placed in service this week on two Baltimore and Ohio Railroad trains which pass through Cumberland.

Of the three units, built by the Budd Company of Philadelphia, two were placed in service on the B & O's famous "Capitol Limited," between Washington and Chicago. The third will operate on the B & O's "Shenandoah," between Washington and Chicago, making the westbound trip one day, and the eastbound trip on the succeeding day.

Each of the three new cars has a glass-roofed dome with 24 seats on an upper level. On its lower level, each car has five roomettes, one single bedroom, and three large double drawing rooms. Each double drawing room is fitted with three arm chairs for daytime use and twin beds for sleeping.

The B & O also has strata-dome coaches on its "New Columbian" streamliner between Washington and Chicago.

Christmas Display Arranged At Library

An attractive Christmas display has been arranged in the first-floor showcase at the Cumberland Public Library.

In the case are figures representing Mary, Joseph and the Christchild along with figures of shepherds and wise men walking toward Bethlehem.

WOW Yule Party Sunday

Mountain City Camp, No. 6, Woodmen of the World, will hold its annual kiddies' Christmas party Sunday at 2:30 p. m. on the first floor of the Woodmen Home, 144 Union Street, it was announced yesterday.

Members of the club, their families and friends and invited guests are requested to attend. Mrs. Lucille Hansrote will accompany a community sing and specialty numbers at the piano during the program. Santa Claus will make a visit to the affair and will distribute gifts and candy to those attending.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes George E. Sommerkamp, chairman, John German, Sebastian Spera, Lawrence Lease, Blair Kiser and Earl Shafer.

Queen City Grove No. 1, Woodman Circle, the ladies auxiliary will assist in arrangements and serving refreshments and about 450 children of the two junior clubs, the Frederick C. Dreyer Camp No. J-89, Junior Woodmen, and Juniors of the Forest No. J-1, are expected to be present.

Trainman Is Ill

Clarence E. Miller, 63, of 119 Arch Street, veteran B & O passenger train engineer, was reported critically ill in a Pittsburgh, Pa., hospital yesterday. He became ill Tuesday in the washroom of the P & L E station, Pittsburgh.

Eagles Treat Huge Throng At Yule Party

St. Nick Greets 4,500 Youngsters

Santa Claus was really busy yesterday.

At the home of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, more than 4,500 children of Cumberland and vicinity attended the lodge's annual Christmas party and were greeted by a jolly and jovial St. Nick, about 30 members of the order and a squadron of city police and firemen.

Before the party began at 4 p.m. a solid double line of children stretched for more than a city block, waiting to meet Santa Claus and receive a liberal candy, nuts and orange treat, plus a comic book.

Ranging in ages from babes in the arms of their mothers to about 12 or 14 years, all types, races, colors and creeds joined in a happy holiday event.

Colorful Setting

Christmas music filled the huge hallway and a gaily lighted Christmas scene, along with other garlands and Yuletide decorations completed the picture. Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time.

After it was all over and the last little youngster had come in for his treat, the tired workers and volunteers sat down to rest. Acting Fire Chief William Lindner, who was in charge of the firemen who volunteered their services to help escort the youngsters, commented, "I believe the Eagles had more fun at this party than the kids."

Lt. Raymond Johnson of the city police force was also on hand all afternoon with a group of regular and auxiliary officers. Traffic was directed carefully throughout the entire area, and the children were carefully helped in and out of the building.

Two city health nurses, on hand just in case of mishap or sickness, said nothing unfortunate happened to mar the event and they had little to do except keep a watchful eye on the young guests.

Special Party Held

The big community party was preceded by the scheduled Christmas treat, movie, and entertainment for about 200 little wards of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children and the Allegany County Rheumatic Fever and Heart Association. These handicapped youngsters were transported by the Eagles to the lodge hall at noon, and special provisions were made to see that each was comfortably seated in the hall during the party.

They were returned to their homes just before the big crowd arrived.

Members of the Eagles, after the party was over agreed that the affair was a great success and a thrilling, moving scene. They began plans for next year. A couple hundred treats that were left over were given to patients at the County Infirmary, and County Asylum and the Salvation Army.

Ridgeley Plans Annual Christmas Party Tonight

Treats Prepared For 400 Kiddies

The annual Christmas party and treat for the children of the Ridgeley, W. Va., community will be held tonight at 8 o'clock.

The party will be held in front of the community Christmas tree, erected opposite Frantz's market in Ridgeley.

Mayor B. Frank Magruder will officiate at the tree lighting ceremony, assisted by members of the town council.

Treats have been prepared for some 400 children of the community.

They will be distributed by Santa Claus, impersonated by Robert Stoner.

Police Commissioner William Knieriem will act as master of ceremonies.

Carols will be sung by the Ridgeley High School Glee Club.

Members of the Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company have erected and decorated a 40 foot tree for the celebration.

The program is being sponsored by the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club, Ridgeley Lions Club, Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion and the Ridgeley Fire Company.

Bird Count Set For Saturday

Members of the Junior Nature Club will take their annual Christmas bird count Saturday night at eight different points in Allegany county.

Although most of the bird counters will complete their reports Saturday they have until the following Saturday, December 30, to do them, according to Mrs. G. M. Miller, club adviser. Anyone interested may submit a report.

Observers must be on the job for at least seven hours, must count the different species of birds and the number in each species. These results will be sent to the National Audubon Society in New York.

Leaders in the bird count will be Neil Smith, Leonard Llewellyn, Charles Baker, Bill Scott, Mrs. T. M. Andrews, James Deetz, Mrs. Miller and Richard Johnson. The bird counters will meet at the home of Mrs. Andrews on Allegany Street Saturday night for a report and Christmas party.

Local Marine Attached To Korea Squadron

Sgt. Altie L. Welsh, 25, son of Mrs. Lacy Ann Welsh, 112 Harrison Street, city, has been serving as an aircraft ordnanceman with an all-weather squadron attached to the First Marine Aircraft Wing in North Korea.

The Marine fighter pilots strike by day from carrier and land bases then the all-weather squadron goes to work at night.

Sgt. Welsh voluntarily enlisted in the Marine Corps for three years at the local recruiting office in the Post Office building. He previously served almost five years with the Marine Corps Reserve, with three years of this period being on active duty during World War II.

Move To Unseat Senator Fraley Will Be Made

Attorney Ryan Represents Gonder

Attorney Edward J. Ryan said yesterday a move will be made to unseat Senator Neil C. Fraley (R-Garrett) when the Legislature convenes next month.

Fraley won reelection last Nov. 7 by a 3,080-3,079 margin over Bernard I. Gonder, Oakland Democrat, who served in the Senate from 1943 to 1947.

Ryan, who is representing Gonder, said the defeated candidate will base his claim to the Senate seat "on grounds of error in counting the ballots."

"The question of fraud is not being considered," Ryan added, "for therei s no hint of that. We feel that some errors have been made and we want the ballots recounted."

She died in Allegany Hospital about 11 p. m. Wednesday, some five hours after the accident. Darr said that he was puzzled as to why she ran into the road, the deputies added.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, attributed death to a crushed chest and crushed pelvis. The woman also suffered a fracture of the right upper leg and other injuries.

Following the mishap, police said, Darr was so distraught that he was unable to give a clear explanation of circumstances leading to the fatality. Mrs. Darr was in critical condition and could not be questioned before her death.

A daughter of the late Monroe and Nancy Ann Phillips, Mrs. Darr is survived by a son, William Darr, at home; three brothers, Charles M., Harry G., and John E. Phillips, all of Ridgeley, and two sisters, Mrs. Claude Seibert, North Branch, and Mrs. Delton Parker, Spring Gap.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home.

Hospital Employes In City To Get New Year Pay Raises

Cost of living wage hikes and increases in rates after the first of the year were announced yesterday by Memorial and Allegany Hospitals.

John A. Moberly, superintendent of Memorial Hospital, said wage boosts of $10 a month will be granted to all fulltime employes, of whom there are about 250. The increases, of course, are not granted to student nurses who are not in the employe category.

Moberly pointed out that all inpatient rates will be increased by $1 per day. For example, rates in the six-bed ward will be increased from $5.50 to $6.50, the four-bed ward from $6.50 to $7.50, semi-private rooms will go up from $7.50 to $8.50, and private rooms from $10 to $11.

At Allegany Hospital, Sister Angela, superintendent, said rates will be increased on a basis about the same as at Memorial Hospital.

Wage increases also will be granted at Allegany after the first of the year, Sister Angela said.

Both institutions also announced that employes will be provided with Social Security coverage after the first of the year as a result of the changes in the Social Security law.

Sister Angela said Allegany's approximately 130 employes have indicated 100 per cent that they want to be included in Social Security coverage.

Moberly said 92 per cent of Memorial's employes have indicated a desire for coverage since the Board of Governor's of the hospital decided at their meeting December 4 to make the coverage available.

For Social Security to become effective for employes of non-profit institutions, 66⅔ of the employes must indicate such a desire, Moberly explained. Present employes have an option of taking or leaving it, but all new employes, once it becomes effective, must be participants.

Santa Visits Keating Day Nursery

Children attending the Keating Memorial Day Nursery here are seen yesterday posing with Santa Claus after that merry gentleman distributed treats at the annual Christmas party. Among the 30 preschool children at the party are David Knoche and Sharon Shanholtz, seen sitting on Santa's lap. Features of the party were song's, sung around the beautiful tree and crib, movies and a treat. The nursery, operated by the Sisters of Charity, will be closed Saturday, Sunday and Christmas Day.

Post Office To Deliver Late Parcels Christmas

Good news is in store for residents who are still looking for the arrival of late Christmas packages in the mail.

Thomas B. Cumiskey, Jr., local assistant postmaster, said yesterday that every effort will be made to clear the load of mail and packages before Christmas but that Yule parcels would be delivered Christmas Day if necessary to make certain that no one would be disappointed because of the non-arrival of expected gifts.

However, he added, this did not mean that late Christmas cards and letters will also be delivered Christmas Monday. Only parcels and packages that arrive at the last moment and can be handled in time would be treated with this special effort.

The peak of the local mailing spree seems to have been reached, Cumiskey reported, and the holiday mailing trend is now back to normal after the record influx of the past few days. But the situation is far from normal as far as delivery is concerned. The backlog of letters, cards and packages is particulary heavy right now, he related. Every effort is being made to clear up the load and it appears that most of the work can be completed by Sunday, Cumiskey thought.

Cumiskey said he hoped there would be no last minute rush now to get packages in the mail because of the thought that it will be handled Christmas Day. It is planned by the local Post Office that most of the employees be relieved of duties on Sunday and Monday if possible so only that amount of mail which can easily be taken care of for Monday will be handled, he stated.
